Mares fuel future for regional racing

COUNTRY LIFE:
Acquiring better mares for our fine, young Maryland Stallions

At 2019 Keeneland November, Country Life acquired the young Hard Spun mare REAL GOOD TIME, out of a half to G1 millionaire NOBIZ LIKE SHOBIZ in foal to CONSTITUTION, by Tapit. She'll go to our Tapit son DIVINING ROD. First crop yearlings 2020.

At the same sale, Country Life also acquired the young A.P. Indy mare SISTER STATE, out of a full sister to broodmare of the year CARA RAFAELA, in foal to MIDSHIPMAN. She'll go to our War Front son MOSLER. First crop 2YOs of 2020.

Got a good mare? Follow our lead–Come breed with us this spring.

SAY IT AGAIN

"The industry needs a healthy New York and it needs a healthy California to thrive."
Sagamore Farm's Hunter Rankin, on the state of Thoroughbred racing nationally and its impact on regional success

"Except for apple wafers, she doesn't care too much about people."
Breeder Poppet Pitts, about broodmare What Will Be (whose son Alwaysmining won three stakes in 2019)

"Cordmaker is a gelding for a reason."
Breeder Katy Voss, on the traits broodmare Tanca can transfer to her foals

"We missed 'Say It Again" in the February edition. We always enjoy it."
Trainer Michael Dickinson, via email; sorry, we'll try not to let it happen again

"I need your help in Annapolis when I filibuster."
Maryland Sen. J.B. Jennings, to master storyteller Mike Pons at Country Life Farm's stallion show

"The last time I added that, it was 60 percent."
Owner/breeder Bob Manfuso, about the 30-percent bonuses offered to owners and breeders of Maryland-breds racing in the state

"She is waiting for us to disappear so she can drop her foal."
Anchor and Hope Farm's Grace Merryman, who was keeping an eye on Jazzy Idea while conducting a phone interview (the mare had her Bourbon Courage colt the next day)

"As I say, it's a great stereo system with a beautiful barn attached to it."
Runnymede Farm's Jim Bergen, as a Pandora station including Van Morrison's "Brand New Day," played in the broodmare barn

"When they hired me, they asked if I knew this app or that app. I told them I'd just learned how to text."
Joe Cassidy, who traded in his flip phone for an iPhone (and lessons), when he started working at Runnymede (he's pretty good on the apps now)

NAMES OF THE MONTH

Creative Alibi. Samuel Freeman and Dorsey Jackson's 3-year-old filly, at Laurel Park with Lacey Gaudet, is by Creative Cause out of Jurys Out.

Jump Shot. The 4-year-old gelding, active at Penn National and Parx Racing this year, is out of Love to Score.

Weekend Serenade. The 5-year-old mare, bred in Pennsylvania by Angelo Zalalas, is by Any Given Saturday out of A T M Melody.

Make It a Double. Clover Hill Racing's winning Maryland-bred filly is by Bourbon Courage out of Who Needs.

GO FIGURE

6,500 Acres preserved on and around Virginia's Morgan's Ford Farm, part of the land-conservation efforts of farm owners Wayne and Susie Chatfield-Taylor.

346 Solar panels on the roof of the barn at Pennsylvania's Runnymede Farm.

20 Years between steeplechase races for Laurel Park, which will host this year's Fair Hill Races May 23. The last jump race at the Maryland track was the 2000 Maryland Million Steeplechase.

125 Stakes winners in 2019 bred in the region. Sixteen were graded; Grade/Group 1 winners were Maryland-breds Sharing and Stranger Danger (in Jamaica), Pennsylvania-bred Mirth and Virginia-bred Out for a Spin.

Smith: 2,000 training wins and counting

LYDIA A. WILLIAMS

Trainer Hamilton Smith won his 2,000th career race in January. The 75-year-old trainer has spanned the spectrum, starting with a handful of South Carolina-bred and -raised horses he owned with his brother Frank "Goree" Smith at Suffolk Downs in the mid-1970s to a Kentucky Derby starter in 2012 to winning his 2,000th race at Laurel Park. Smith tacked on 2,001 shortly thereafter and shows no signs of slowing down.

Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred's Sean Clancy caught up with the Maryland mainstay to talk about wins, goals and life.

Win 1. Pabida. April 22. 1977. Suffolk Downs.

"He was a nice little horse, a little bit swaybacked, he belonged to Pat Gilmore, one of our neighbors in Carolina. He was a pretty decent little horse for up there. Won a few races with him. I took care of the horses prior to that, they ran in my brother's name, won a few races. It was still exciting to have your first win, all the ones that came after that were pretty exciting too.

"Suffolk was going pretty good then but we had some fillies, allowance-type fillies, that got us out of there. We couldn't get any races to go for them, we would stop by Maryland on the way home to Carolina, we would stop by Laurel for about a month. I went back to Suffolk the following year, but when we came back down, we stayed in Maryland from then on."

Win 500. Hambone Hammy. July 26, 1995. Monmouth Park.

"That one was named after me, I guess you figured that out. Homebred. I never thought about (milestones) back then. I only dealt with homebreds for quite awhile, I was carrying anywhere from eight to 15 head of horses. Wasn't many. Mostly Carolina-breds. They didn't match up with the Kentucky-breds but we did all right with them though. We won a few stakes along the way and then started getting a little clientele this way and had a few come through the farm at my brother's. The first 18, 20 years were pretty rough, we struggled, no doubt about that.

"My brother and I did everything together all along. We started breaking a few yearlings for people up there in New England, at the old place, we had a little three-eighths-of-a-mile racetrack, we started breaking yearlings commercially down there. We would go back up to New England, I worked in the office for a few years. He started getting more and more clientele for the yearling breaking and finally got where we didn't have enough room at the home place so we rented the Elloree Training Center and a couple of years after that, he bought it. When it got too big, why he couldn't go back to the races so I took over the training. We've been doing it that way ever since. It worked out pretty good. And is still working."

Win 1,000. Eyes a Fox. July 8, 2002. Colonial Downs.

"She belonged to Bailey Bolen from Carolina. He kept that old mare and got some foals out of her, one or two could run a little bit. She was a pretty nice filly, a hard-running little thing, she wasn't a stake horse but we liked the way she did it, she always tried hard."

Win 1,500. Hard Rockin. October 22, 2009. Laurel Park.

"That was one of our own, I raised her myself. We have Hard Rockin Blues that's running now out of her. She was just a horse, but she was a homebred and actually the family members liked her so we kept her to breed her."

Win 2,000. Sweet Home Dixie. January 10, 2020. Laurel Park.

"One my brother raised down there, by Done Talking. We went to the Derby with him. We got a deal where he kept him to breed him. She's a pretty nice little filly, we tried her on the grass a few times, she didn't like that. Sent her home, brought her back and ran her a few times and actually Ashley Castrenze said she acted like she needed blinkers. She's won her last five in a row with blinkers. If you place them right, they'll make you look good.

"It worked out pretty good being by him, he was a nice horse, he came up with some problems and we had to quit with him. He just got beat in the Remsen, came flying, and we went on the Derby Trail so to speak, trying to get points. The last place to get points was the Illinois Derby so we took a shot and he won it."

A Kentucky Derby start is a highlight for anyone, but what else are you proud of in your training career?

"I had some fillies that did real well. You had Debbie Sue. You had those fillies I had for Mr. (Bill) Backer. You had Hard Headed Woman who got me started, she was a homebred, she was one of my foundation mares, I'm using big words but I was a little man when it came to the caliber of what I had. Humoristic, she won the Violet twice. All those races were highlights as far as I'm concerned. The Derby was an experience that everybody wants to try to have, we didn't think we had too much shot of winning but we had a shot to participate. It was pretty nice, it really was."

What are the keys to training long enough to win 2,000 races?

"I didn't think I'd be around long enough to win 2,000 races. Back then we had some rough times, rough years, winning 10, 12 races a year. With the expenses of keeping horses at the racetrack, you're struggling pretty good. Of course, we were doing all the work ourselves. Working hard is the main thing and paying attention to the horses. I'm there every day, always have, always will until I quit. I see a lot of people who don't go there but, personally, I think it's one of the biggest keys, to be there to see how a horse changes, maybe he didn't go as good today as he did yesterday and you try to find out what's wrong with him.

"You've got to be dedicated to it and you've got to like it, too. If you go out there and don't like what you're doing, you might as well stay home. I've always liked it, I like the competition, the better the competition, the bigger the thrill it gives you. When you get in a stake, you're in there with good horses, notable trainers, top stuff, when you beat those kind, naturally, it makes you feel good. I'm hoping we can get a little better outfits here in Maryland so some of these better horses get a chance to run more often than what we've had in the last several years. That would be nice. Yeah, I like the competition."

Now what?

"I've got my goal of 2,001 (which he took care shortly thereafter this conversation). I need that one first before I get to 2,500. I don't set any goals, I take it as it comes, hope for the best and try to get my hands on a couple of nice horses and then see what happens."

MILESTONES

Nominated: Ten 3-year-olds bred in the Mid-Atlantic Region, to the 2020 Triple Crown during the early nomination phase that closed Jan. 25 (see chart on page 20). The overall list included 347 horses, down 4.1 percent (15 horses) from last year.

Received: An honorable mention in the Eclipse Awards for writing, Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred writer Vinnie Perrone for his feature on Maryland's Anchor and Hope Farm after a barn fire. The article appeared in the October 2019 edition. Perrone won an Eclipse Award for a Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred feature in 2008.

Renewed: With an expanded schedule and increases in owner, trainer and breeder bonus money thanks to new partner racetracks, horsemen's groups and breeder associations, the Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred Championship Series. The 2020 slate features 35 stakes at eight tracks designed to link regional stakes, enhance competition, grow racing and work toward a larger goal of regional coordination. The series opens April 18 with a split schedule at Laurel Park and Charles Town Races and runs through Oct. 10 at Parx Racing.

Joined: The Maryland Jockey Club's on-air team for the Laurel Park winter meeting, Naomi Tukker. A native of The Netherlands, Tukker joins Stan Salter, Tim Tullock and Keith Feustle on the broadcast team after working on the live-show production team at the New York Racing Association. A former exercise rider in Britain, Australia and Hong Kong, Tukker graduated from the University of Buckingham in 2016 and became the first Dutch native to complete the Godolphin Flying Start program in 2019. Tukker has experience in photography, marketing, journalism and as an international correspondent for the Royal Ascot meeting, Hong Kong International races and Dubai World Cup Carnival.

JIM MCCUE (2)

Rode: The 1,000th winner of his career in the fourth race Jan. 26 at Laurel Park, jockey Victor Carrasco. Justin Front, a 3-year-old son of Justin Phillip owned by Ronald Brown and trained by Chris Englehart, provided the milestone for the Eclipse Award-winning apprentice of 2013. "It's a great feeling," Carrasco said. "After dealing with so many injuries and having some health issues and everything, it feels amazing." Carrasco started his career in the U.S. after coming from his native Puerto Rico in 2013. He won 215 races during his Eclipse Award-winning season.

Announced: Changes to policies regarding medication and use of riding crops at under-tack shows, Fasig-Tipton Co., Keeneland Association and the Ocala Breeders' Sales Co. The medication rules for all 2-year-old sales at each of North America's three largest Thoroughbred auctions houses stipulate no more than one non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drug may be administered, a prohibition of stacking of NSAIDs and ban on bronchodilators (Clenbuterol, Albuterol and others). No medication may be administered 24 hours prior to a horse's performance in an under tack show. The sales companies will also prohibit excessive use of a riding crop on the track. According to the new rules, "a rider may remove his or her hands from the reins and strike a horse once behind the girth only prior to the starting pole at which the horse begins to breeze. At any time after the start of the breeze, a rider may only use the riding crop while both hands are holding the reins and may not strike the horse behind the girth. A rider is prohibited from striking the horse in any manner beyond the finish line. In situations where the safety of the horse or rider is in jeopardy, a riding crop may be used in front of the girth. Spurs are not allowed." Infractions of the policy may result in a fine to be paid by the consignor and chronic offenders may be banned from riding on the sales grounds.

Released: The 2020 stakes schedule worth $7.3 million for its 75th summer meeting, Monmouth Park. The diamond season's slate is led by the $1 million TVG.com Haskell Invitational Stakes-G1 Saturday, July 18 along with the $300,000 United Nations Stakes-G1 Saturday, June 20. The meet opens May 2 and will feature 63 stakes, 12 graded, and 11 stakes for New Jersey-breds. Purse increases were announced for the $300,000 Monmouth Cup-G3 and $250,000 Molly Pitcher-G3, along with the $200,000 Philip H. Iselin-G3 and Miss Liberty, Jersey Derby and Jersey Shore, each worth $100,000 for 2020.

Purchased: A 36 percent stake worth approximately $163 million in the digital sports media company Barstool Sports Inc., Penn National Gaming. In a Jan. 29 announcement, Penn National will be Barstool Sports' gaming partner for up to 40 years and have the exclusive right to utilize the Barstool brand for Penn National's online and retail sports betting products. The initial investment for 36 percent consists of approximately $135 million in cash and $28 million in shares of non-voting convertible preferred stock. Owner of regional Thoroughbred tracks Penn National Race Course and Charles Town, Penn National Gaming will increase its ownership to approximately 50 percent with an incremental investment of approximately $62 million after three years.

Approved: Nearly 7,000 awards at more than 1,400 shows in 41 states and six Canadian provinces for 2020, The Jockey Club Thoroughbred Incentive Program. Awards are available for multiple disciplines, including eventing, dressage, Western and English pleasure, hunter/jumper, endurance, Western performance, games, and polocrosse. Awards are also available at some events for Thoroughbreds within their first two years of showing or for Thoroughbreds within two years of their last start. A full calendar of shows offering awards is available at tjctip.com/calendarofevents. In addition, T.I.P. will host two championship horse shows at the Kentucky Horse Park in 2020 Sept. 4-6 and Oct. 4. A class list is available at tjctip.com/about/csf. T.I.P. also announced

13 youth ambassadors for the 2020 including Lottie Crawford of Virginia and New Jersey residents Katie Kalfayan and Emma Scheier.

Scheduled: 18 days of live racing for its 2020 meet, Virginia racetrack Colonial Downs in New Kent County. Racing will happen every Thursday, Friday and Saturday from July 23 through Aug. 29. Daily purses will be approximately $500,000 with stakes purses topping $2.8 million. Highlights include the Aug. 28-29 weekend featuring the Virginia Derby-G3 and Virginia Oaks. Colonial raced 15 days in 2019, its first racing season since 2013.

Conducted: An economic study on the impact of Colonial Downs Racetrack and Rosie's gaming facilities statewide in Virginia, George Mason University professor Dr. Terry Clower. Results pointed to 4,232 direct, indirect and induced permanent jobs, $26.1 million in tax revenue for Virginia, $17.9 million in new tax revenue for host localities and $445 million in combined economic activity statewide.

Announced: An 85-day meet for 2020, Delaware Park. The Stanton, Del., track will host its 83rd season starting Wednesday, May 27 and conclude Saturday, Oct. 31. Live racing will be conducted Saturdays, Mondays and Wednesdays. Thursdays will be added June 18 through October 8. First race daily post time is set for 1:15 p.m. The highlight will once again be the Delaware Handicap-G2 July 11 with the Delaware Oaks-G3 a week earlier.

After dispersal, Besecker barn still active

Abridged story by Linda Dougherty, posted Feb. 10 in Breaking, Business, Regionwide, Top Stories. Read the story in its entirety at TheRacingBiz.com.

Joe Besecker said an emotional farewell to his Thoroughbreds as he sent them through the auction ring at the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic December mixed sale at Timonium. Billed as a dispersal, 95 of his horses were sold for more than $3 million, an average of $31,635, topped by then-2-year-old stakes winner Laddie Liam, a son of Maryland stallion Golden Lad, who brought a December-record price of $450,000. Another juvenile son of Golden Lad, Mine Not Mine, sold for $210,000. The dispersal also included broodmares, yearlings, weanlings, and horses of racing age.

Prior to the sale, Besecker, 62, talked about what a complete sale of his stock would mean to him. "I will not be [at Timonium]," he said. "Emotionally, I won't be able to watch it. Some of the horses that are going through the ring are named after my family, my friends. It's going to be very, very bittersweet. I love this business. I love it probably too much. But this is about my time better spent on my family, and my foundation [the Emerald Foundation]. And my family doesn't share my same passion for the sport."

He also said his goal was to get down to zero horses in the next several months, and that, despite rumors to the contrary, he was not selling them for financial reasons. Last year was his most successful as an owner, with his horses winning 199 races and nearly $5 million in earnings, a marked increase from 2018's totals of 89 races won and $2.1 million in earnings. It also ranked him second nationally by number of wins.

Yet instead of getting down to zero horses, Besecker has, either solely or in partnership, continued to race and claim. Since Feb. 1, Besecker horses have won or finished second at Gulfstream Park with trainer Jorge Navarro, Fair Grounds with trainer Joe Sharp, Parx Racing with Jamie Ness, and Laurel Park with Claudio Gonzalez. He has also claimed a dozen horses at those tracks, plus Penn National.

When asked about his current and future plans, Besecker said, "It's a long story. Actually, in the last several weeks people have asked me to help them out, so I think I've got about 16 horses now. That's down from the 140-150 I had before the Timonium sale. And since the sale, I've sold some babies."

"It pained me greatly to sell my horses, he continued. "The first three weeks after the sale I went through serious withdrawal. My family and the people I work with are happy, but I'm not. It's a big void to fill, especially considering how much I love horse racing." The owner said he may still keep a toe dipped into the racing end of things on a smaller scale than previously.

He also took the opportunity to comment on the state of the horse racing industry from a successful businessman's point of view. "We've got to get things together in this sport," he said. "We're blowing it. There is no structure, no leadership. Maybe it's there, but we have to connect the dots. There is no collaboration, and without it, it won't work."

Pennsylvania racing industry responds to Gov. Wolf proposal

By Tom De Martini

LYDIA A. WILLIAMS

More than 500 horsemen, breeders and industry workers gathered at Equistar Breeding and Training Center Feb. 9.

Pennsylvania horsemen, breeders and hundreds of industry workers banded together Feb. 9 with their businesses and livelihoods possibly hanging in the balance and raised their collective voices in a clear message to Gov. Tom Wolf.

Wolf's proposed diversion of $204 million from the state's Race Horse Development Trust Fund five days earlier, turned a scheduled stallion show at Equistar Farm, just seven miles from Penn National Race Course in Grantville, into a rowdy industry unity rally.

More than 500 people, including several Republican state legislators, flocked to the Annville, Pa. facility to protest Wolf's threat to the state's racing and breeding industry and support its approximate $1.6 billion statewide economic impact.

The passion and pride of the rally's participants went past the usual political rally rhetoric that flew just yards from the stall of 2004 dual classic winner and current Equistar stallion Smarty Jones.

"We're not only a melting pot, we're 20,000 Pennsylvania voters and we have family and friends that vote. This isn't about rich owners. This is about the survival of mom and pop businesses throughout the state," said Brian Sanfratello, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders, who urged attendees to contact their local legislators and inform them of their personal stories when voicing their disdain.

Wolf's proposal, made public during a state budget address Feb. 2, would utilize earmarked horse racing funds generated by casino slot machine gambling to instead create a college scholarship program for students of low-and-moderate income families intending to enroll at a state university.

"Let's bet on our kids instead of bankrolling racehorse owners and ensure the viability of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education," Wolf told lawmakers during the budget address.

The main sticking point is that 2017 legislation signed by Wolf changing the Race Horse Development Fund into a trust fund contains explicit language forbidding its use for other purposes.

Language in that legislation includes "the funds contained are not the funds of the Commonwealth" and "the Commonwealth shall not be rightfully entitled" to those funds.

State legislators representing central Pennsylvania are publicly railing against raiding the trust fund, including State Rep. Tom Mehaffie, a Dauphin County Republican.

"The money is for better Pennsylvania racing. You've met your obligations and a deal's a deal," Mehaffie said. "We're going to tell [Wolf] to keep his fingers out of our trust fund."

State Rep. Sue Helm, a Republican representing parts of Dauphin and Lebanon counties, said the next legislative step is markups and that House Republicans won't stand for a Wolf trust fund raid.

"It's not lawful under the current language and we're going to challenge the governor on that premise," Helm said. "We understand how important it is not to destroy horse racing in the state."

Pete Peterson, executive director of the Pennsylvania Equine Coalition, noted that Wolf's timing seems odd.

"He comes back three years later with this. It doesn't make a lot of sense," Peterson said. "It's a long-term investment, that's why we got the trust fund language. Thoroughbred mares bred in the state have increased. We had record Standardbred sales at Harrisburg last year. The economic impact is huge. That's why we got the trust fund language in the first place."

The state's racetrack operators have been publicly silent on the matter but Sanfratello and Peterson say ongoing and positive conversations are happening behind the scenes.

"I know Parx Racing is supportive of us," Sanfratello said.

Peterson said officials at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono, a Standardbred track near Wilkes-Barre that opened its season Feb. 8, openly admit an uptick in overall business throughout its casino, restaurants and retail during live racing dates.

"We're having these conversations with the racetracks. They're not silent," Peterson said.

Removing horse racing from the equation of Pennsylvania racinos wouldn't be a slam-dunk; it requires the passing of de-coupling legislation allowing casinos to operate without racing.

based out of the state. Peterson says the public needs more information on how the purse money trail flows.

"In most cases, the owners are losing money, given the amount of money they are spending on the upkeep of the horse. All that matters is where the horse is based. If the horse is based in Pennsylvania, all the jobs flow from that horse," he said.

Repercussions of the industry's loss of funding and possible demise aren't lost on those who are in danger of seeing their businesses dissolve if the trust fund is distributed as college scholarships.

"We've already had owners from throughout the commonwealth decide that they can't stay [and breed horses] in an unstable market," said Rodney Eckenrode, owner and manager of Equistar.

In addition to Smarty Jones, Equistar stands Grade 2 winner Airoforce, multiple Grade 2 winner and Grade 1-placed Crown of Thorns, Grade 1 winner Poseidon's Warrior and Grade 3 winner Uncle Vinny. Smarty Jones is the sire of 73 stakes horses, including 14 graded stakes winners with progeny earnings topping $40 million.

Michelle Jeffries of Lebanon owns Red Barn Equine Outfitters, a feed, tack and supply store with on-track locations at Penn National in Grantville, Parx Racing in Bensalem and Presque Isle Downs in Erie. Jeffries is now weighing her options and making contingency plans.

"We're looking to move into a space at Charles Town right now. That makes me a little less nervous. We'd be out of business in Pennsylvania and three employees would lose their jobs," Jeffries said. "I'd like to keep my farm here in Lebanon with my retired racehorses."

Penn National-based jockey Julio Hernandez, with his wife Priscilla by his side and a young son in his arms, was also succinct.

"I seriously don't know how to do anything else," Hernandez said. "I came here from Puerto Rico in 2013 to go to high school and jockey school. I have a wife and three kids and people in Puerto Rico. It's not going to be easy."

State legislators began the markup phase of the budget during the week of Feb. 10. Lawmakers will review the state budget, conduct public hearings in the state's House and Senate appropriation committees and enact bills for Wolf's approval.

The final version of Pennsylvania's 2020-21 budget is due to legislators for a vote by June 30.

A Maryland-bred Hero – 25th Anniversary

CIGAR

Florida Double

Gulfstream Park Handicap-G1

March 5, 1995 - Gulfstream Park

Back-to-back Grade 1 wins is a mark of high achievement. By early 1995, only two Maryland-breds had accomplished the feat–Eclipse Award winner Devil's Bag and Cigar.

Surprisingly, Cigar had yet to receive the accolades that consecutive triumphs in the Donn Handicap-G1 and Gulfstream Park Handicap-G1 might have been expected to merit. Each was marred by circumstances having nothing to do with him.

The Donn was the race odds-on favorite and defending Horse of the Year Holy Bull pulled up because of injury, which forced his retirement. Less than a month later at Gulfstream Park, Cigar faced what was considered a "less than stellar" field of 10 rivals. He went off as the 1-2 favorite (second choice Mahogany Hall was 5-1), dismissed the others easily while carrying top weight of 118 pounds, and drew off to win by 7½ lengths in 2:02.95 for 1¼ miles. With Jerry Bailey in the saddle, the chart comment noted the win was "as rider pleased." The race was Cigar's fifth consecutive triple-digit Beyer Speed Figure, and his highest to date at 116.

EQUI-PHOTO, INC.

Since trainer Bill Mott switched Allen Paulson's homebred to dirt the previous fall, Cigar had reeled off five consecutive victories–three in Grade 1 stakes and two in allowance company. The son of Palace Music remained undefeated in three starts in 1995 while earning just shy of $500,000, which put him at the top of the nation's earners (through early April). He also was voted the top horse in the country on the National Thoroughbred Poll.

Stakes-Winning Overachievers

Over the past two decades, only two horses have won as many as seven stakes in a single year—Russell Road in 2009 and Anna's Bandit in 2019. The two West Virginia-breds spent a lot of time at Charles Town, though each won stakes outside their home state those years.

It begged the question: what Mid-Atlantic-bred runner won the most stakes in a single season, and how many wins? Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred's Cindy Deubler did a bit of digging and found the magic number.

To the best of the abilities of the researcher, going back to the 1930s, five Mid-Atlantic-breds won nine stakes—three Maryland-breds, two foaled in Virginia. Three of the five were Horses of the Year more than once, two were mares. And there was one surprise (and a great trivia question) among the five listed here, ranked by year of accomplishment:

Challedon (1939). The nation's first two-time Horse of the Year, the Maryland-bred won 17 stakes, taking nine during his 3-year-old season, including the Preakness, Pimlico Special and Hawthorne Gold Cup.

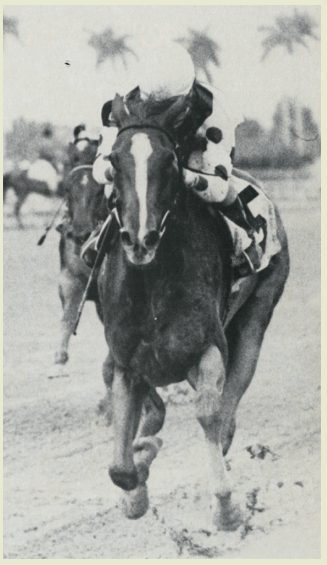
Secretariat (1973). Of the Virginia-bred's 16 wins in just two years of competition, 14 were stakes, as he was named Horse of the Year at 2 and 3. Three of the nine stakes in 1973 were his Triple Crown races.

Sabin (1984). The Virginia-bred mare won 14 stakes in her career, and all nine of her 1984 wins were stakes, including the Grade 1 Gamely and Yellow Ribbon. But she missed out on an Eclipse Award when Royal Heroine defeated her in the Matriarch Stakes in late November.

Brilliant Brass (1992). The gray Maryland-bred mare, by Maryland sire Marine Brass, won all of her stakes at age 5, from 14 starts. Five were graded, including the Delaware Handicap-G2.

Cigar (1995). Undefeated in 10 starts that season, he won nine stakes and eight Grade 1s, concluding with the Breeders' Cup Classic and the first of two Horse of the Year titles.

Nine other horses born in the region in the past century won eight stakes in a single season: Hill Prince (1950), Twixt (1973), Little Bold John (1987), Open Mind (1989), Safely Kept (1989), Simply Majestic (1989), Wide Country (1991), Paradise Creek (1994) and Weather Vane (1997).



The nine stakes-win club (clockwise from above): Challedon, Secretariat, Sabin, Brilliant Brass and Cigar.

Regional families active on Triple Crown Trail

As the Triple Crown trail heats up and 3-year-olds are on the quest for Derby points, the Mid-Atlantic is making an impact. Winners of early February stakes with Kentucky Derby-G1 implications include four colts (and one filly) with female lines tracing back to Mid-Atlantic-bred mares.

Gold Street. Earning Derby points with a win in Oaklawn Park's Smarty Jones Jan. 24, the Street Boss colt descends from three generations of Maryland-breds by regional stallions: second dam Astrid (by Concern); third dam Mescalina (by Smarten) and fourth dam Tequila Sheila (by Hagley).

Max Player. The Honor Code colt is out of Maryland-bred stakes winner Fools in Love (by Not For Love) and won Aqueduct's Withers Stakes-G3 Feb. 1 (worth 10 points).

Tiz the Law. You have to go way back in the pedigree of the Grade 3 Holy Bull winner (who earned 10 points), but there you'll find Jackie Dare and her dam Jacoenda, bred in Maryland by Mrs. Walter A. Edgar and Woodlawn Farm.

Nadal. The Virginia family of Thomas M. Evans' stakes-winning Northern Meteor appears in the pedigree of this year's San Vicente Stakes-G2 winner through her daughter Meteor Stage (the Blame colt's third dam).

Venetian Harbor. Winner of the Grade 2 Las Virgenes, the filly's fourth dam is Maryland-bred Safely Kept, a Hall of Famer and Eclipse Award winner.

Letter to the editor

THANK YOU for pointing out and bringing to light what should be obvious to the racing industry in your January editorial (Racehorse sales could be part of racing's future).

The claiming system is an outdated and ridiculous business model. Horses of racing age sales should be the rule and not the exception. There are so many reasons to update our antiquated rules. The claiming game (as you pointed out) is certainly not in the best interests of the horses if we in fact actually do love our horses as we claim we do.

I have been a bettor and a fan of the game for almost 50 years now and an owner and breeder for 30 years. A great many of the horses I have owned were bought and sold via the claim box. As you learn very quickly in the claiming game doing the right thing for the horse is a quick way to go broke.

The business model dictates that when a horse starts getting sore or develops issues, patching him up and medicating the horse as long as you can and then dropping your horse, to hopefully get him claimed, gives you the best chance of staying solvent (as opposed to turning your horse out for some R-and-R).

I learned very quickly, as an owner, that if you own a claimer, giving your horse time off, turning him out to get over his aches and pains, heal up, etc. is in many cases a foolish thing to do. When your fresh horse does come back to the races in order to give him a chance to win you are forced to put him right back in the claiming ranks at a level he can compete. This of course means he becomes somebody else's "good claim" (a fresh, rested horse). So, congratulations, you did everything the right way and someone else now benefits (and yes, I am aware that a few tracks give you 1 waiver race in which your horse cannot be claimed but it's not near enough). So the next time you are in this situation you tend to just patch up your horse, drop him in, and when he gets claimed he becomes someone else's problem. Bad for the horse, but better for your wallet. How pathetic is a business model that encourages owners and trainers to operate this way?

All of this is a result of a business model that should at this point be in the history books. Condition books need to be restructured so that the majority, if not all races, are written under stakes, handicap or allowance conditions. Eliminating claiming races would force those of us in the industry to take better care of our horses.

Even from a bettor's point of view I am so sick of handicapping a claiming race and then looking at the one or two big dropdowns in the race and trying to decipher if this horse is going to make it around the track in one piece, or is he going to hobble across the finish line, or is he patched up enough that he has one more in him and he's going to romp?

Better yet, bring a first-timer to the races and try to explain the claiming concept to them. They usually look at you like you have two heads.

In my opinion, next to overmedication and illegal medication of the horses, the claiming game is the biggest internal problem in our sport today. Eliminate the claiming game and many horses will have longer careers (as will the owners and bettors!).

Eagle Poise

MAGGIE KIMMITT

Eagle Poise takes a moment out of his day to visit Anne, Miles and Sean Clancy, and Eli the goat.

Sean Clancy traveled to Keeneland for the 2010 November sale on a mission. Mill Ridge listed Juddmonte Farms' Eagle Poise in its horses-of-racing-age consignment. Mark Grier provided motivation. Already the owner of a few flat horses and a regular at the Far Hills Races in his hometown, Grier asked Clancy to find a good, solid prospect for jump racing.

"I think Mark Hennig introduced us one day just hanging out in the paddock at Pimlico," Grier said in February. "I was thinking of getting involved in steeplechase racing, so I called Sean. I was involved in various aspects of flat racing, including my own horses and some owned through partnership programs. From there, while the theme was steeplechase racing, I had an open mind and trusted Sean. I wanted him to do things that he thought made sense."

Despite Grier's backing, Clancy worried that Eagle Poise might still be too expensive. The then 4-year-old colt had placed in a graded stakes, and carried plenty of pedigree as the son of Empire Maker and the Nureyev mare Reams of Verse. Trained by Sir Henry Cecil, Reams of Verse won four group stakes in England—including the Epsom Oaks-G1 and Ascot's Fillies' Mile Stakes-G1—and earned $539,152.

Clancy followed Eagle Poise during his first two seasons on the track. Trained first by Bobby Frankel and then his assistant Brian Lynch at Woodbine, the horse was transferred to Bill Mott after Frankel passed away in November 2009.

"He's a typical Juddmonte horse, but he wasn't really suiting them and wasn't going to be a Grade 1 horse," Clancy said. "When I first started writing, one of my first real gigs was covering the Triple Crown for Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred. I had followed Empire Maker [in 2003], loved him, and I spent a lot of time with Frankel and the horse. So I always followed his offspring; they're tough and they stay."

At Keeneland, Eagle Poise made an immediate impression.

"He had this beautiful walk, and you can't fault his conformation, so yeah I loved him, and I was afraid I wouldn't be able to buy him," Clancy said. "I sat around all day waiting for him. I had different steeplechase clients, friends and peers—all at the sale—and they kept asking me, 'You got your eye on something?' I finally sat in the far corner for the whole day because I was just so tired of talking to people and having to lie—I was acting like I didn't like anything."

Clancy got his horse for $65,000, but was at once elated and panicked. Expecting the colt to sell for at least $100,000, he snagged a bargain. But there was a flip side. . . had he missed something? Grier was much more relaxed.

"I think we were pretty happy with the purchase price," he said. "At the time, when I knew how much Sean liked him, I thought there was probably room in the price. We ended up doing very well, and then we went on from there to have a great time with him. I think for our strategy, which was for steeplechase racing in the back of our minds, and given his pedigree, his affinity for turf and the way he ran, that would have been a possibility although we were very happy to buy him for flat racing."

Eagle Poise went from Keeneland to the Middleburg, Va., farm Clancy owns and operates with his wife, Anne. The colt quickly became a gelding, and afterward the retired jump jockey thought he'd just start riding Eagle Poise himself.

Anne laughed at the memory of encountering Sean leading a fully tacked Eagle Poise up the driveway when she arrived home one day.

"Did you fall off?" she asked.

"No, I stepped off before I got bucked off."

And so it went. Anne soon found herself on the receiving end of a near miss with Eagle Poise too.

"We have all of these rules about closing the gate behind ourselves whenever we go into the field," she said. "But I went out to catch him and he was standing right inside the gate. I went inside, and he reared up and slapped at me. So I jumped back—and it was a windy day—and the gate blew open. He looked at me, I looked at him, and before I could do anything, he darted out the gate."

Sean was not home, and Anne was out at the barn with their son Miles, a baby at the time. Albert Smith, who helps out at the farm, saved the day.

"I sat the baby safely out of the way, and there was Sean's favorite racehorse running wild all over this farm," Anne said. "I couldn't get near him."

At one point, Eagle Poise appeared to be headed out the driveway, but he turned around and came back toward the barn. Smith walked up, "real slow," and grabbed the loose horse.

"When is Eagle Poise leaving?" Anne asked Sean.

"When do you think he should go?"

"I think he should go tomorrow."

Not necessarily the next day, but shortly thereafter, Eagle Poise went to Graham Motion at Fair Hill. In distance turf/synthetic races over the next four seasons, the Kentucky-bred bore the Riverdee Stable colors for the Clancys and Grier, almost entirely in stakes company. Grier made it to the races as much as he could, and a trip to Toronto still rates as a favorite moment.

"When I think of Eagle Poise, I think of the two of us—Sean and me—flying up to Toronto in the winter," said Grier of a start in the Valedictory Stakes-G3 Dec. 4, 2011. "It was dark and it was cold, and he had won the prep race. So we were very optimistic about that race. And we were treated like kings. They did a really nice job for us as owners. And being there to watch him win that race was fabulous."

The next year, Eagle Poise finished second, a fraction of a nose behind Bourbon Bay, in the San Juan Capistrano-G2 going 1¾ miles at Santa Anita. His 2013 campaign included seconds in the Laurel Turf Cup, Sycamore Stakes at Keeneland, and another Valedictory.

Eagle Poise never did start over fences, and was retired after two starts in 2014. He earned $519,609, won six of 29 starts and placed in 10 others. Decompression took time.

"Eventually he was perfect. He's actually been a dream," Anne said. "He's been here for six years and it's a different life now."

Sean gives all credit to Anne for patiently turning the powerful and opinionated horse into an elegant jumper in the show ring. Over the summer, Eagle Poise competed in the schooling jumper division (2-foot-9 to 3-foot jumps) at HITS Culpeper in Virginia.

"Show jumping and dressage training entail many hours of practice and require a certain amount of submissiveness and collection," said Anne. "At 14 years old, these qualities are not high on his to-do list. He is fun to ride, but not always fun to train. We have come to an agreement. We will do as much practicing and showing as we both enjoy, and he physically can handle."

Eagle Poise spent most of the fall and winter getting turned out, but the work—if you want to call it that—will start again soon.

"He was a good racehorse and is an even better athletic specimen for the Thoroughbred breed," Anne said. "He would have been a great steeplechaser, eventer, show jumper or foxhunter. He is simply a good horse. He has earned his peaceful retirement but that's not always easy with his work ethic and need for attention."

Eagle Poise makes sure he gets plenty of the latter, by playing Houdini in the barn (he can undo the latch on his stall door and a webbing "runner" with ease) or the thus-far-unsuccessful challenge of destroying an automatic waterer in the field.

"It is now a game," said Anne. "I clean it, he splashes in it with his front feet and fills it with dirt. He controls which pasturemate gets to drink and when. Of course, he is always first."

Grier, recently retired, looks forward to visiting Eagle Poise this spring.

"I have fond memories and the same affinity for him that Sean and Anne do," he said.

Moran's legacy races beyond winning horses

Betty Moran was an automatic. In the early days of Steeplechase Times, my first real foray into writing about Thoroughbred racing, I'd ask Mrs. Moran (she was always Mrs. Moran to me, even if she probably would have been OK with Betty) to buy an advertisement for the Radnor Hunt Races. She'd say yes to a full page, we'd run it on the back cover and send her a bill.

In exchange, I'd give a talk about steeplechase racing to Radnor's race sponsors every year. I'd tell a story or two, discuss the horses and the horse people, take some questions, have a world-class lunch at the Radnor Hunt Club and make some other advertising connections with the various banks, travel agencies, car dealers and investment advisors on hand. Mellon Bank, later BNY Mellon, signed on for some ads—and had me speak at the company tent on race day—as did the local Subaru dealer.

None of it worked without Moran, a steeplechase and flat owner, Thoroughbred breeder and all-around good person with far loftier causes than steeplechase or even flat racing. She somehow connected steeplechase racing to major players in Philadelphia-area business and philanthropy.

When I heard she died in January, the various connections came flying back. Moran might be (must be) the only person in history to win the Belmont Stakes and Aintree Grand National as an owner. The lists get a little bit murky, but she seems to be in an exclusive club there. If you need more qualifiers, add wins in the American Grand National hurdle stakes and Arlington Million to the mix. And she was probably just as proud of her horses' wins in the Tom Roby hurdle stakes at Delaware Park, Pennsylvania Derby and National Hunt Cup hurdle stakes.

Just leave it that Moran was one of a kind—in all sorts of ways.

Her Brushwood Stable horses won those races, and far more, during a lifetime in Thoroughbred racing. Based on a former dairy farm 30 miles from Center City Philadelphia in Chester County, Pa., Brushwood bred and raised champions Unique Bella and Russian Rhythm, was the retirement home of her 1985 Belmont winner Creme Fraiche, gave future Grade 1 winner Hard Spun his early lessons, raised million-dollar yearlings and provided a home to some of the world's most valuable broodmares. Moran's horses were trained by Morris "Pop" Dixon (known equally for 1945 Preakness winner Polynesian and 1970s Mid-Atlantic hero Grey Beret), Burley Cocks (a Hall of Famer who helped fellow Hall of Famer Jonathan Sheppard get started), Hall of Famer Bill Mott, classic winner Michael Matz, Irish legend Ted Walsh and others of various resumes including son Michael Moran, then son-in-law Chuck Lawrence and former jockey Gregg McCarron.

Moran reveled in all of it—wins in 7-furlong turf races at Fair Hill meaning as much as the Grade and Group 1 scores the world over. Her involvement at Radnor spanned decades, including 30 years as chair of the meet. Because of her, and co-chair Frolic Weymouth, the races became a major fundraiser for the Brandywine Conservancy—a land-preservation group known for saving farmland around the Brandywine Creek in Pennsylvania and Delaware. The May race meet is known for its motto, "Racing for open space," and delivers on it every year. The 2020 running will be its 90th, and it promises to be a magical day for anyone who knew Moran.

We're all bigger than horse racing, perhaps no one more so than this woman. Name a cause dear to Thoroughbred racing and breeding and the Morans have surely supported it—from New Bolton Center's critical care center to the Thoroughbred Charities of America and far beyond.

Beyond horses, Betty Moran in 2011 received the Lifetime Achievement Award from the greater Philadelphia chapter of the Association of Fundraising Professionals. She was a founding member of the Chester County Community Foundation and received the Jordan Award for Philanthropy in 2000. In addition to the Brandywine Conservancy, she served on the boards of the Devon Horse Show and Country Fair, the Bryn Clovis Charity Foundation, Paoli Hospital, Community Volunteers in Medicine, Operation Warm, Home of the Sparrow and the Chester County Food Bank. Those and many other organizations (from Boy Scouts of America to La Comunidad Hispana health center in Chester County, Pa.) benefited from her time and contributions.

Years ago, my wife and I accompanied our son Nolan to the Kettlebell Classic swim meet in Philadelphia. The competition takes place in the Jimmy Moran competition pool at the Salvation Army community center. It's a beautiful place, a fixture in its neighborhood, benefitting children, adults and families from all walks of life. The pool is named for Moran's son Jimmy, who died in 2008. For her support, the Salvation Army gave Betty Moran its Others Award in 2009. In a gracious acceptance speech you can find on YouTube, she said Jimmy "had a good heart and a wonderful ability to find the true goodness in everyone and everything he encountered."

At least some of that came from his mother. ✹

Region's mares fuel industry as foaling season ramps up

By Joe Clancy

The chestnut filly's face looks like somebody splashed a three-inch paintbrush from forehead to muzzle. She has three white socks and four white feet, and catches eyes without trying. She's three days old, the only foal on a farm expecting eight more. She wears a tiny leather halter, a green and gray blanket the size of a tablecloth. Her curved, fuzzy ears don't miss a sound.

"Awww," comes out of any mouth within speaking distance. "What a cutie. She's so sweet. Look at that. How precious."

That the filly is by American Pharoah gets lost in all that cuteness, but such is the quality of the fledgling broodmare band at Greg and Caroline Bentley's Runnymede Farm in Pennsylvania. The Chester County operation, 6 miles and a veritable ocean of land from the once-booming Lukens Steel plant in Coatesville, owns 14 mares. In addition to the 2015 Triple Crown winner and Horse of the Year, the mares carry foals by Kitten's Joy, More Than Ready, Mendelssohn, Malibu Moon, Munnings, Frosted and the like. When they foal, they'll visit Constitution, Speightstown, Into Mischief, Runhappy, Omaha Beach, Gun Runner and so on.

"They're going against the grain," said Joe Cassidy, who manages Runnymede's racing and breeding as part of a staff of 20, of the Bentleys. "People are downsizing, not breeding as many mares, not bringing in these kinds of mares. They're building."

The Bentleys, who bought their first mares in 2017, aren't really alone. Raising Thoroughbreds seems to be perpetually against the grain. It's not an endeavor for the weak or impatient. Yet despite the usual ups and downs of the Thoroughbred industry, regional breeders were waiting on foals, making decisions about matings and planning for the future. Foals born in 2020 will race in two or three years, if everything goes right. Those matings people are considering? Well those foals won't race until at least 2023.

That chestnut filly at Runnymede, born in early February, was one of a few thousand to come in the Mid-Atlantic this winter and spring. Like always, the foals and their breeders depend on perhaps the industry's most noble participants—broodmares.

Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred visited a few, sometimes (but not often enough) literally, to get a feel for what it's like out there. In short, it's great. The mares are good, they're fat and dirty and some are overdue and stressing their people but they're great.

And this is Part 1. See the April edition for a second round.

Resurgent in Virginia

Morgan's Ford Farm dove into its 41st year with plenty of momentum, and looked forward to 11 foals—some sooner than others.

"We would like to have one tonight," said Wayne Chatfield-Taylor, who owns and runs the place with his wife Susie, in early February. "Maybe last night."

Soon enough.

Three maiden mares took plenty of attention, and would be near the top of any visitor's list at Morgan's Ford. Double

KAT TURNBULL

Maryland Million winner Crabcakes retired to the farm in 2019, and had settled into her new role with ease while awaiting a date with Ghostzapper. The 6-year-old also got reacquainted with her dam, Aunt Elaine. Both were bred by and raced for Binnie Houghton, who left the mares to Morgan's Ford when she died in 2017.

"I wouldn't say Crabcakes is at the top of the pecking order, but her mother is and they're in charge of the maiden mares," said Chatfield-Taylor. "And there are seven of them."

The 17-year-old Aunt Elaine didn't get in foal in 2019, but was headed to Madefromlucky or perhaps Crabcakes' sire Great Notion this year. A yearling colt by Great Notion (so a full-brother to Crabcakes) sold for $120,000 at Timonium last fall. Another maiden, Virginia-bred stakes winner River Gal, was booked to Ghostzapper along with Crabcakes.

Morgan's Ford mares were represented by seven stakes horses and three six-figure auction graduates in 2019, and Chatfield-Taylor credited the land with much of the success.

"This is a great place to raise any animals and certainly for us it's racehorses," he said. "The land puts very good bone on the horses. It takes the animal, the care, the space—the space is important. Horses can run until they get tired here, and in most cases, they still come when they're called."

The lineup also includes Street Interest, whose now 3-year-old daughter Bella Aurora closed 2019 with a win in Laurel Park's Gin Talking Stakes for Country Life Farm and trainer Mike Trombetta. Street Interest won once on the racetrack, also for Trombetta, but has outdone herself in the breeding shed with winner Blacktop Legend (who twice topped $200,000 in the sales ring) and a $230,000 Keeneland November pricetag on her now yearling colt by Nyquist. Street Interest was expecting a Sharp Azteca foal this month, and was booked back to Nyquist.

The Morgan's Ford broodmare list twists and turns in various directions, all the while focused on quality female families and deep roots including recent acquisition Smart Believer. Morgan's Ford bred her dam I Believe in You, sold her as a yearling in 1999, and watched her become a Grade 1 winner as a 2-year-old.

But whatever female family I Believe in You had at Morgan's Ford faded away. Years later, the line gets another chance. Smart Believer is open this year, but will be bred to Include.

At Keeneland November in 2014, Morgan's Ford spent $110,000 to buy winless New York-bred, Japan-raced mare Un Blessed. The daughter of Mineshaft hails from a rich and rare female family including her dam Grade 1 winner Plenty of Grace (a daughter of Roberto), granddam Wings of Grace and a slew of others bred by the Galbreath family's Darby Dan Farm. The list of quality relatives includes champion Soaring Softly, Grade 1-placed Recepta, Grade 2 winner Manitoulin and others.

Un Blessed's second foal Chess Chief (by Into Mischief) placed in the Grade 3 West Virginia and Oklahoma derbies last year. Her third (by Ghostzapper) sold for $430,000 at Keeneland September. She was expecting a full-sibling to that colt and was booked to Kitten's Joy.

KAT TURNBULL (3)

Clockwise from top left: Morgan's Ford mares River Gal, Un Blessed and Street Interest are part of a deep group for the Virginia farm.

"We're proud of the farm," Chatfield-Taylor said. "You're only as good as your next horse, but it is nice to see. It was a very good year for the mares, and they opened new doors for us. We felt they were capable of doing it. They're in the band because we think they're good quality."

Family Connections

Sagamore Farm sold Breeders' Cup winner Shared Account and her yearling filly by Speightstown in 2018, then watched that yearling filly become Breeders' Cup winner and Maryland-bred Horse of the Year Sharing.

That doesn't mean the Maryland farm has given up on the family.

Riley's Choice, a half-sister to Sharing, was due to deliver a foal by Blame in late February and was already booked to Omaha Beach. Riley's Choice (by Distorted Humor) won four times, including a win in the 2018 All Brandy Stakes, and earned $172,838 on the racetrack for Sagamore before joining the broodmare band last year.

"We're really excited because of what's happened with the family," said Sagamore's Hunter Rankin. "She had speed and was a very talented filly who never really realized all her talent on the track. She had some tough luck here and there. She had the ability and I think she'll be a really good broodmare."

Another resident of the historic Sagamore broodmare barn, Grade 2 winner Daring Dancer, delivered a Blame filly in January. Daring Dancer's other foals include a $600,000 yearling sales graduate, the unraced 4-year-old Uncle Mo colt Create Fearlessly (who was working on the turf in Florida) and a 2-year-old Kitten's Joy colt training in Florida for Sagamore.

"She's a beautiful mare, and had a ton of talent," said Rankin. "She would tie up quite a bit and was kind of nervous as a racehorse but she's a great broodmare."

Two Foals, Always

Four years ago, Maryland breeder Poppet Pitts produced future Preakness Stakes-G1 starter Alwaysmining from her "small-time" operation and aims for more success with his dam What Will Be this year. The 17-year-old mare is in foal to Klimt, but not due until May. So far, the waiting is bothering the breeder more than the mare.

"She doesn't foal until late because she was in foal and lost it so we got a month behind," Pitts said. "We're hoping to go back to Practical Joke, but if she's late we'll just have to skip a year. Pretty soon I'll start to really worry."

What Will Be and her foal, whenever it arrives, will have company from Rey Lake and a foal by Tapiture. Due in late April, she is the dam of dual winner Romanoff who was headed to 3-year-old stakes company this year. At 18, Rey Lake may not be bred this year, but Pitts is prepared with Bill's Presence. Barren for 2020, she was headed to Mo Town.

"I have to have two foals, I can't stand one foal," said Pitts, who credits neighbor Vivian Rall with the delivery work come foaling season. "They can play with each other and have such fun together. When you wean them, it's easier if there are two, they go to Kentucky together to be sold—it just makes a lot of sense."

Fairytale Ending, Beginning

The Cinderella story of Avani Force came to a sad ending when the mare died of colic in 2019. In 2011, she was essentially unwanted after reaching the $5,000 claiming level as a racehorse. Penn Ridge Farm's Mike Jester acquired the mare and bred her to his stallion Monba and got two-time winner Aggreysive before selling

Avani Force to Beasie Patterson and Vicki Schowe.

The partners bred their mare to Friesan Fire. A 2013 mating produced $6,000 yearling Friesani (who won twice). A 2015 pairing resulted in Call Paul, a $20,000 yearling whose race record includes six wins and $573,720. Avani Force's foal of 2017, Pink Caddy, sold for $40,000 as a yearling and also turned into a stakes winner. Patterson and Schowe sold a Bullsbay yearling of 2019 for $55,000.

Colic claimed Avani Force, but that doesn't mean the story ends – the breeders are raising an Uncle Lino yearling colt on Patterson's farm in Delaware and bought Avani Force's half-sister That's Exciting late last year.

"It was very disappointing to lose Avani," said Duncan Patterson, Beasie's husband and longtime member of the Delaware Racing Commission. "But we bought her half-sister and sent her to (daughter) Jenn to train and we plan to breed her to Raceday this year. She won for us in January and has run 49 times in her life. She's pretty tough, so hopefully she can pass that on to her foals."

Mother of champions

Chanceland Farm broodmare Tanca was not invited to the annual Renaissance Awards honoring the top horses and horsemen in Maryland, but maybe she should have been.

The 18-year-old produced 2019 Maryland-bred champions Las Setas (3-year-old filly) and Cordmaker (older male). Not bad for a horse whose 10-start racing career ended with nine consecutive losses.

GRACE MERRYMAN

Jazzy Idea is proud of her newborn Bourbon Courage colt born in February.

Her seven foals to race are all winners, and also include stakes winner Corvus.

"As a racehorse, she was a little uptight," said Katy Voss, who trained the mare [and her dam Waltz] for co-breeder and owner Bob Manfuso. "Sweet, but a little fussy."

Voss and Manfuso singled out Tanca's ability to transfer something beyond her personality to her foals. Manfuso calls it "wanna be," and speaks of it often when it comes to finding success as a breeder.

"I try to tell new guys in the game, you want to breed correct and balanced and all that kind of stuff, but the one thing that's tough is we haven't figured out how to measure the wanna-be factor," he said. "Tanca throws competitive horses that want to race."

And that's the name of the game.

Tanca has been sent to several regional stallions, with the occasional foray to Kentucky to visit Curlin (Cordmaker) and Street Sense (a yearling colt of 2020 Voss said could be headed to Saratoga), and was expecting a Madefromlucky foal this month. Her next partner had yet to be determined, though Voss likes to support the home team when she can.

"There are a lot of nice young stallion prospects in Maryland and we've made a point of breeding our nice mares to them," she said. "The shortcoming of the Maryland program for a long time was we didn't have enough good stallions. These guys all went out, stuck their necks out and brought in some nice horses. I worry that there aren't enough mares to support them all. We're trying to support those horses."

Fire Brigade

With cornerstone stallions Bourbon Courage and Imagining sending their first foals to the races, 2019 was always going to be a big year for Maryland's Anchor and Hope Farm.

Then came a fire, which burned the farm's main barn to the ground while somehow sparing every horse on the place. Imagining emerged with burns on his back and has the scars to show for it, but he and the rest of the place have simply gone back to work siring winners, building a new barn, recruiting clients, raising young horses and now—finally—foaling mares again.

"We were really excited with what was happening," said Grace Merryman, who manages the farm with her husband Louis. "The Bourbon Courages came out swinging in April and it was such a boost. And after the fire, I can't tell you what it's meant to us morale-wise to see Bourbon Courage and Imagining have such good years [eight and five winners respectively]. We're a small operation and for two stallions we bought and syndicated and worked with for five years, to have them come out and do as well as they did is indescribable."

Anchor and Hope has the rare pleasure of seeing sire, dam and foal all within a few yards of each other and that's the case with a few of the more notable residents. Five-time stakes winner Jazzy Idea, whose foals include a Bourbon Courage 3-year-old gelding and an Imagining 2-year-old filly, delivered a Bourbon Courage colt in February. Jazzy Idea's dam Jazz Band was due to another farm stallion Holy Boss and Second Line (a full-sister to Jazzy Idea) was carrying a foal by Anchor and Hope's Long River. All three mares have produced winners, though they're not necessarily alike.

"Jazzy Band and Jazzy Idea are very similar in personalities and looks and how they comport themselves," said Merryman. "Second Line, she's not like her mother or her sister. We can't quite call her the redheaded stepchild because she's a full-sister, but she has her own ways. Her Bourbon Courage 2-year-old [Two Shots] won first time out in December which gave her a boost. She's earned her spot."

Stakes winner Raging Whiskey's dam Fullerene lost her foal of 2019 after a difficult delivery, but recovered in time to get in foal to Long River.

"We can't believe we didn't lose her last year too," said Merryman, who expects about 60 foals to be born this year. "She looks wonderful and she's happy now though. She'll go back to Bourbon Courage if she foals early enough."

Building Blocks

Greg and Caroline Bentley's first racehorse was 1995 hurdle winner Stop and Listen, who spurred an interest and led to major steeplechase winner Clearance Code, timber stakes horses Rainbows for Luck and Bryan Station and others you've probably never heard of but ultimately resulted in the owning of Arlington Million-G1 winner Hardest Core, Preakness Stakes-G1 starter Alwaysmining and a now quality group of broodmares in Pennsylvania.

The breeding program started in 2017, and continues to grow. Fourteen mares fill the list, with nine foals set to be born this year after nine in 2019 and five in 2018. The squad includes no slouches.

Spectacular Sky, dam of that American Pharoah filly at the start of this article, won six races (three stakes) and placed in a Grade 2 before becoming a broodmare. She joined the Runnymede team for $150,000 at Keeneland January in 2018, and produced a Will Take Charge colt that year. He's prepping at the farm. Her Union Rags colt of 2017, Went West, won his debut at Parx last fall and finished second in a small stakes at Gulfstream Park for Gary and Mary West and trainer Jason Servis.

Spectacular Sky did not get in foal for 2019, but was bred to American Pharoah and–obviously–produced a nice filly. The 12-year-old mare will go to Omaha Beach this year, if she stops mooching Thin Mints from broodmare manager Jim Bergen long enough to get on the van.

"She loves them," said Bergen, who spent 17 years with Hall of Fame trainer Jonathan Sheppard's racing operation but previously worked with mares and foals in Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Zealand.

"I think people think I was born at Sheppard's," said Bergen, who also paid credit to former Derry Meeting Farm employee Calvin Smith with a major assist in the broodmare barn. "I did a lot of this before though and when the opportunity arose I came and talked to Joe and it was a great opportunity. It still is."

Velvet Mood comes out of the Runnymede racing stable (where she won three times including a small stakes at Woodbine), and carries her first foal by More Than Ready. The daughter of Lonhro (Aus) was overdue in early February, and was closely watching her pals getting to know their foals.

"I think she'd take that Pharoah baby in a minute," Cassidy said with a laugh as Velvet Mood fidgeted at the gate. "She's amazing, a lovely mare. I love her. She's big and strong, was very fast and could really run and her family has really taken off."

In 2019, Velvet Mood's half-sister Point of Honor won the Black-Eyed Susan Stakes-G2 and placed in two Grade 1 stakes. Another half-sister, Wicked Whisper, won the Frizette-G1. Another half-sister (by Union Rags) sold for $1 million as a yearling.

MAGGIE KIMMITT (2)

Fairytale Ending (top) and Smiling Causeway (with Jamie McDiarmid) are part of a strong group of mares at Virginia's Audley Farm.

Despite that boost, Velvet Mood is not for sale. She'll have her More Than Ready foal and head to Into Mischief this year.

"We got a nice offer for her and Greg said, 'Why would I sell her? Isn't that the exact mare you'd like to buy for me,' " said Cassidy. "He's right. There's a point you sell, but this is still new. We're building. She could be a cornerstone."

The bulk of Runnymede's mares are in Pennsylvania and will foal there, though the regional options matter. Several yearlings were at CandyLand Farm to get Delaware-certified, three mares who missed last year were being bred in Kentucky before coming home and Cassidy was still undecided on several mares who could go to Maryland stallions and potentially have foals in that state (joining stable star Alwaysmining as Maryland-breds).

"We're getting to know the mares and what kind of horses they can produce so we'll think about putting them in some other states as we learn more," Cassidy said. "We're not going to rush in. Let's see what we've got."

Audley's Aces

Smiling Causeway exemplifies the Audley Farm Thoroughbred program. A $400,000 weanling purchase at Keeneland November 2014, the daughter of Giant's Causeway was the first buy for Audley's equine manager Jamie McDiarmid. Raised at the Virginia farm, she was unraced at 2 and given plenty of time to mature.

"But once she found her feet," McDiarmid said, "she could fly. And she was very good to us."

The chestnut filly won the 2018 Turf Amazon Stakes at Parx Racing and was beaten a nose in the Royal North-G2 at Woodbine that summer. She finished with five wins and $300,860 from 16 starts.

"She got beaten by literally the smallest distance I've ever seen," McDiarmid said of the Royal North. "We were in front before the line and just after, so we were very unlucky. But she was spoiled rotten by myself, Arnaud and the farm. And she deserved every bit of it."

McDiarmid described Smiling Causeway as "totally cool, very, very sweet and she fits into the group well." Bred as a maiden in 2019 to Uncle Mo, she was due to foal at the end of February. She'll ship to Kentucky for a date with Triple Crown winner American Pharoah next.

If Smiling Causeway is Audley's outgoing young redhead, Fairytale Ending (Ire) is the slightly older, wiser, standoffish brunette. Characterized by McDiarmid as "a proper broodmare," the unraced 8-year-old dark bay has a power-packed family behind her.

Audley's only Galileo (Ire) mare is out of Airwave (GB), also the dam of the Storm Cat mare Meow (Ire) who produced European champions Churchill (Ire) and Clemmie (Ire), both by Galileo. A multiple Grade 1-winning earner of $1,847,877, Churchill stands at Coolmore Stud in Ireland.

"It's a very, very active family at the moment, and since we bought into the mare the pedigree really seems to have taken off," McDiarmid said. "She likes to just do her thing–she's not one to be played with, not a kid's pony. But she's very sweet when you get to know her and she has a nice temperament. But if she doesn't want to be caught, she definitely will not be caught."

Audley purchased Fairytale Ending in foal to Invincible Spirit (Ire) for $575,000 at Keeneland November 2015. That colt–Fir Bolg, sold for $240,000 at Keeneland September 2017 to Japanese interests. Her 3-year-old Distorted Humor filly, Urban Fairytale, sold for $250,000 as a yearling in 2018 and finished second at Keeneland last October.

"Distorted Humor is a very good cross with Galileo," McDiarmid said. "She had a lovely Lemon Drop Kid in 2019; a really nice, leggy, good-looking filly. We bred her back to Hard Spun for this year and I'm hopeful this will be a nice foal. She's going to Omaha Beach, which is awesome."

Graded stakes winner Valedictorian keeps rolling for Epic Racing's Sawyer

Story by Lynne Snierson. Photographs by Equi-Photo, Inc.

Nowadays there are racehorses being rescued by people. But once in a while a horse saves a human.

"She came along and saved my life," said Harriet Sawyer, whose Epic Racing campaigns multiple graded stakes winner Valedictorian.

The 6-year-old daughter of Temple City and the Smart Strike mare Smart N Classy was bred in New Jersey by John Bowers Jr.'s Roseland Farm in Colts Neck and she began her career for him at Monmouth Park. As a 3-year-old she was claimed for $25,000 and ultimately was purchased from a dissolving partnership by Sawyer in the summer of 2017.

"I had gone through a very sad divorce. We were together for 28 years and did everything together and built businesses and all kinds of houses together," said Sawyer, a Fashion Institute of Technology graduate and accomplished artist who achieved fame in the 1970s and 1980s as the founder of a global textile company that brought back the lost art of using rayon fabrics in fashion design. "The divorce was mutual, but it was a very sad time for me. I needed something to fill up that space. I was way down and she was therapy for me."

Sawyer lives in Manhattan six months of the year and spends the other half in South Florida. She makes the trek most mornings to Monmouth Park or Gulfstream Park, to Kelly Breen's barn so she can dote on Valedictorian, whom she deemed not a "mushy" horse but one who over time has come to return her affection.

"It was cold this morning, but Harriet was here feeding her carrots," said Breen, in October. "She's really into it right now and she's also fortunate to have some nice horses. She's having fun with it and that's the best part. The main key is it's giving her something to do, she's passionate, and it's a good passion she's enjoying."

The winning is nice too. Valedictorian's 2019 campaign included scores in the Suwannee River Stakes-G3 in February and listed Sand Springs Stakes in March, and a home-state triumph in Monmouth Park's Eatontown-G3 in June. She added three graded stakes-placings, including a third in her final start of the year in Belmont Park's Noble Damsel Stakes-G3.

She placed in six of her eight 2019 starts while competing only in open stakes company and earned $339,330 of her career $708,765 bankroll. This winter she's been prepping at Florida's Palm Meadows Training Center for a 2020 campaign sure to feature more stakes opportunities. The mare is the only New Jersey-bred on Breen's roster of graded stakes winners and she was the only state-bred with two graded stakes wins in 2019.

Sawyer, fond of the term "epic," also owns Epic Bromance, Epic Dreamer, Epic Scataway and Jump Ruler. She jumped right into the deep end when she decided to get into racing.

"I've always done art my entire life and when the horse racing thing came up it was completely off the Richter scale for me. It was something that sounded really interesting and fun, but it was completely different from anything I had been doing," said Sawyer, honored at the United Nations with fellow designers Calvin Klein and Norma Kamali in 1994. "I took a huge chance on something I didn't know anything about. You have to take chances in life. You must make your own luck. It took my mind off what I had just moved on from. Then I found a whole new world."

Even better, she fell in love with Thoroughbred racehorses.

"I didn't know how beautiful a horse is and how to have a relationship with a horse," she said. "That has transpired in the five years I've been doing it. I've learned so much and that each one is an individual with a distinctly different personality and different routines. It's fascinating. I love it and I love the backside. I love my horses,

Harriet Sawyer and trainer Kelly Breen have teamed up for graded stakes wins and more with Valedictorian.

the people, the characters who work there, and I really love my trainer. Kelly has only a positive attitude and good vibes in his barn. Negativity has no place there."

Valedictorian boosted more than her owner in 2019.

"Valedictorian is very good for the program. She's one of the better ones, certainly," said Mike Campbell, executive director of the Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey. "Harriet is very attached to this horse, and that is understandable."

Sawyer isn't alone with her affinity for Valedictorian.

Bowers, who still owns 2005 Eatontown winner Smart N Classy and her half-sister Born to Royalty (both out of the Regal Classic mare Teenage Queen), and Janet Laszlo, who foals all of Bowers' mares and raises their babies at her Hunter's Run Farm, are members of the fan club.

"We're good friends with Harriet and we keep in touch with her and Kelly Breen," said Bowers, a New Jersey breeder with his wife for 35 years and recipient of breeders' awards for the mare lost for the $25,000 tag. "We're pretty much aware of what's going on. We've been lucky."

Through Smart N Classy, Valedictorian carries the royal bloodlines of Canada's famed Sam-Son Farm from the family of No Class and Classy 'n Smart.

Valedictorian wins the Grade 3 Eatontown at Monmouth in June 2019, her fifth stakes victory.

As a fourth-generation double descendant of No Class, Valedictorian is closely related to U.S. and Canadian Hall of Famer, Eclipse Award winner and 1991 Breeders' Cup Distaff-G1 winner Dance Smartly, 1992 champion turf horse and three-time Sovereign Award winner Sky Classic and two-time leading North American stallion Smart Strike. Maternal great-grandsire Regal Classic was also a champion for Sam-Son.

Valedictorian's brilliance and quality was evident even as a foal.

"I raised her," Laszlo said. "She was kind of like her mom. Her mom tends to be a little bit headstrong. She's not disorderly and she's not bad in any way. It's just that she has a very present personality, as do all her babies. I foaled her mother and Born to Royalty, who also comes here to foal, and I raise all their babies. Smart N Classy is probably that alpha mare, and her daughter Valedictorian is also an alpha.

"It's been so long, and we've had so many babies in between, but one thing that strikes me about Valedictorian is that Smart N Classy is classy and it seems to me that most of her babies have acted the same way. You have babies that are babies forever and even when they get broke, they're still babyish. Then you have the ones that are not and they stand out. She's a lovely mare and she keeps throwing herself over and over again. That's pretty special."

Smart N Classy, back in foal to Temple City so the Bowers' will have a full-sibling to Valedictorian in February or early March, is bred only every other year. Laszlo said that she is the rare type of mare who will not get in foal when she has a nursing baby by her side.

Her most recent offspring is a 2-year-old colt by Vancouver (Aus) named He's-puregold being readied in Florida, and her newest progeny to make it to the races is the John Bowers/Ed Rosen owned 4-year-old Stay Thirsty filly Stay Smart. Also trained by Breen, she broke her maiden last summer at Monmouth the day before her older half-sister won the Eatontown.

"All of Smart N Classy's babies have done well," Laszlo said. "All have been winners."

Valedictorian is certainly that and it's evidenced by her ever-growing legion of fans who stretch international borders and Sawyer's personal boundaries.

"Valedictorian has groupies everywhere. I even get texts from France," Sawyer said. "Through her I've made friends, and then made friends of friends. I've met so many nice people I never would have and made friends I never would have and now they're part of my life. My involvement in horse racing has been like ripples extending outward and it's all positive and good energy. There is nothing negative in my world of horse racing. It's carried over into my entire life. I'm not a social person but Valedictorian has opened up a whole new avenue for me."

Sawyer's abiding affection for her horses has even changed her relationships with family, especially her son, architect Jonas Goldberg.

"Another great part of this is it has brought my son and me close together. He loves it and is part of the LLC at this point and he comes up with ideas for the stable," she said. "Who knew that he would come to love this, too, and we would share it together? We've always had the art and the architecture, but this has given us a whole new avenue to relate to and share, and now my daughter-in-law loves it also."

Sawyer's unraced Epic Scataway spent time on a farm in Kentucky late last year and is in foal to Liam's Map and pre-booked to Arrogate. Though 2020 is slated to be Valedictorian's final season on the track, Sawyer said she would leave it up to the mare to tell her when she is ready to retire. What is certain is that she won't go through the sales ring.

"I love her so much. I could never sell her. Never. I want to be buried next to her," joked the owner. "I'm on an amazing journey and I didn't think I could have another amazing journey in my life at my age. It's awesome." ✹

Honor the Fleet bounces back from foot issues to capture first stakes

BY TOM LAW. PHOTOGRAPHS BY JIM MCCUE

Louis Albertrani wanted to get Frank Demarco's Honor the Fleet off to a solid start in 2020.

The To Honor and Serve gelding won a race in 2019, one of two wins on the year for his veteran trainer, who hoped nagging issues with the 6-year-old's feet were in the past heading into the $100,000 Fire Plug Stakes Jan. 18 at Laurel Park.

Albertrani, best known for training champion sprinter Artax in the late 1990s, nursed Honor the Fleet throughout his first three seasons and won four races in 15 starts. He came close to wins in his six stakes appearances, placing in the Pegasus-G3 at Monmouth Park and Concern at Laurel Park as a 3-year-old without breaking through.

In the Fire Plug, Honor the Fleet rewarded that work and his connections' patience, winning in a career-best effort under Alex Cintron. Honor the Fleet won by a neck from Threes Over Deuces as the 6-1 fifth choice in the field of seven reduced by the scratch of expected favorite Still Having Fun (who opted for a start at Aqueduct).

"He has so much ability and he has run hard against some nice horses—Timeline, No Dozing—and he's very competitive," Albertrani said, referring to the Pegasus and Concern, respectively. "We've had a little bad luck with him over the last couple years battling abscesses in his feet and quarter cracks. We've solved all those problems and he came back good his last race and showed incredible ability so we thought let's take a shot in the Fire Plug and get 2020 off to a good start."

Honor the Fleet (4) digs in late to take the Fire Plug for trainer Louis Albertrani.

Based at Delaware Park with Albertrani last year and now at Fair Hill Training Center, Honor the Fleet added the 6½-furlong Fire Plug to a victory going 7½ furlongs in late November at Laurel. He's won three other races at Laurel—a maiden special weight and two allowances as a 3-year-old. All five of his lifetime wins are at Laurel.

Bred in Kentucky by Gainesway Thoroughbreds, Honor the Fleet is the first foal out of the stakes-winning Northern Afleet mare Afleet Lass and improved to 5-for-16 with $207,460 in earnings in the Fire Plug. Demarco purchased the gelding for $40,000 at the 2016 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic May 2-year-old sale.

Cintron's victory aboard Honor the Fleet came two races after he rode Artful Splatter to an upset over the odds-on Anna's Bandit in the $75,000 Geisha Stakes for Maryland-bred or Maryland-sired fillies and mares.

Artful Splatter won the 1-mile Geisha in her stakes debut, surviving two jockey objections and stopping the six-race winning streak of Anna's Bandit.

"She really is a nice filly," winning owner James Wolf said. "I knew that my first stakes win would be difficult, but not this difficult."

Artful Splatter, a 4-year-old daughter of Bandbox bred by Ann Biggs Jackson, won her fourth straight in the Geisha. Each of the victories came at 1 mile for trainer Kieron Magee, who claimed the filly for $16,000 out of a two-turn grass race in early September at Laurel.

A half-sister to Maryland Million Sprint winner Taco Supream, Artful Splatter ducked in a few paths in midstretch after Cintron went to a left-handed whip, crossing in front of Anna's Bandit. They finished a half-length clear of that foe at the finish but Anna's Bandit's jockey Xavier Perez and trainer Jerry Robb lodged objections. After a stewards' inquiry the result stood.

"I had a ton of horse. My filly was moving very well," Cintron said. "I hit her once and when I went to hit her a second time, she went out so quick and moved out a couple paths but thank God we were clear enough to not bother the other horse. I know I crossed right in front of the other horse, but I don't think I cost her momentum. As soon as she felt the other horse coming, she kept fighting."

A stakes winner at Sunland Park last year, Victim of Love lands the What a Summer in her 2020 debut.

Champion Maryland-bred 3-year-old of 2019, Alwaysmining powers home in the Jennings.

Two other stakes filled out the Jan. 18 card—the $75,000 Jennings for Maryland-bred or Maryland-sired older horses and the $100,000 What a Summer for older fillies and mares.

Runnymoore Racing's Alwaysmining returned to the winner's circle for the first time since last April's Federico Tesio when he took the Jennings by 1¾ lengths from the race's 2016 and 2017 winner John Jones. The 4-year-old Stay Thirsty gelding, the winner of seven of 17 starts in 2018 and 2019, improved off a second in the Native Dancer Stakes in late December in his 2019 finale.

"He had a tough campaign last year," winning trainer Kelly Rubley said. "He did a lot of winning, which was spectacular, but then he deserved some time in the pasture and time to be a horse. It's paying us back."

Alwaysmining earned more than five months off after finishing off the board in the Preakness Stakes-G1, Easy Goer Stakes at Belmont Park and Indiana Derby-G3 at Indiana Grand in the spring and summer. He returned with a close fifth in the Howard and Sondra Bender Memorial Stakes in early December before his run in the Native Dancer.

Tommy Town Thoroughbreds' Victim of Love held off a late run from 3-5 favorite Needs Supervision to win the What a Summer by 3¾ lengths.

Weston Hamilton, aboard for the 4-year-old Speightstown filly's previous two starts at Laurel, rode the winner for trainer Todd Beattie.

"She's really hard-knocking and she always tries really hard," Hamilton said. "I knew she had a little bit of fire in her; she's got a little speed. So, I just sat against her nice and she was good enough to get the job done."

Named for her "artistic" coat, Artful Splatter becomes a stakes winner in the Geisha.

Sisters Mess'n Around, Wildcat Combat propel breeder Brown to strong returns

BY LINDA DOUGHERTY

While Mess'n Around and her full-sister Wildcat Combat are no longer owned by Donald Brown Jr., he has been reaping the fruits of their labors as the breeder of the hard-knocking pair.

Brown also stood their sire, Messner, in Pennsylvania before his exportation to Venezuela, and earns stallion awards for the sisters and his other progeny through the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association.

Wildcat Combat enjoyed a productive 5-year-old season in 2019, capturing the Power by Far Stakes at Parx Racing and placing in the Willa On the Move Stakes at Laurel Park, earning $187,390. Her year-younger sibling Mess'n Around placed in two stakes in 2019, and kicked off the New Year with a bang, winning a $61,010 allowance Jan. 6.

Coming back off nine days' rest after meeting Wildcat Combat in the Willa On the Move, Mess'n Around rallied from off the pace and ran down Doctorsofmischief for the nose win. The mare is owned by Mason Dixon Stables and trained by Tim Kreiser.

Mess'n Around made her first three starts for Brown, and was claimed for $8,000 in October 2018 by trainer Franklin Rodriguez for owner Bill Benson. Four months later, Kreiser dropped a claim slip for $15,000, and she moved up into allowance and stakes company, where she's remained.

All told, Brown collected more than $240,000 from Mess'n Around and Wildcat Combat in 2019. He finished the year as the sixth leading breeder in the Keystone State, with more than $280,000 in combined breeder and stallion awards.

"I'm doing great with the Pennsylvania breeding program, considering I usually breed less than 20 mares," said Brown. Mess'n Around and Wildcat Combat were foaled at Hempt Farm in Mechanicsville, Pa., which has been leased by Brown for the last decade.

Brown no longer owns their dam, the Lion Heart mare She Is a Lioness, having reduced his stock when the future of the Pennsylvania breeding program seemed murky and uncertain.

"I had started to scale back, because I started to get nervous about whether the breeding program would still be in good shape in the future," said Brown. "One of the mares I sold was She Is a Lioness. I tried to buy her back, but I couldn't."

Another horse that Brown sold was Messner, and like She Is a Lioness, Brown tried to buy back the half-brother to Malibu Moon and return him to Pennsylvania. Unfortunately, he developed piroplasmosis, a tick-borne disease that spreads through contact with blood, and is unable to re-enter the United States according to USDA regulations.

Messner sired 27 foals, of which 19 started and 15 won, including one stakes winner. They've earned nearly $2 million.

Brown and his partner, Tom McClay, have since expanded their broodmare band to 40, chiefly to support their new stallion Warrior's Reward. The son of Medaglia d'Oro stood his first season in Pennsylvania in 2019 at WynOaks Farm in Delta, breeding 115 mares.

■ Dreams Untold was reluctant to load in his debut at Parx Nov. 10 and finished third in a 5½-furlong maiden special weight. After some additional morning training, Someday Farm's 3-year-old Smarty Jones gelding made his second start and 2020 bow Jan. 4, and again had trouble at the gate. He overcame the jitters though and romped to a 14¼-length victory.

Like Smarty Jones, Dreams Untold is trained by John Servis, and was bred in Pennsylvania by Pat Chapman of Someday Farm.

The gelding is the 13th foal produced by the Seattle Slew mare Shootforthestars. She produced a filly by Smarty Jones named Sail Above in 2018. Chapman purchased the mare for $450,000 at the 2006 Keeneland November breeding stock sale in foal to Elusive Quality, the sire of Smarty Jones.

Chapman is also the owner and breeder of the promising 3-year-old filly Sunday Inn, a daughter of El Padrino who captured a $63,494 allowance Jan. 13 for Tyler Servis, the son of John Servis.

Sunday Inn earned the victory the hard way—engaging in a race-long battle with Tiz Gracie. The pair sparred early and continued into the stretch, with Sunday Inn sticking her neck out when it counted most.

Sunday Inn's dam, the stakes-winning Dynaformer mare Dynamist, was bought by Chapman at the 2008 Keeneland November sale for $360,000, in foal to Harlan's Holiday.

■ Uptowncharlybrown Stud's Wait for It went over the $300,000 mark in earnings when he kicked off the New Year with a gritty score in a $63,416 allowance Jan. 6.

The 5-year-old son of Uptowncharlybrown made a four-wide bid on the turn in the 1-mile and 70-yard test, engaged Forest Fire at the top of the lane, and then spurted clear to a 4-length advantage in midstretch. Although Senior Investment mounted a charge late, Wait for It was able to secure the victory by 1¾ lengths.

Wait for It recorded two wins from six starts and earned $108,108 last year. The gelding is out of the Posse mare Kimberley Diamond, who was campaigned by Fantasy Lane Stable, which became Uptowncharlybrown Stud.

■ When trainer Michael Moore dropped a claim slip for Flashndynamite in October 2018 on behalf of owners Kasey K Racing Stable and Michael Day, little did he think that the $7,500 acquisition would go on to win five races, place in a New York stakes and earn nearly $90,000 in the process.

That's exactly what happened once the 5-year-old mare moved to Moore's barn. Immediately off the claim, she won back-to-back starter allowances at Parx, and last season won two more, as well as placing in the Belle Gallantey Stakes at Aqueduct. She returned to the winner's circle in her second start this year, winning a 1 1/16-mile allowance at Parx Jan. 14 by 7 lengths.

Flashdynamite, a Florida-bred daughter of Flashstorm, is the second most successful horse campaigned by the partnership of Kasey K and Day. Brother Chub, an 8-year-old New Jersey-bred son of Hey Chub, has earned more than $400,000 for them, including a rousing victory in the Claiming Crown Express Stakes at Gulfstream Park in December. ✹

Following sister Late Night Pow Wow, 3-year-old Muad'dib scores in first start

BY TOM LAMARRA. PHOTOGRAPHS BY COADY PHOTOGRAPHY

The standout West Virginia-bred and -based filly Late Night Pow Wow may be retired from racing, but two of her siblings have the potential to make things interesting in 2020.

The first shot was fired Feb. 5 when the 3-year-old gelding Muad'dib, a full-brother to Late Night Pow Wow, made his debut in a maiden special weight at Charles Town. Owned by David Raim, Muad'dib easily defeated five others as the 4-5 favorite going 7 furlongs.

Muad'dib, named for a character in the Dune novels, sat off two pacemakers before making his move on the second turn. He quickly took command and, despite racing greenly, pulled away to the finish.

"He ran well but he's still learning," trainer Jeff Runco said. "He should improve off of that effort. We'll see."

Arnaldo Bocachica, the leading rider at Charles Town in 2019, expressed his enthusiasm for the gelding on Twitter: "Once he got the lead, he spit the bit and started waiting on the other horses. I can't wait to see what he can do once he figures things out."

Muad'dib is by Fiber Sonde out of the Indian Charlie mare Holy Pow Wow. Like Late Night Pow Wow, he was bred by John McKee, who stands Fiber Sonde, the leading West Virginia stallions for several years.

In 2019, Fiber Sonde had 66 winners from 95 runners and total earnings of $3.84 million. His top earner was Grams Racing Stable's Runnin'toluyva, who won the Grade 2 Charles Town Classic and banked $621,660 last year. Late Night Pow Wow in 2019 won the Grade 3 Barbara Fritchie Stakes at Laurel Park and earned $291,000 in five starts.

Javier Contreras trained Late Night Pow Wow and owned the winner of $700,400 before selling her privately to Breeze Easy, which decided to retire her at the end of 2019. Contreras and Breeze Easy own Fiona Bella, a 2-year-old filly who is a full-sister to Late Night Pow Wow and Muad'dib.

Though the official stakes schedule doesn't begin until April 18, Charles Town carded a couple of open overnight stakes in January that produced upsets.

The $35,000 Mint Mission Stakes for 4-year-olds and up Jan. 11 drew a solid field that included multiple stakes winners Aaron's Tap and Clubman, who shipped in from Laurel and was dispatched as the favorite. Clubman, last of eight at the half-mile call in the 6½-furlong event, encountered traffic and had to settle for third behind the victorious Mean Bean, the longest shot in the race at 45-1.

Owned and trained by Glenn Harrison and ridden by Jason Simpson, 8-year-old Mean Bean collected his first stakes win. The West Virginia-bred gelding by Garnered out of the Distinctive Pro mare Distinctly Spring was bred by Jessica Ryan Loy. It was the ninth victory in 37 starts for Mean Bean, who pushed his earnings to $232,998.

The $35,000 White Alley for fillies and mares at 6½ furlongs Jan. 18 produced a gate-to-wire victory by Top Notch Racing's Sherwood Lady. Trained by Michael Jones Jr. and ridden by Sylvester Carmouche III, Sherwood Lady became the latest stakes winner for Fiber Sonde.

Sherwood Lady, out of the Is It True mare Longwood Lady, was bred by John McKee. It was her eighth win in 28 starts.

■ After several attempts in recent years to win approval for legal advance deposit wagering, it appeared in mid-February the West Virginia racing industry was close to the finish line.

The House of Delegates on Feb. 5 passed an ADW bill—the vote was 71 for and 27 against, with two "no" votes—and moved it on to the Senate for consideration. In 2019, the House approved a similar bill that stalled in the Senate, but stakeholders were hopeful the measure would pass this year.

Muad'dib eyes up the finish line in his debut win at Charles Town in February.

The bill, sent to the Senate Finance Committee for consideration, would prohibit making online wagers in West Virginia unless they are made through a company licensed by the West Virginia Racing Commission. A fiscal note estimates legal ADW will generate $10 million in parimutuel handle in the state and projects that four companies would apply for licenses.

The bill sets the ADW license fee, payable to the WVRC, at $5,000 per year and charges a source-market fee of 5 percent of the total handle generated by each licensed provider. Source-market fee revenue would be paid out as follows: 45 percent to the racetracks, 45 percent to purses, 10 percent to the West Virginia Thoroughbred Development Fund and 10 percent to the West Virginia Greyhound Breeding Development Fund.

The WVRC, which would oversee ADW, would receive a regulatory fee of 1 percent of total handle paid by the ADW licensee.

In comments submitted to the Martinsburg Journal, Del. Paul Espinosa, whose district includes Charles Town, said all of the major ADW providers currently accept bets from West Virginia residents "with no remuneration for the racing industry and the state." The border states of Kentucky, Maryland, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia all regulate advance deposit wagering.

Racing industry stakeholders for several years have worked together to form a consensus on the ADW legislation. ✹

Tip for Tap benefits from debut lessons for easy mid-January maiden triumph

BY LINDA DOUGHERTY

Check Your Six wasn't much of a racehorse. She made nine starts, finished second and third a few times before a poor effort Gulfstream Park in February 2016 led to the decision to retire the daughter of Giant's Causeway.

Check Your Six returned to Pennsylvania to join the broodmare band of her breeder, Dan Ryan, who races and breeds under the stable name of Smart Angle LLP. Back at her birthplace of Walnut Green in Chester County, Pa., Check Your Six had her first date with the young stallion Tapizar, and foaled a chestnut colt in February 2017.

That colt, named Tip for Tap, broke his maiden with a flourish Jan. 10 at Penn National Race Course, benefitting from his debut in early December at the same track. He won the 5½-furlong event by 7½ lengths under Weston Hamilton.

"Check Your Six didn't produce on the racetrack, but we loved her pedigree and she was a nice-looking mare, so we decided to breed her," said Mark Reid, who owns Walnut Green and trains Tip for Tap.

Reid said he wasn't optimistic about Tip for Tap's chances in his debut after drawing the inside post.

"I don't like horses breaking from the rail in their debuts," said Reid. "I thought maybe this colt could overcome it, but he didn't break sharply and was steadied, so I was happy that he finished third. He learned a lot from that race and I was expecting a big performance for him [Jan. 10], and he delivered."

Reid said Tip for Tap does everything right, and he wasn't going to be in a hurry with him, as there are plenty of opportunities during the year for Pennsylvania-breds.

Check Your Six has a 2-year-old colt by Tonalist and a yearling colt by Constitution; she is due to the cover of Dialed In this spring. Her dam, Tusculum Rd, is a stakes-placed half-sister to champion sprinter and successful sire Midnight Lute.

Smart Angle enjoyed its most profitable year in 2019, when its horses recorded 54 wins, 61 seconds and 42 thirds and earned $1,435,655. The top performer was Aaron's Tap, a West Virginia-bred gelding who won a pair of stakes, the Confucius Say and It's Only Money at Charles Town Races.

■ The Bell Gable Stable of Nick and Delora Beaver had a nice addition to their barn when they plucked Teak out of the Fasig-Tipton December mixed sale at Timonium for $22,000. The 6-year-old Broken Vow gelding rewarded them with an impressive victory Jan. 15 for new trainer Jamie Ness, as he humbled seven rivals by 13 lengths in 1:08.69 for 6 furlongs.

Bred by Bert and Diana Firestone in Kentucky, Teak started his career in late 2017 with trainer Christophe Clement, breaking his maiden at Gulfstream Park. One year later, Joe Besecker dropped a claim slip for $16,000 and he joined the Jorge Navarro operation, where he remained until selling at Timonium.

Teak hails from a strong female family, reflecting the breeding program of Allaire duPont. His fourth dam is the 13-time stakes winner and two-time Maryland-bred Horse of the Year Politely, while his second dam Minstrel's Lassie captured the Selima Stakes-G1. Teak's dam, the Mt. Livermore mare Tears of Joy, also produced multiple stakes winner Varsity.

Bell Gable Stable began modestly in 2017, starting 19 horses without a victory. In 2018, the numbers improved to 9-17-15 from 78 starters, while 2019 was a breakout year, with 25 wins and 35 placings from 121 starters, and earnings of $564,297.

The Beavers have also been active on the breeding side, purchasing mares and raising their progeny, many at Country Life Farm in Maryland.

"My wife Delora and I started our stable with our first claim at Laurel Park in July 2017," said Nick Beaver. "At that time, we were living in Chesapeake, Virginia. Once our stable started to grow, we realized we needed to be closer to the tracks in the Mid-Atlantic region, so we moved to Chadds Ford, Pennsylvania."

Beaver said over the last two years their stable has grown to about 30 horses, with Ness their primary trainer.

"We have had tremendous success with Jamie and are very happy with the results he produces," said Beaver.

As for Teak, Beaver said his form had shown that he had an affinity for the turf, but he seemed to tire in many of his prior races.

"While we were bidding on him, we honestly thought we had been beaten out by another bidder," said Beaver. "Fortunately, we got him."

The gelding's first race after the sale was an eighth in a starter allowance at Parx Racing Dec. 23, but he turned things around in his allowance score.

"He ran the best Beyer [speed figure] of his life, a 104, which we've never had a horse come close to," said Beaver. "We credit Jamie and also Ruben Silvera for a great ride. We would love to see him in some stakes races this year, and we're sure he'll continue to progress under Jamie."

■ Trainer Bernie Houghton, on behalf of his own WMT Stables, sent out Octoraro Orphie, a 3-year-old son of Jump Start, to break his maiden Feb. 1 going 6 furlongs. The Pennsylvania-bred is out of the Marquetry mare Marquee Kelly, who won the Missy Good Stakes at Penn National and retired with six wins and $180,130. She is also the dam of Raging Smoke, a multiple stakes winner of $422,282, as well as $113,055-earner Throw'n Smoke, both by former Pennsylvania stallion More Smoke.

■ The Pennsylvania HBPA's annual year-end awards were given out at the Hotel Hershey Jan. 27. Those honored were Edwin Gonzalez as top jockey, Besecker as top owner by wins, Tom Coulter as top owner by earnings, Tim Kreiser as top trainer and Fish to Fry as 2019 Penn National Horse of the Year.

Fish to Fry, a Pennsylvania-bred daughter of Well Spelled, won six of her nine starts at the track, including three allowance races. She earned $99,586 for the partnership of Erin McClellan and Judith Barrett. McClellan trains the filly bred by Barrett, under her Godstone Farm banner. ✹

New NSA president Griffin eyes steeplechasing's future

TOD MARKS

Dr. Alfred Griffin Jr. was elected as president of the National Steeplechase Association in January. The co-chairman of the Virginia Gold Cup race association takes over for Guy Torsilieri, chairman of the Far Hills Races in New Jersey, who led the sport from 2009-19.

Sean Clancy sat down with Griffin, a former owner, an avid fox hunter and an orthodontist from Warrenton, Va., for a conversation about the sport in February.

Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred: How did you get started?

Al Griffin: I've been hunting for, I guess, over 40 years. To find my hunt horses, I would go to Charles Town. Moody Aylor would run them up and down the hills for the summer and I would hunt them for the season. After doing that for a while, I got the bug, I loved the races, it really grabbed me. Gus Brown was just starting out as a bug boy. His father (Denny) was a great friend of mine, he would find horses for me. There was a horse I liked a lot, Latinist, I gave him to Denny and threw Gus up on him, we ran him in the open timber at Old Dominion and damned if he didn't win. As you know, that's probably the worst thing that ever happened to me. It was the start.

MAT: You rode races?

AG: I would have a horse, hunt them and pass them on to Gus after Denny had passed away. We would have one horse at a time, a hunt horse, it was fun. I started creeping up on 50 and I said, 'Jeez, you guys are having all this fun.' Gus put me in touch with Chip Miller and I bought a horse named Striking North. What a nice horse. He hunted for a couple of years, there was nothing that horse wouldn't do. I had two friends, Matt van der Woude, my huntsman (at Warrenton Hunt), and the other was one of my joint masters, Rick Laimbeer, they were running in the point-to-points and I said, 'Hell, if they can do it…' Dougie Fout saved my life, he saw me and said 'You need to come over to my barn and do this, it's not like going fox hunting.' For two years, I would go over there before work, it was the most exciting thing that I've ever done in my life, not the racing part, but getting up early and riding the first set as the sun was coming up, before you go to work. I don't think there's anything more exhilarating and fulfilling in my life, especially as I was cracking 50. I did the foxhunter races and the owner/rider thing, I said that was enough, I need to go back to reality. Robert Massey was riding for Dougie, he made me appreciate what jockeys go through to do what they do. I didn't scratch the surface. That was fun.

MAT: How did you go from owning horses to running a race meet?

AG: I started picking up nicer horses and we had some good wins, we won the Middleburg timber stakes, won at Willowdale, had some good seconds at Gold Cup, won some hurdle races at Gold Cup. We had one horse at the time and enjoyed the hell out of it. As the master (at Warrenton), I was running the point-to-point for 12 years and then got on the Gold Cup board. That's when it took over, as far as the administrative thing, it's very exciting to me and I still love it to this day.

MAT: How long have you been involved at the Gold Cup?

AG: I'm going to say 12 years, maybe even 14. I started as director of racing and Will (Allison) made me co-chairman about seven years ago. I saw a side of that was different. All meets are different, the Gold Cup has a lot of ties to the community, we've raised over $2.5 million for the local Fauquier County community in 10 years, it wasn't just the horse racing, that tie in was important. About the time Colonial Downs started having their problems, it was about the same time we were putting in our application for pari-mutuel racing. I got put on the governor's committee for horse racing, we would sit around these meetings, I didn't have the appreciation for the depth and breadth of the equine industry's impact economically in Virginia. When you saw it, it was amazing. The Virginia Equine Alliance was formed, that made everybody focus on the economic impact to this community and the commonwealth. It was a fascinating time to be involved.

MAT: Describe your experience on the NSA board.

AG: When I was first asked to be on the board at NSA, the only thing I really knew was that the NSA had taken away our third Saturday in October (for the International Gold Cup), which traditionally had been tremendous weather and moved us to the fourth Saturday and it's been raining ever since. My only knowledge was that Guy Torsilieri (Far Hills Races races on the third Saturday) and the NSA had changed our date. Like all good Virginians, I took up the fight against northern aggression. Guy and I have become good friends and I can't tell you how much I respect how much he has put into this sport, in regards to his race meet and overall to where we are. What I quickly realized was that there are a lot of people who love our sport and have different perspectives. It's about coalescing those perspectives and building a consensus, that's what has drawn me to doing this.

MAT: How did the NSA presidency come about?

AG: The first few times it surfaced, I said it wasn't a good idea. I have become involved with so many people who put their heart and soul into the sport, it's inspirational. I think there are some great things we can do. I find myself kind of as an outsider from the traditional groups who were involved in steeplechasing. I found myself in a position to be able to work with those groups pretty well. When two or three different groups asked me if I would consider it, that's when I said yes.

MAT: How will your experience at the Gold Cup help?

AG: You have the same kind of problems, whether it's the board of the Virginia Gold Cup Association or the board of the NSA, it's about building that consensus and drawing people's opinions in and getting an agreement. The Gold Cup is in a lot of ways representative of a lot of different race meets. We've got some struggles. We've got some things we need to figure out, we need to move forward in our way of promoting, of bringing in new people to our race meets, of dealing with our horsemen. We've got the exact same problems, having those problems makes it easy to understand and say, 'OK, how do we fix this?'

MAT: What are some of your concerns for steeplechasing?

AG: I look around at the people at our meetings and if you asked them how many of you are under the age of 45, that's a hard call. We don't have a bottom. Those are some of the very same people we are losing at our race meets, we need to upgrade our promotion. I think everybody agrees to that, but it's a question of how to do it. Bringing in new owners. Are there ways to incentivize owners from the flat game? The rider scenario is a crisis, as far as numbers. I just learned that Immigration and Naturalization has changed their outlook on professional steeplechase riders, that's problematic. We created a separate committee for that. Rider relations, we need to figure out a better way to get along, that's goes for everybody, we need to hear more from the riders and they need to hear from the race meets on what works.

MAT: The sport has seen a decline in race meets (from more than 40 in the 1990s to 26 last year). How much of a concern is that?

AG: That's probably our biggest concern. There are not two race meets that are alike in the NSA family. That's one of its strengths. That's a great thing. If you compare and contrast Middleburg Spring and the Gold Cup, they're 12 miles apart but they're worlds apart in terms of approach, their constituency, the horses who run there, the people who attend, the ambience and all of those have to fit in this tent. And then we have amateur racing, that's just as important. They need to go hand in hand.

MAT: How does the NSA fit in when it comes to race meets?

AG: From a practical standpoint, heretofore, the NSA has been mostly focused on adjudication, governance, this sort of thing. We need to continue the ramping up of the promotion part. Each race meet is an island unto itself in a lot of ways. The NSA doesn't have the power to tell any race meets what to do. All we can do is try to provide them with opportunities. It's not like show jumping where the FEI has the ultimate power. The Virginia Gold Cup stands on its own. NSA, yes, they provide the governance, the officials, but they certainly can't tell us how to do business nor do we want to be told but at the same time, we've seen a lot of these race meets fall for reasons that had we been able to be a little bit more involved, that might not have happened. We don't have a large budget, it's a shoestring budget, we don't have the ability to fund race meets like some people think. I've often heard the suggestion that we should take money from Far Hills and give it to Charleston (or another revenue-sharing arrangement among meets), well, these other race meets work hard to get their purse structure. The NSA doesn't have the power to move that money around. It's a hard task because we don't have the ability to regulate but at the same time we really want to promote these race meets the best way we can.

MAT: You started with point-to-points, is that a focus for the NSA?

AG: Yes, I'm very excited about it. It's gigantic. We are trying it with one race at Cheshire (in Pennsylvania March 29). In the past, there had to be a minimum purse structure and that's true for an established NSA race meet and I hold to that but maybe there's some wiggle room there. In the instance at Cheshire, we are starting something new, trying to give them an opportunity to see what it's like to be a sanctioned race. I can name six or seven different point-to-points where their race courses with a little help would meet the NSA standards, then it's just a function of giving them a business plan and getting them to get out there and get the funding.

I think they can be a part of an NSA effort. I'm excited about it. We did this a little in Virginia, the VEA gave some funding to the point-to-points to improve their race courses, a runner's reward, we are trying to encourage the point-to-points to take that next step forward.

I want to tie in the issue of increasing rider opportunities as well. We have missed those middle pieces between riding pony racing and riding the Gold Cup, the point-to-points help us with this.

MAT: What about racetracks and steeplechasing?

AG: When I go to Saratoga on jump days, the crowds enjoy the jump racing. A lot of them are there because of jump racing. I would like to be able to build that connection between jump racing and the major tracks that is positive.

Colonial Downs was a good initial effort last year, we'll be running there again this year. Laurel is going to be hosting a Fair Hill day.

Getting a better working relationship with the flat track is at the top of our list. I'm hoping our sports can grow together. Jump racing attracts a lot of people to the sport, the attendance factor at jump meets is something that maybe flat racing can learn from or benefit from. We bring 60,000, 70,000 people for one day of racing at the Gold Cup. There are other race meets that bring 40,000, 50,000 people to see the races. We would like to get flat-track owners to see the opportunities and the enjoyment of having horses run over fences at our meetings, there is a real opportunity for horses in steeplechasing, rather than dropping a horse down the claiming ranks.

MAT: You have talked about serving one term.

AG: I really believe there needs to be a term limit to the presidency. If you look at it historically, it's been 10, 12 years. Guy did a great job over that period of time but I don't know how he did it from a strength standpoint. What I would suggest is a term limit of three years, maybe four years. It needs to be more than one year or two because there needs to be a continuity to get things done, you need to bring people behind you to see the job, see the nuts and bolts, to understand the problems, but then there needs to be turnover so new ideas come along. I will ask the NSA administration committee, after they deal with some immediate needs, to recommend a term limit to officers. I think that's important.

MAT: Do you envision making major changes?

AG: I don't envision myself making changes, I see myself as facilitating those changes, there's a big difference there. I don't think this organization would benefit from any one person coming in and enforcing their vision on it. There is an opportunity now to take into consideration everybody's vision, to form a consensus and move forward. We do have immediate needs; riders, increase ownership, strengthening the current race meets, opening new race meets. There are some things to do, that's going to be an effort forever, that's something I hope to facilitate.

MAT: What are your strengths?

AG: Organizational. I've been around, I've run point-to-points, I've run the Gold Cup, I've been a master of fox hounds for 18 years. All those things give you the opportunity to work with people and find out how you can come together. That helps. At the same time, I think not being historically a fourth-generation steeplechase person, that gives me a different perspective so I'm not as firmly entrenched in one way of going. I look forward to listening other people's answers, I don't claim to have all the answers.

MAT: What are your weaknesses?

AG: That's a good one. In all honesty, I think I put too much time and effort into it. I live this stuff. When we have an issue, it fully encompasses me. Sometimes I have to take a time out and take a different perspective. Being too involved is sometimes a problem for me. I have learned to take a step back, look at it real hard, take a breath and go at it again. If there is a crisis and there have been in the past, what do you do? Everybody starts screaming about what to do and I've gotten to where I take a time out, go back, write a couple of things down, and then readdress the issue an hour later, a day later. The bottom line is if I'm in a disagreement with a person, instead of holding it and focusing on it, I will call a time out and write it down, see if there is value to it.

MAT: What is your favorite Virginia Gold Cup of all time?

AG: The last time Saluter won (in 1999, his sixth consecutive victory in the 4-mile race). That was phenomenal. A good timber horse is a freak of nature, to see him do it for the last time, that was magical. That without a doubt was my favorite Gold Cup memory. ■

Jump season springs to life

March is known for wind, Madness, spring (come on. . .) and—if you're in the Mid-Atlantic—the start of steeplechase season. Things get cracking with the first point-to-point at Rappahannock in Virginia March 7 and stay busy through Memorial Day Weekend with the Fair Hill Races, hosted by Laurel Park this year.

The National Steeplechase Association has a new president in Al Griffin (see interview), and hits its traditional opener with the Aiken Spring Races in Aiken, S.C., March 21. Aiken puts on its usual card worth $95,000 and starts a 16-stop spring tour.

New wrinkles include an NSA timber race in memory of Paddy Neilson at Pennsylvania's Cheshire Hunt Point-to-Point March 29, plus the return of the Tryon Block House Races in North Carolina April 11. The new course was not used last year, but will card $135,000 worth of hurdle races after extensive renovations.

Virginia's Middleburg Spring Races turn 100 this year, and will celebrate with a $245,000 day led by the $100,000 Temple Gwathmey April 18. The Gwathmey dates to 1924, counts some of the sport's legends on its list of winners and is worthy of the six-figure purse. The race stands on its own, but will also be a key prep for the Grade 1 Iroquois Steeplechase in May.

April again showcases timber racing in Maryland with the My Lady's Manor, Grand National and Maryland Hunt Cup April 11, 18 and 25. In the latter's 124th running, Senior Senator could bid to become the first four-time winner.

North Carolina's Queen's Cup race meet continues to mature, with its 25th running April 25. A $75,000 novice hurdle provides the most fireworks.

Back in Virginia, timber horses will compete for $100,000 in the 95th Virginia Gold Cup May 2. The day is worth $315,000 and has racing over hurdles, over timber and on the flat with pari-mutuel wagering.

After getting washed out by race-day flooding in 2019, Winterthur returns May 3 for its 42nd annual meet—complete with a $42,000 purse on the featured Winterthur Bowl over timber.

The spring's richest meet, the Iroquois Steeplechase in Nashville, Tenn., puts up $460,000 in purses for its May 9 card. The $150,000 Iroquois leads the way, and gets company from a $100,000 novice hurdle and a $50,000 handicap hurdle.

The Willowdale Steeplechase moves off its Sunday date to share May 9 with the Iroquois, with a day worth $105,000. In what promises to be an emotional day honoring the memory of race chair Betty Moran, the Radnor Hunt Races go for the 90th time May 16.

Fair Hill's course was rebuilt in 2019, and won't be ready to race over this year so the NSA teamed up with Laurel Park as a host for the May 23 races. A $150,000 purse structure supports a seven-race card. ■

Artfully named, bred

BY JOHN P. SPARKMAN

No Thoroughbred owner/breeder has ever been more artful, erudite and humorous at naming horses than the late Alfred G. Vanderbilt Jr. of Sagamore Farm. Choosing Native Dancer as the name for his 1950 colt by Polynesian out of Geisha, by Discovery, perhaps did not require any special cleverness or insight, but many other Vanderbilt-breds, such as Social Outcast (Shut Out—Pansy), Cold Comfort (Nearctic—Scarlet Letter), Sometime Thing (Discovery—Now and Again) and Splitting Headache (The Axe II—Top o' the Morning) reveal an agile, thoughtful and quirky intelligence that is rarely applied to choosing names these days when compressing phrases into unreadable words to meet the 18-character standard is all too common.

My personal favorite Vanderbilt name, at least to a younger and perhaps more prurient mind, was the otherwise undistinguished Dirty Old Man, by Tom Fool out of Last Leg, by Native Dancer, who, perhaps justifiably, ended up a gelding. Even late in life, Vanderbilt did not lose his touch, naming his last good horse, 1996 Futurity Stakes-G1 winner Traitor, cleverly extrapolating the meanings of the names of his sire Cryptoclearance and dam Clever But Costly, by Clever Trick.

The name of the winner of the 2020 edition of the stakes race at Laurel Park named for Native Dancer's dam Geisha, Artful Splatter, does not emulate Vanderbilt's talent for combining references to sire and dam, but its evocation of her gray-splattered coat that partly descends from Geisha herself is far more clever than the standard of the day.

Bred in Maryland by Ann Biggs Jackson, Artful Splatter was purchased for $16,000 at the 2017 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic fall yearling sale by Ellen Charles' Hillwood Stable. Artful Splatter made her first 11 starts in Hillwood's colors for trainer Rodney Jenkins, winning a 6-furlong $25,000 maiden claimer at Laurel in her first of 12 starts as a 3-year-old last year, before being claimed for $16,000 on Sept. 7, 2019. The transfer to trainer Kieron Magee's stable and the colors of James C. Wolf wrought an immediate and dramatic change in Artful Splatter's form. Two weeks after the claim, she won a mile starter allowance at the same track, and she has not looked back. The Geisha was her fourth consecutive victory.

Artful Splatter is one of 32 foals from the first crop of Tapit's son Bandbox, a $105,000 Hillwood purchase at the 2009 fall sale who was also trained by Rodney Jenkins. Bred in New York by New Dawn Thoroughbreds and Aron Yagoda, Bandbox won three of four starts as a 2-year-old in 2010, including the Sleepy Hollow Stakes for New York-breds and the Charles Town Juvenile.

Bandbox raced consistently for most of his 3- and 4-year-old seasons, winning the Private Terms Stakes and running second in three others, including the Maryland Sprint Handicap-G3, then missed his 5-year-old season entirely. He returned at 6 to capture the General George Stakes-G3 at Laurel.

Bandbox retired to Northview Stallion Station in Chesapeake City, Md., in 2015, where he stands for a $2,500 fee. Artful Splatter is the second stakes winner from his first crop, which also includes 2018 Maryland Million Nursery winner Follow the Dog (out of Two's Cozy, by Cozzene), as well as stakes-placed Bunting and Outofthepark.

Artful Splatter is the fifth foal, fifth winner, second stakes winner and third stakes horse out of the Not For Love mare Barouchka. Her fourth foal, Taco Supream, by El Padrino, won the 2019 Maryland Million Sprint, and her daughter Renaissance Rosie, by Jump Start, placed in two stakes while earning $372,819.

Barouchka placed, but did not manage to win, and is a half-sister to Maryland Hunt Cup timber stakes winner Raven's Choice, by Dance With Ravens. Their dam, Millashand, by Regal Intention, won the Lady Angela Stakes for Canadian-breds, and is half-sister to another Canadian stakes winner, Mordacious, by Ascot Knight, who is dam and granddam of two more Canadian black type winners.

That has been about the scope of this family in recent generations, but Artful Splatter's fifth dam, Canadian stakes winner Kirkfield Park, by Vice Regent, is half-sister to stakes winner Country Romance, by Halo, dam of Grade 1 winner Harlan, by Storm Cat, sire of top sire Harlan's Holiday. The family traces to the high-class Argentine-bred mare *Suiti, by Richer, imported to North America in the 1960s and second in the Ladies Handicap, then a much more prestigious race than it is now.

Artful Splatter's internal pedigree is a fairly typical mix of the currently dominant strains of Northern Dancer and Mr. Prospector, but with rather more inbreeding. Tapit is, of course, inbred 3x4 to Mr. Prospector, and Bandbox adds a third strain through his broodmare sire Grand Slam. Since Barouchka's sire Not For Love is a son of Mr. Prospector, that produces 5x6x5x3 inbreeding to Claiborne's great sire.

Artful Splatter's second dam, Millashand, is inbred 2x4 to Northern Dancer's son Vice Regent, and the Geisha winner picks up a third strand of one of Canada's greatest sires through his best son Deputy Minister, sire of Bandbox's second dam Deputy's Honey. Overall, her pedigree carries eight crosses of Northern Dancer, which is not as unusual in contemporary pedigrees as it may sound, bringing her overall inbreeding coefficient through the first six generations to 3.86 percent, roughly three times the current average for the breed. ✹

Uncle Vinny moves to Pennsylvania

Uncle Vinny, a member of the first crop of champion Uncle Mo and the first stakes winner, has moved to Pennsylvania after standing his first three seasons in Florida. Owned by Jeff and Stacy Jeans, the solidly built 7-year-old bay joins the roster at Rodney Eckenrode's Equistar Training and Breeding in Annville, Pa. The stud fee is $2,500 live foal, payable when the foal stands and nurses.

Uncle Vinny burst on the scene in 2015, winning his debut at Belmont Park that May going 5 furlongs. Two starts later he won Saratoga's historic Sanford Stakes-G3 over nine others including future millionaires Awesome Slew and Sunny Ridge. Uncle Vinny next finished third in the Grade 1 Hopeful. At 3, he finished third in the Long Branch Stakes at Monmouth Park, and retired with $224,500 earned in a dozen starts.

Out of Arealhotlover, a stakes-winning juvenile filly by the Unbridled stallion Untuttable, Uncle Vinny is a half-brother to stakes winner Legal Laura, an earner of $217,450 who won or placed in five stakes, and stakes-placed Lu Lu Laura.

His dam is a half-sister to stakes winner and stakes producer Fast Lisa. His third dam, Grade 1-placed juvenile filly Terrible Terri T., produced stakes winners Pleasant Dilemma, Lynn's a Dream and Philadream. Also in the family is millionaire Blazing Sword, a multiple stakes winner at 2 and three-time graded winner; Grade 1 Acorn winner Three Ring, and multiple graded stakes winner Reporting Star.

Uncle Vinny previously stood at Stonewall's Prestige Stallions in Ocala. His oldest foals come to the races in 2020.

First-crop arrivals

Rick Molineaux's bay Hoppertunity filly out of stakes-winning Rhythm in Shoes (by Rhythm) was born Jan. 14 at Peter Alafoginis's farm in Lawrenceville, Pa. Hoppertunity, a multiple Grade 1 winner and earner of $4.7 million, entered stud at Northview PA in Peach Bottom and led all stallions in the region when covering 129 mares his first season.

Long River's first foal arrived at Anchor and Hope Farm in Port Deposit, Md., Jan. 23. The chestnut colt bred by Lady Olivia at Northcliff is out of the American Lion mare Jo Bee. A Group 1 winner of $770,347, Long River is a son of A.P. Indy and Breeders' Cup Distaff-G1 winner Round Pond. He covered 38 mares in 2019.

Desert Party joins roster at Godstone in Pennsylvania

Desert Party, a graded/group winner each of the three years he raced, and sire of the earners of more than $9.6 million, has been moved by owner Sinatra Thoroughbreds to Judy Barrett's Godstone Farm near Littlestown, Pa. The 14-year-old son of leading sire Street Cry (Ire) stands for $2,500 live foal, with special consideration to Pennsylvania foaling mares and multiple mare discounts available.

Purchased by Darley for $2.1 million to top the 2008 Fasig-Tipton Florida selected sale of 2-year-olds, Desert Party raced in the U.S. at 2, breaking his maiden at Arlington Park first time out at 4½ furlongs on the all-weather track for trainer Eoin Harty. He took the Grade 2 Sanford Stakes at Saratoga in his second start, defeating future Grade 1 winner Vineyard Haven.

Desert Party won his 3-year-old debut in January in Dubai at Nad Al Sheba, defeating millionaire Regal Ransom, South African champion and Group 1 winner Rocks Off and graded winner Redding Colliery at 7 furlongs. In five starts in Dubai, Desert Party won three times, including the 1-mile U.A.E. Two Thousand Guineas-G3 (by 4¾ lengths over Regal Ransom, Redding Colliery and Vineyard Haven), and the 6-furlong Mahab Al Shimaal-G3 at 4. Stretching out to 1⅛ miles he was second to Regal Ransom in the U.A.E. Derby-G2, which prompted a trip to Kentucky for the Derby. Close up while four-wide for the first mile over the sloppy track, he tired late to finish 14th.

He made one more start in the U.S., returning in 2010 and pulling away to win Philadelphia Park's Donald LeVine Memorial in 1:22.04 for 7 furlongs.

In 10 starts he won six, was second once, and earned $928,467.

Desert Party stood his first two seasons in Kentucky at Darley before relocating to New York in 2013. Ranked as one of New York's top stallions for the next six years, he has sired 17 black-type runners, and 33 of his offspring have earned six figures. Among his top runners are multiple stakes winner and graded stakes-placed filly Heart's Song; Salama, a Group 3-winner in Peru; and graded/group stakes-placed Desert Dynamo, Can't Happen Here, Prince Atlantis and Valid Desert. Half of his stakes performers had stakes success at 2. More than 77 percent of his foals have started and 64 percent of his starters are winners. His progeny earnings of nearly $1.7 million in 2019 were the 10th highest among Mid-Atlantic sires.

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Desert Party was bred by David Smith and Dr. Stephen Sinatra (Sinatra Thoroughbreds) out of Sage Cat, a daughter of Preakness and Belmont Stakes winner Tabasco Cat. After selling Desert Party for $425,000 as a yearling, Sinatra reacquired the stallion in 2016.

Also the dam of stakes winner Elliecat, Sage Cat has had four foals sell at public auction for six figures. Also found in Desert Party's family is graded stakes-winning sprint mare Amy Be Good, dam of three-time graded stakes winner, Grade 1-placed Good and Tough, a graded stakes sire.

UPDATE

Airoforce moves to Equistar

Multiple graded stakes winner and Breeders' Cup-placed juvenile Airoforce has been relocated to Rodney Eckenrode's Equistar Training and Breeding farm in Annville, Pa. The 7-year-old stallion, whose oldest foals are yearlings this year, formerly stood in Indiana, and one year at Cabin Creek Farm in Pennsylvania.

The son of Travers Stakes-G1 winner Colonel John is the first foal for the multiple stakes-placed Cuvee mare Chocolate Pop, from the family of champions West Coast and Caressing, and millionaire and three-time Grade 1 winner Sea Cadet. At 2, Airoforce won the Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes-G2 and Bourbon Stakes-G3 and was beaten a neck by Hit It a Bomb in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf-G1. Graded stakes-placed twice at 3, Airoforce retired with earnings of $679,130 with first or seconds in six of his 12 starts.

Grade 1 winner Ice Box standing in Pennsylvania

Ice Box, a top 3-year-old of 2010 after winning the Florida Derby-G1 and finishing second in the Kentucky Derby-G1, is standing the 2020 season at Cabin Creek Farm in Bernville, Pa. His stud fee is $3,500 live foal, payable when the foal stands and nurses, with special consideration to mares foaling in Pennsylvania.

Owned by a syndicate that includes Dream Walkin' Farms (Toby Keith), Baccari Bloodstock and Robert LaPenta, Ice Box is a 13-year-old chestnut son of Pulpit out of Grade 2 winner Spice Island. A daughter of Preakness and Belmont Stakes winner Tabasco Cat, Spice Island earned $487,376 while winning or placing in eight stakes, four graded. Her 2019 2-year-old, a son of American Pharoah, sold for $1,650,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Florida sale last March. The family includes 1985 Horse of the Year, Kentucky Derby winner and Grade 1 sire Spend a Buck, a half-brother to Ice Box's second dam Crown of Sheba (by Alysheba).

From one of the hottest sire lines in recent years, Ice Box entered stud in 2012 at Calumet Farm in Kentucky, and also stood at Three Chimneys and Millennium Farms. In his first four seasons he covered more than 100 mares a year.

From five crops to race, Ice Box is the sire of the earners of nearly $6 million, topped by graded stakes-placed $592,056-earner Dubby Dubbie and nine others with $100,000-plus in earnings, including stakes winner Heladero. Ice Box's $1.9 million in progeny earnings in 2019 topped all but two active Pennsylvania stallions last year.

Ice Box retired to stud with $948,068 earned in 16 starts, with his biggest of three wins coming in the 1⅛-mile Florida Derby. After running last early, he rallied past 10 rivals, including future millionaires Game On Dude, First Dude and Rule, to win by a nose.

Ice Box's next start came in the Kentucky Derby. Again far back, as many as 24 lengths off the early leaders while racing 19th of 20, he was blocked going into the far turn, steadied in the stretch and closed to get up for second behind Super Saver while passing the likes of Paddy O'Prado, champion Lookin At Lucky, Santa Anita Derby-G1 winner Sidney's Candy and Blue Grass Stakes-G1 winner Stately Victor.

Sharing lands top prize at Renaissance Awards

By Tom LaMarra

The Maryland-bred filly Sharing and her connections took home top honors during the third Renaissance Awards dinner at which the Maryland racing and breeding community recognized excellence in 2019.

The event, Feb. 11 at the Guinness Open Gate Brewery outside Baltimore, celebrated the achievements of human participants and Maryland-bred horses. It was launched in 2018 as a cooperative venture among the Maryland Horse Breeders Association, Maryland Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association and Maryland Jockey Club, the three organizations that have partnered to move the industry forward in the state.

Sharing, owned by Eclipse Thoroughbred Partners and Gainesway Stable, was voted Horse of the Year, champion turf runner and champion 2-year-old filly. Bred by Sagamore Farm, she won three of four starts last year including the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf-G1 at Santa Anita Park and the Selima Stakes at Laurel Park.

"We're super-excited about her," said Brian Spearman of Eclipse Thoroughbred Partners, which purchased Sharing for $350,000 at the Fasig-Tipton New York Saratoga yearling sale. "Thank you Maryland for recognizing her. Winning here in Maryland was special. We're hoping for a fantastic 2020 with her."

After Sharing, by Speightstown out of the Pleasantly Perfect mare Shared Account, broke her maiden at Saratoga Race Course on dirt in her second start, her connections decided to try her in the $200,000 Selima on the grass. Trainer Graham Motion said the $100,000 increase in the purse for the Laurel stakes was the deciding factor.

"I can't say enough about the Maryland Jockey Club raising the purse of the Selima," Motion said. "That is why we went there, and that is how we got to the Breeders' Cup with her. It's an incredibly exciting time in Maryland with more exciting times ahead."

Hunter Rankin, president of Sagamore Farm, said the decision to sell Sharing wasn't an easy one.

"I'd be lying not saying this is a little bittersweet, but we chose to sell her," Rankin said. "Aron Wellman (of Eclipse) offered me a little piece and I said, 'No.' Well, that was smart. But what a special filly she is. I'm very proud of our staff responsible for the whole thing, and thanks for recognizing her."

Sagamore Farm, the leading breeder of Maryland-breds by earnings in 2019, won the Breeder of the Year award. Horses bred by the farm earned more than $2 million.

"Maryland is a special place," Rankin said. "We're in Florida in the winter and we go to Kentucky, but we're based here–this is home. I'd like to echo what Graham said earlier: What happens in Maryland is very important."

In other awards, Great Notion, who sired 55 winners and accounted for $3.1 million in earnings last year, was selected Stallion of the Year. His top earner was No Guts No Glory Farm's Anna's Bandit, who won nine of 11 starts, seven stakes. Great Notion stands at Northview Stallion Station, which is owned by Richard Golden.

"We'd like to thank all the breeders in the state–they deserve the credit for this award," said Golden's son, Michael. "We'd also like to thank all the people at Northview."

The Broodmare of the Year award went to Taft Lil Queen, owned by Charles and Cynthia McGinnes. By Irish Open, Taft Lil Queen is the dam of nine winners from nine foals, including four stakes winners and one stakes-placed runner. Her final foal, Pete's Play Call, won the Bonapaw Stakes at Fair Grounds last year.

"She was more than well-deserved of this honor and we appreciate it very much," Charles McGinnes, who owns Thornmar Farm with his wife.

The champion 2-year-old male of 2019 was Laddie Liam, a Golden Lad colt owned by Joe Besecker and trained by Hugh McMahon. Laddie Liam, bred by Hillwood Stables, won three of five starts including his final race of the year, the Maryland Juvenile Futurity.

Purchased by Besecker as a yearling for $14,500 at the 2018 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic December mixed sale, Laddie Liam brought $450,000 from DJ Stables at the same auction a few days after his Juvenile Futurity victory. The colt was part of Besecker's dispersal, and is training in New York with Gary Contessa.

Alwaysmining, owned by Runnymoore Racing and trained by Kelly Rubley, was voted champion 3-year-old male based on three stakes victories that landed him a berth in the Preakness Stakes-G1. Bred by Poppet Pitts, the gelding by Stay Thirsty returned later in 2019 to finish second in the Native Dancer Stakes at Laurel and seemed poised for a productive 4-year-old year.

Las Setas, the champion 3-year-old filly owned by Wayne Harrison, Bob Manfuso and trainer Katy Voss, won three early stakes before racing in the Black-Eyed Susan-G2. Bred by Manfuso and Voss, Las Setas, by Seville (Ger) out of the Polish Numbers mare Tanca, returned late in 2019 after a break.

Manfuso and Voss also bred Cordmaker, voted champion older male based on three stakes wins and a close third in the Pimlico Special-G3. Trained by Rodney Jenkins for Hillwood Stable, the son of Curlin is a half-brother to Las Setas–giving Tanca two champions.

Ellen Charles' Hillwood Stable, which won the Maryland Owner of the Year award, co-owns with Richard Golden the older female champion of 2019, Majestic Reason. Bred by Golden's Sycamore Hall Thoroughbreds, the daughter of Majestic Warrior earned $201,892 last year with a stakes victory and a third in the Gallant Bloom Handicap-G2 at Belmont Park. She is trained by Graham Motion.

Hillwood accounted for 75 starts, 92 percent of them in Maryland, and $765,528 in earnings in 2019.

"I'd like to thank the trainers and the entire staff who made all of this possible last year," said Eveline Kjelstrup,

The award for champion sprinter went to Lewisfield, trained by Jeff Runco for owner/breeder Linda Zang. The son of Great Notion won two stakes at Laurel and finished third in the Maryland Sprint Stakes-G3. The gelding raced eight times, all in stakes.

Mike Trombetta, based at Laurel and the Fair Hill Training Center, was voted Maryland Trainer of the Year. His trainees won 62 races in Maryland in 2019 and another 40 around the United States and in Canada. Trombetta's Maryland stakes winners were Oldies But Goodies, English Minister, My Sistersledge, Newstome and Bella Aurora.

Wet Your Whistle, a Laurel allowance race winner, went on to win the Highlander Stakes, a Canadian Grade 1 at Woodbine. Trombetta trains the top 3-year-old Independence Hall, winner of the Nashua Stakes-G3 last fall and the Jerome Stakes in January at Aqueduct Racetrack.

"We couldn't do all this without owners who trust our ability and staff members who work so hard to make our horses the best they can be," he said.

The Jockey of the Year prize went to Trevor McCarthy, who won 170 races at Maryland tracks last year and 253 overall. He spent many of Maryland's dark days at Delaware Park, where he finished third with 46 wins.

McCarthy won 14 stakes in Maryland with 14 horses including the General George-G3 at Laurel with Uncontested.

"I'd like to congratulate all the finalists and give a huge shout-out to all the jockeys who are great competitors," McCarthy said. "I'd like to thank my agent, Scott Silver, and all the owners, trainers and backstretch workers. I'm very privileged."

ey awards is prepared by the MTHA Board of Directors and is based on level of participation in Maryland. The categories are then voted upon by an independent panel of media members and racing officials, as are the individual Maryland-bred equine divisional categories administered by the MHBA.

The MTHA each year also accepts nominations for Backstretch Worker of the Year awards, one for Pimlico and one for Laurel, which are presented at the Renaissance Awards dinner.

Urizar "Uri" Velazquez, who works for trainer Brandon McFarlane, is the Backstretch Employee of the Year for Pimlico. The 27-year-old native of Mexico is known for his passion for horses and those who work with them, and for assisting his colleagues in times of need. He is enrolled at Howard Community College where he takes courses in English, grammar and history.

"I thank God for being here tonight," Velazquez said. "I thank every single one of you guys who made this happen. I really appreciate it."

Troy Singh, the Backstretch Employee of the Year for Laurel, is the primary assistant for leading trainer Claudio Gonzalez. The 38-year-old native of Guyana started in the business as an owner and decided he wanted to work with the horses in the stable area.

Singh oversees the grooms who work for Gonzalez's 60-horse operation at Laurel and steps in when all the grooms aren't available.

"It's a lot of hard work but it's very fulfilling when you win a race," he said.

Proceeds from ticket sales for awards night support the Maryland Horse Industry Foundation, the Beyond The Wire Thoroughbred aftercare program, and the Maryland Racing Media Association, which partners with other industry organizations to provide educational scholarships.

2019 MHBA Stallion of the Year: GREAT NOTION

Great Notion sealed his fourth consecutive Maryland Stallion of the Year title by leading the state's stallions in 2019 earnings, winners and wins. Now 20, the son of Elusive Quality had year-end earnings exceeding $3 million for a second consecutive year, was the sire of Anna's Bandit, tied for the winningest horse in the U.S. and a seven-time stakes winner last year, and got his sixth Maryland-bred champion when son Lewisfield took top sprinter honors.

Great Notion has made his career at Northview Stallion Station in Chesapeake City, and is the sire of 26 stakes winners lifetime. Anna's Bandit became his richest runner after winning nine of 11 starts in 2019. In the midst of a six-race win streak she captured the West Virginia "Cavada" Breeders Classic and Maryland Million Distaff in a one week span.

Michael Golden accepts Great Notion's Stallion of the Year award on behalf of Northview.

Great Notion sired 94 runners last year, the earners of $3,195,902 for an average of $33,999 per runner. His 55 winners won 103 races. ❧

2019 MHBA Broodmare of the Year: TAFT LIL QUEEN

The dam of nine winners from nine foals, five stakes performers, Taft Lil Queen has left a lasting mark as the dam of two Maryland-bred champions and a million-dollar sales horse. She is the 2019 Maryland Broodmare of the Year.

Charlie and Cynthia McGinnes accept the Broodmare of the Year prize for Taft Lil Queen.

Owned by Charles and Cynthia McGinnes her entire broodmare career, from 2001 until her death in 2015, Taft Lil Queen was represented in 2019 by stakes winner and $407,156 earner Pete's Play Call, her final foal.

The McGinneses purchased the stakes-winning daughter of Irish Open from an Adena Springs sale in 2001 for $48,000 while carrying her first foal. Her second foal was El Viento (by El Corredor), a multiple stakes winner and champion 2-year-old colt in Puerto Rico and co-champion Maryland-bred 2-year-old male of 2005.

When bred twice to leading Maryland sire Not For Love, she produced the multiple stakes-placed $203,805-earner The Prince, and the stakes-winning juvenile filly For Royalty. Sold as a yearling in the name of the McGinneses' Thornmar farm for $250,000, a record price for a horse sold by the breeders, For Royalty has since gone on to become a prized broodmare, bringing $2.1 million at the Keeneland November sale in 2017. She is the dam of four stakes performers from five to race, led by Grade 1-winning filly Constellation, who sold at the 2018 Fasig-Tipton Kentucky fall sale for $3.15 million. All five of her offspring to go through the auction ring have brought six figures.

The most accomplished of Taft Lil Queen's runners is four-time stakes winner and Grade 1-placed Kiss to Remember (by Big Brown), the champion Maryland-bred older female of 2015 and 2016. She sold as a broodmare prospect for $500,000 in the fall of 2016 and is now in Japan; her 2019 colt by Deep Impact was an $864,800 weanling.

Another of Taft Lil Queen's daughters, winner Kiss the Breeze (by Kafwain), is the dam of stakes winner Kiss the Daddy. ❧

2019 MHBA Breeder of the Year: SAGAMORE FARM

Sagamore Farm led all breeders of Maryland-breds by earnings in 2019, with a big boost provided by 2019 Maryland-bred Horse of the Year, champion 2-year-old filly and champion turf runner Sharing. The winner of the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf-G1 and two other races in four starts, the Speightstown filly earned $730,300.

Sharing was one of three stakes winners bred by Sagamore last year.

Graded stakes-winning Blamed, the Maryland-bred champion 3-year-old filly of 2018, returned to take the Royal Delta Stakes-G3 at Gulfstream Park in one of her two starts in 2019. Sagamore homebred Where Paradise Lay won his stakes debut last August in the Star de Naskra for 3-year-old Maryland-breds at Laurel.

Sagamore-bred runners made 219 starts in 2019, won 34, with 36 seconds and 36 thirds, and earned more than $2 million. ❧

For voting purposes in the racehorse categories, included were a list of all Maryland-breds that won stakes (excluding starter handicaps) worth $50,000 or more in 2019, the top earners by category, and any graded stakes-placed runners. Write-in votes were accepted. All Maryland-bred champions and finalists for owner/trainer/jockey are voted on by local media and Maryland racing officials.

Racing bill plays a big part in Horse Industry Day in Annapolis

By Tom LaMarra

Maryland Horse Industry Day participants listen to presentations from Secretary of Agriculture Joe Bartenfelder and Secretary of the Department of Commerce Kelly Schulz and other state officials about the importance of the horse industry to the state. Jay Griswold (left), a driving force behind the Fair Hill 5 Star and race-course reconstruction and Senate president emeritus Mike Miller were on hand as well.

Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Joe Bartenfelder was the first state government official or lawmaker to speak to the large group assembled Jan. 22 in Annapolis for Maryland Horse Industry Day. And his comments set the tone for what is a key year for the equine business in the state.

"Probably the most important thing you can do today is to tell legislators how important the horse industry is in the state of Maryland," Bartenfelder said.

The most recent figures estimate the industry's annual economic impact at $1.3 billion, with the racing and breeding sector contributing almost $600 million. In 2020 the Maryland 5 Star, an eventing national championship, will be held at Fair Hill for the first time, and on the racing side, legislation that would set the tone for the next 30 years is making its way through the General Assembly.

"The last 10 years have seen a coming together of the [horse] industry," said Kelly Schulz, secretary of the Department of Commerce. "It's about the Preakness but also now Fair Hill. It shows we can come together. The [Commerce Department] is focused on economic development–what you do is an attraction for outside interests to come to Maryland."

Tiffany Robinson, secretary of the Department of Labor, said her department and the Commerce Department are collaborating more than ever before. The Maryland Racing Commission now falls under Robinson's purview.

"This industry is crucial to our economy in Maryland," she said. "We work very closely with (MRC Executive Director) Mike Hopkins. The racing commission passed new standards for horse safety that we are thrilled about."

The MRC in December passed numerous rules and regulations related to medication reform and racehorse health and safety. The medication changes, which took effect Feb. 1, have been adopted by many other states in the Mid-Atlantic and will be in place when various race meets begin this year.

Anne Arundel County Executive Steuart Pittman, who attended Horse Industry Day, noted there has been "push back" over the past year in regard to public perception of Thoroughbred racing. Most of the MRC regulations are the result of about a year of discussion and planning.

"We want to make sure Maryland is ahead of other states, and it already is close to being there," Pittman said. "Maryland is a national leader, and it's important to reduce [catastrophic injuries in racing]."

"I'm glad racing is doing very well," said Sen. Adelaide Eckardt, who represents an Eastern Shore district. "We want to make sure the business is robust in Maryland and will do what we can to see that it grows."

To that end, Alan Foreman, legal counsel for the Maryland Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association and chairman of the THA, provided a historical perspective and outlined the legislation pending in the General Assembly that would use industry-dedicated resources to fund rebuilds of Pimlico Race Course and Laurel Park. The bill, called the Racing and Community Development Act, was introduced in the Senate and House of Delegates in early February.

The projects are expected to cost a combined $375 million and be paid for through bonds based upon existing racing-related video lottery terminal funds and state lottery money. The plan keeps the Preakness Stakes at Pimlico and transfers the land on which the track sits to the city of Baltimore. The front-side facility at Laurel and the entire stable area would be rebuilt.

"What has happened in Maryland racing over the last eight years has been nothing less than staggering," Foreman said. "We pulled together and rebuilt this industry, but one problem wasn't solved: Pimlico. We didn't expect to see a day when we could build brand new facilities in Maryland. The transformation of (the Pimlico property) will be spectacular.

"Go to your delegates and let them know how important this is (to racing's future). We're just the current generation carrying this forward."

In regard to equine health and safety, the Racing and Community Development Act leads off with language mandating that the MRC establish an advisory committee to oversee equine health, safety and welfare initiatives. The committee would consist of three MRC members, a representative of the state's racing licensees, a horsemen's representative, a breeders' representative, the MRC equine medical director and "any other individual with expertise in equine or racing industries."

The advisory committee would make recommendations to the MRC, which would submit an annual report on the committee's activities.

Maryland Horse Industry Day is organized by Grow and Fortify, which advocates for value-added agricultural organizations and related businesses. As part of Horse Industry Day, it arranges morning meetings between equine industry stakeholders and lawmakers from their districts. A large number of lawmakers stopped by to speak during the forum and awards part of the program.

Said Maryland Horse Breeders Association President Dr. Michael Harrison: "This event is so special because of participation. Without this community coming together, we wouldn't have the voice that we carry here."

David Brinkley, secretary of the Department of Budget and Management, touted the value of the equine industry and its positive impact on the state.

"You come to Annapolis, hear concerns, and share voices," Brinkley said. "The agriculture industry as a whole is the largest in Maryland, and the equine industry is half of that if not more. It's so important to the industry in concept that you keep open property–it's the best agriculture program someone can have. People love to see open space.

"[Gov. Larry Hogan] loves the agriculture community. He wants the Maryland 5 Star to be a key event. We try to take all the priorities people have and weave them into the budget. It's incumbent on you to communicate with your legislators–and not just today."

The Maryland Horse Industry Board presented two Touch of Class awards as part of the day. One went to Dr. Amy Burk of the University of Maryland, the other to Alison O'Dwyer, who guided Fifth Ace to a dressage award at the Retired Racehorse Project's Thoroughbred Makeover in Kentucky last October. ❧

Dr. Michael Odian appointed Maryland state veterinarian

The Maryland Secretary of Agriculture appointed Dr. Michael Odian as the new state veterinarian. The position had remained vacant since Dr. Michael Radebaugh retired from his post less than a year ago.

"We are thrilled to have Dr. Odian join the department and lead our Animal Health Program," said Maryland Agriculture Secretary Joseph Bartenfelder. "His experience in the veterinary field and extensive knowledge of equine medicine will be a huge asset to the program and the State of Maryland."

Dr. Odian, who has been practicing veterinary medicine for nearly 25 years, owns and operates a general equine practice focusing on sport horse medicine in Carroll County. His clients include many of the top competition horses in the state, from Grand Prix jumpers and Circuit Show hunters to World Champion Western reining horses. He also breeds, raises, and shows Percheron draft horses.

Additionally, Dr. Odian has served as a testing veterinarian for the National Steeplechase Association; a sale veterinarian for the Pennsylvania Draft Horse Sale/Keystone Draft Horse Sale; and a staff veterinarian for the Horse World Expo. He was president of the Maryland Draft Horse and Mule Association and is a current member of the Maryland Horse Industry Board, the American Association of Equine Practitioners, the American Veterinary Medical Association, the International Society of Equine Locomotive Pathology, and the Pennsylvania Veterinary Medical Association.

Dr. Odian received his Bachelor's degree in Animal Science from Cornell University and earned his veterinary degree at the Atlantic Veterinary College at the University of Prince Edward Island in Canada. He formerly served as the track veterinarian for the Thistledown Thoroughbred track and the Northfields Park Standardbred track in Ohio before moving to Maryland in 2003.

"I sincerely thank Dr. Nancy Jo Chapman, assistant state veterinarian, for the outstanding job she has done serving the department as acting state veterinarian during this transition period," said Secretary Bartenfelder. "Dr. Chapman's willingness to step up and lead the Animal Health Program during an extremely busy year is a tribute to her dedication to the department and her passion for the health of Maryland's animals."

The department's Animal Health Program works to prevent and control infectious and contagious diseases in Maryland livestock and poultry with particular emphasis on those diseases that threaten public health, endanger food supplies, or threaten the economic security of the animal industries. In addition to a sizable field staff, the section has two veterinary diagnostic laboratories in Salisbury and Frederick. ❧

MHIB announces 2020 grant recipients

The Maryland Horse Industry Board, a program within the Maryland Department of Agriculture, has awarded $30,232 in grants to 38 organizations and equestrian operations that represent a variety of equine groups and disciplines across the state. The committee selected projects from a pool of 66 applicants.

Funding for these grants and the MHIB is provided by the Maryland Feed Fund, which collects $6 on every ton of horse feed sold in the state. Since the fund was established in 2002, the board has awarded over $500,000 in grants to nearly 350 projects.

This year's recipients include: two equine research projects; support for numerous 4-H programs, Pony Club, and therapeutic riding programs; trail riding; equine ambulance rescue initiatives; and help for diverse equestrian disciplines, such as gaited horses, carriage driving, and pony racing.

A full list of recipients, including a synopsis of each project, is available on the MHIB's website.

"Horses are a critical component of Maryland's agricultural industry. The Maryland Horse Industry Board and the Feed Fund help stimulate growth and opportunity in Maryland's equestrian community without using any government funding," said board chairman Jim Steele. "This self-funded commodity marketing entity is a model of how industry groups can help themselves without relying on taxpayer dollars."

Projects are evaluated based on their value to the industry, degree of industry promotion, size and scope of activity, financial need, potential for matching funds, benefits, and overall quality of the written presentation. Grants are capped at $3,000 in order to award funds to as many groups as possible.

Eligible projects should have a completion date no later than June 30, 2020. Grant recipients are required to file a project report with the board detailing how the money was used.

Maryland-bred Stakes Winners

Field Pass scores first stakes win in Gulfstream's Dania Beach

Three Diamonds Farm's Field Pass squeezed past rivals in deep stretch to capture his first stakes in the $100,000 Dania Beach for 3-year-olds on the turf at Gulfstream Park Feb. 1.

Coming off of a three-month break to make his 2020 debut, Field Pass settled mid-pack as Get Smokin moved up to take the early lead. As they hit the half-mile mark, Field Pass began to make his move. Get Smokin led the field through the final turn, with South Bend firing down the stretch as Field Pass moved up the inside. The Michael Maker trainee slipped between foes in deep stretch to hit the wire a neck ahead of Get Smokin and finish the mile on a turf course rated good in 1:38.81.

It was the gray colt's fourth stakes attempt. In his stakes debut in the Grade 3 With Anticipation at Saratoga last August he finished second and also finished fourth in the Dixiana Bourbon-G3 at Keeneland and Laurel Futurity at Laurel Park. Adding to his maiden win at Saratoga in July, his second career start, Field Pass bumped his record to 2-2-0 from seven starts for earnings of $174,650.

A son of Lemon Drop Kid, Field Pass was bred by New Jersey resident Mark Grier, foaled at Dance Forth at Roland Farm in Warwick, and consigned by Becky Davis as a yearling to the 2018 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic Eastern Fall sale, where he was purchased for $37,000 by Owls Bloodstock.

His dam Only Me, a daughter of Runaway Groom, has two named foals. Both are winners. ❧

Year in Review: New Jersey breeding program makes major strides in 2019

By Bill Finley

It's no secret that the New Jersey breeding program went through some lean years during the latter part of the previous decade. Breeding and racing programs in neighboring states are all bolstered by casino revenues or subsidies, which New Jersey did not have. That's a huge disadvantage.

But things turned a corner last year, and 2019 will long be regarded as the year the New Jersey breeding program got its mojo back. Better days are ahead

With a new governor, Phil Murphy, in office, the racing and breeding industries found that they had an ally in Trenton, which was never the case under Governor Chris Christie. Realizing the many ways horse racing benefited the state, Murphy signed off on a $10 million supplement paid out by the state to the Thoroughbred racing industry. That led to the reinstatement of the bonus program for New Jersey-breds that had disappeared after the 2016 racing season. Christie had pulled the plug in 2011 on an annual $30 million subsidy that the state's casinos were required to pay the racing industry, and five years later, there simply wasn't any money left for such things as bonus programs.

By the end of the 2019 racing season, $403,160 had been paid out to owners of New Jersey-breds. The bonuses went to horses who finished first through third in open company races at Monmouth or during the Thoroughbred meet at the Meadowlands. Though not a stakes caliber horse, Diamond Play topped the list as he earned $27,800 in bonus payments for owners Tom and Carol Luchento and Kyle Wells.

The bonuses, along with a sense of stability when it comes to the Thoroughbred racing season in the state, has already paid dividends as the number of mares who are expected to have New Jersey bred foals in 2020 has increased by 25 over last year. Once that crop hits the racetrack, they will have more opportunities to race. After years of having no racing or just turf racing, the 2020 Meadowlands meet will include dirt racing for the first time since 2009. Though the racing calendar for this year is still in flux, the Meadowlands could have as many as 19 days of racing and the entire New Jersey racing schedule could include as many as 75 dates. That would be an increase of seven over 2019.

"I am trying to give the horsemen what they want, which is a longer season and an opportunity to participate longer here," said Dennis Drazin, who heads the management team that runs Monmouth Park. "The Jersey breeders want it probably more than anyone else. You look at an industry and you want to provide people with an opportunity to succeed. A longer season is a part of it."

As expected, the purse subsidy led to higher purses at Monmouth and that led to better and larger fields. Despite, business-wise, a disastrous Haskell Day, in which, due to extreme heat, several races were scrapped and the stakes races were delayed by several hours, Monmouth 's numbers were up significantly in 2019. Overall handle for the meet was $205,545,841, an increase of 16.81 percent over 2018.

"When you remove uncertainty from any equation the end result is typically success," said Drazin. "The combination of the first full year of sports betting and the subsidy from the state have helped to erode some of the uncertainty pervading our industry. We're optimistic about the future, not only for racing at Monmouth Park in general but specifically for the breeding sector in the state. We're already starting to see that trend tick upward."

Still more racing dates and higher purses could be part of the future beyond 2020 as sports betting at Monmouth has yet to have much of an impact on purses. When it was legalized, Drazin made it clear that the first priority for the money was to pay off loans that had been taken out to keep the track afloat since it was leased from the state by the New Jersey Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association. It is not known when the profits from sports betting will yield significantly higher purses, but that may be just a matter of time. It is also worth keeping an eye on a $150 million lawsuit filed by the NJTHA against the major sports leagues. The horsemen are contending that the leagues "wrongfully enjoined" Monmouth from taking sports bets as far back as 2012 and until the Supreme Court struck down federal laws that had made sports betting illegal in most states outside of Nevada.

As has been the case for a number of years, there were fewer New Jersey-breds on the racetrack in 2019 than in prior years, the result of a shrinking foal crop. But while there might have been a problem when it comes to quantity, there was plenty of quality.

When it comes to 2019 New Jersey-bred Horse of the Year, no candidate is a slam dunk, but it may be hard to top Valedictorian. A daughter of Temple City who was bred by John Bowers Jr., she won three stakes races during the year, including two Grade 3 events. Trained by Kelly Breen, she started her year off in Florida, where she finished third in the Marshua's River Stakes-G3 in January, then won the Suwannee River-G3 Feb. 9. After finishing second in the Honey Fox Stakes-G3, she won the $100,000 Sand Springs Stakes, also at Gulfstream. Upon her return to Monmouth that spring she easily won the Grade 3 Eatontown as the odds-on favorite.

Horologist was another Jersey-bred who proved she could win in graded company in 2019. The Monmouth Oaks may have only been a Grade 3 race, but expectations were that it would be dominated by Jaywalk, the 2018 Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies-G1 winner and 2-year-old champion. Trained at the time by John Mazza, Horologist turned in one of the gamest performances of the year at any track and fought off Jaywalk in the stretch to win by three-quarters of a length. She won four times in 2019, including the Smart N Classy Handicap for New Jersey-breds, and allowance wins against open company at Gulfstream and Monmouth. She was second in the Glitter Woman Stakes at Gulfstream Park, and finished third in the Cotillion Stakes-G1 at Parx.

Horologist is currently training in California for trainer Richard Baltas, but her co-owner Cameron Beatty is on record saying he would like to see her make a return appearance this year at Monmouth.

When it comes to durability, perhaps no Jersey-bred of recent times can top Drazin's Sunny Ridge. His 2019 wins came in Monmouth's Salvator Mile-G3 and Laurel's Richard W. Small Stakes. With a streak that began in the 2015 Sapling, the millionaire son of Holy Bull has won at least one stakes race in open company for five straight years. And it looks like there will be more to come in 2020 as he finished third in a three-horse photo, beaten just a head, in the Toboggan Stakes-G3 Jan. 18 at Aqueduct. He was just two noses behind Grade 1 winner Mind Control. Mind Control, the winner of the Allen Jerkens-G1 at Saratoga, is stabled throughout much of the year at Monmouth for trainer Greg Sacco.

The list of success stories has to also include Irish Mias. Owned and bred by Amory Haskell's daughter, Isabelle de Tomaso, the son of Sky Mesa won the Laurel Futurity in September and finished second in the Pulpit Stakes in November at Gulfstream, both on the grass.

They were the stars of 2019, a good year for all things New Jersey racing. And 2020 figures to be even better.

2020 New Jersey Equestrian of the Year

Grayson Link, an 18-year-old Paul VI High School senior from Franklinville in Gloucester County, was named the 2020 New Jersey Equestrian of the Year by the New Jersey Equine Advisory Board Jan. 26 at the New Jersey Department of Agriculture's 63rd annual New Jersey Breeders Awards Luncheon in Hamilton. She represented New Jersey 4-H.

As Equestrian of the Year, Grayson will attend functions hosted by the New Jersey Equine Advisory Board and represent the Board at various events.

"Grayson's love for horses, commitment to excellence, and experience in the equine industry is why she was chosen as New Jersey's Equestrian of the Year," said New Jersey Secretary of Agriculture Douglas H. Fisher. "We know she will be a wonderful ambassador for the Garden State and a great role model for individuals who are interested in equine."

Grayson started riding on her third birthday and began riding lessons at age 5. She went on to be the 4-H Equestrian of the Year in 2019, the Gloucester County Equestrian of the Year in each of the last two years and has been involved in the 4-H horse program for 14 years. She also is a four-time champion and two-time reserve champion in the State Horse Show, has been President and Vice-President of the Little Bits 4-H Club, won the Mary and Fred Kossatz Scholarship Award and the Gerry Leonarski "Making the Best Better" Scholarship, was a Horse Management 4-H Fair Competition Grand Champion from 2013-18, and a Varsity US Equine Federation Athlete from 2017-2019.

"I was shocked at first when they called my name and I'm just overall honored and excited that they chose me to represent the New Jersey equine industry," Link said. "I've been through a bunch of different competitions and it is incredible that I've been connected to these animals since I was 3 and to see that I'm representing New Jersey now."

It wasn't the easiest year for Link as her longtime horse Dandy, who she rode in competition, passed away in March and then her other horse, which was 32, passed away in August.

"Dandy was the horse that shifted my thinking into really wanting to do something in the equine field," Link said of the solid Appaloosa.

Link ended up using her aunt's horse Siona in competition for much of 2019. That aunt is Katie Pratt, who serves as Link's trainer and was the last Gloucester County resident to win the New Jersey Equestrian of the Year in 2006. It's where the Links board their horses.

"My aunt has been my trainer and cheerleader," Link said. "She taught me that the connection with your horse is more important than ribbons and trophies."

That connection is so important to Grayson that she hopes to share the benefits of being around horses with others in the future.

"I eventually want to become an equine therapist that uses horses as support animals to help people," Link said. "Whenever I go to the farm, I'm able to escape everything. I see that horses have that connection with people and take away stresses because you can focus on what you are doing at that farm. I just feel at home there."

Grayson plans to attend Auburn University and major in its Animal Science program with an Equine concentration. She also plans to compete with the school's equestrian club team.

Link is also involved in several high school activities. While Paul VI recognized her equestrian competitions as a varsity sport, she is also on the varsity dance team, and in the National and Italian Honor Society. Link said her experience with horses has helped her handle other situations in life as well.

"Working with animals is quite a talent and you can learn a lot of leadership skills," she said. "When you're working with an animal, you know how your horse will react in certain situations. I feel like from riding horses so long, the skills I've learned can be implemented in life."

NJDA Horseperson of the Year

The 2019 Governor's Award for Horseperson of the Year was awarded to Jacquie Ingrassia, a harness racing driver in New Jersey for more than 40 years. Ingrassia, who resides in Allentown in Monmouth County, accepted the award at the New Jersey Department of Agriculture's 63rd annual New Jersey Breeders Awards Luncheon in Hamilton Jan. 26.

"Jacquie Ingrassia's influence on the equine industry extends beyond the number of wins she has as a driver or the amount of highly successful horses she has trained or owned," NJDA Secretary Douglas H. Fisher said. "Her love and enthusiasm for the horse racing industry has inspired many to dream and achieve more than what they thought possible. Her life-long passion has made a tremendous impact on this sport."

Ingrassia's love for horses began in her native England when she lived near a farmer who raced Standardbreds as a hobby. She started exercising those horses under saddle at a young age, then drove her first sulky at age 14. She came to the United States in 1970 where she met her husband Frank. In all, Jacquie has more than $6.3 million in earnings and has won more than 1,100 races.

One of her career highlights was being the first woman to win a harness racing Triple Crown event, the Yonkers Trot, with Goalfish in 2000. The Ingrassias train 10 trotters, seven of which they own or co-own at White Birch Farm in Allentown.

Other notable accomplishments for Ingrassia include winning the Goldsmith Maid in 2004 with Aeronautess, a Striking Sahbra daughter owned by Ingrassia and the Arden Homestead Stable; and combining with Sandi Fisher to become the first woman to complete both ends of a daily double. Among her other top horses over the years are Zitomira, Valeris, Hot Off The Press, Gladhand and Turn The Paige. She served for 25 years as a director of the Standardbred Breeders and Owners Association of New Jersey and is a member of the Standardbred Pleasure Horse Organization of New Jersey and Farm Bureau of New Jersey. She is also a member of the Jersey Shore Sports Hall of Fame.

President's message

The NCTA closed 2019 with a stakes win and opened 2020 with a graded stakes win. Now, that is a spectacular way to end and begin a racing year.

James Jones' Bella Aurora capped off the year by winning the $100,000 Gin Talking Stakes at Laurel Park Dec. 28.

Nancy Shuford bred Texas Wedge, winner of the Grade 2 $200,000 Joe Hernandez Stakes at Santa Anita Jan. 1. The gelding wheeled back Jan. 25 to win the $150,000 World of Trouble Turf Sprint Stakes on the Pegasus World Cup undercard at Gulfstream Park. We'll report on that race in the next newsletter.

Earlier in December, Dan and Christy Shea's colt, Bank On Shea, won the $500,000 NYSS Great White Way Stakes for 2-year-olds. We're all looking forward to his 3-year-old racing year.

Some sales news that escaped me until recently occurred at the November Fasig-Tipon breeding stock sale in Lexington. Don Alberto purchased Mopotism (Uncle Mo—Peppy Rafaela, by Bernadini), bred by Frank Batten, for $1.05 million. She was our 2018 Champion Graded Stakes Horse of the Year; her dam was our Broodmare of the Year and Frank our Breeder of the Year. Mopotism was a tough racehorse competing at the highest level with all her heart, and a fan favorite. There was no bigger fan than I.

I am really looking forward to following your horses. They are off to a good start.

Racing Recap

Let's Play Nine (g., 2016, Super Ninety Nine—Arch Enemy, by Arch) remained undefeated in two starts with his 1-mile allowance score Dec. 28 at Laurel Park for owner James Jones (a partner with Country Life Farm). Although he bore out at the break from the outside post, he was corrected quickly and went to the front, moved to the two path, kept a steady pace, was loosened up a bit when leaving the half-mile mark while maintaining a daylight lead and was driven home the last three-sixteenths to win by 2½ lengths in 1:36.59.

Bella Aurora (f., 2017, Carpe Diem—Street Interest, by Street Cry-Ire) won the $100,000 Gin Talking Stakes at Laurel Park, going 7 furlongs Dec. 28 for owner James Jones, partnering with Country Life Farm. It was not only Bella Aurora's second win in a row, it was Jim's second win of the day! The 2-year-old filly ran at the back of the pack from the two-path, swung wide outside of horses at the top of the stretch, earned the lead at the sixteenth-pole and drew clear to win by 1½ lengths in 1:24.24.

Texas Wedge (g., 2015, Colonel John —Callmenancy, by Political Force) won the $200,000 Joe Hernandez Stakes-G2 over the Santa Anita turf Jan. 1, making it a great start to the New Year for his breeder Nancy Shuford. Seeking his first stakes win, he went off as favorite against a field of nine others. Breaking alertly from post position four, he overcame some trouble when steadied on the backstretch, swung three-wide on the turn for home, overtook the pacesetter and held off a late challenge to win by three-quarters of a length while getting the 5½ furlongs in 1:02.47.

Navy Armed Guard (g., 2015, Midshipman—Black Java, by Pine Bluff) won at Tampa Bay Downs Jan. 4 for owner Frank Coniglio, going 1 1/16 miles in 1:45.05 over a sealed dirt track after the race came off the turf. The 5-year-old gelding was forwardly-placed, stalking the leader down the backstretch, started to press the pace on the far turn, battled for command at the top of the stretch, and drew clear under encouragement to win by 5 lengths.

Your Secret's Safe (g., 2014, Tapizar—Keep It a Secret, by Thunder Gulch), bred by Nancy Shuford, won at Penn National Jan. 4, going 6 furlongs in 1:12.13 over a sloppy, sealed track.

Despite being bumped while leaving the gate, the 5-year-old chestnut gelding ran mid-pack, moved to the rail on the turn for home, took over the lead and was clear by midstretch to win by a length.

OHIO STALLIONS FARING WELL ON THE NATIONAL SCENE

They say the best advertising for a stallion is on the track, and the offspring of three Ohio stallions have recorded stakes scores out of state in January. The timing was perfect for two of Poplar Creek Horse Center studs, as those stallions being shown at their Open House Jan. 18 were represented by stakes winners at Gulfstream Park that afternoon.

For the third consecutive year Starship Jubilee captured the $150,000 Sunshine Millions Filly & Mare Turf at 1 1/16 miles. The now 7-year-old mare was pressed most of the way as the pacesetter and lived up to her favoritism by pulling away by 3¼ lengths. It was the 15th victory in her 32-race career and pushed her earnings to $1,261,597. A Grade 1 winner, Starship Jubilee has captured five graded stakes and has recorded Beyer speed figures of 102, 103 and 104. She has twice won the Canadian Sovereign Award for Champion Turf Female.

Starship Jubilee is by Indy Wind, a five-time stakes-winning son of the legendary stallion A.P. Indy. His second dam is Late Bloomer, a multiple Grade 1 winner who was named the Champion Older Female in 1978. Indy Wind stands at Poplar Creek for $2,000 live foal.

Just 35 minutes later the spotlight would shine on Kiss the Kid's son Extravagant Kid. In the $100,000 Sunshine Millions Sprint he pulled away to win by 2¾ lengths in 1:10.04. Over his career, the 7-year-old gelding has won eight stakes and has been graded stakes-placed on four occasions, including a game second in the 2019 Grade 1 Highlander at Woodbine. A picture of consistency and soundness, Extravagant Kid now sports a record of 40-13-11-6 for lifetime earnings of $787,354.

Indy Wind is the sire of three-time Sunshine Millions Filly & Mare Turf winner Starship Jubilee.

(12 graded) on dirt and turf. At 3 he set a new track record at 8½ furlongs by 8 lengths. He is the fastest graded stakes winner at stud by Lemon Drop Kid and is out of a half-sister to Horse of the Year Black Tie Affair (Ire). He stands at Poplar Creek for $1,500 live foal.

Just 50 miles up the road, Fair Winds Farm in Waynesville is enjoying the most recent win of a daughter of their newly acquired stallion Danza. In the $100,000 Ruthless at Aqueduct Jan. 26, Cruise and Danze made her 3-year-old debut a winning one after dueling for the lead and pulling away by 2¼ lengths in the 7-furlong test. In just five starts the Haymarket Farm homebred has now bankrolled $97,200.

Danza is a son of Street Boss out of the stakes-placed Champagne Royale making him a half-brother to multiple graded stakes winner Majestic Harbor ($1,295,814). He was graded stakes-placed in the Saratoga Special-G2 as a 2-year-old and the following season dominated the field in the $1 million Arkansas Derby-G1. He parlayed that effort to a third-place finish in the Kentucky Derby-G1 to Horse of the Year California Chrome and retired with $866,428.

You can be sure Fair Winds Farm will be adding these names to their "Horses to Watch" list: Betterlethergo, Caldwell and Unbridled Quest. They are all sons of Danza and early nominees to the Triple Crown this year. Danza will be standing his first season in the Buckeye State for a Private Fee.

LOOOCH RACING STABLE COMES UP WITH AN EXPENSIVE DIAMOND IN THE ROUGH

Who would enter a first-time Ohio-bred starter in a graded stakes race? Why Ron Paolucci, that's who! The O.T.B.O. member has hit more than one home run with horses taking a jump in class, and if not for a whiffing at the start, he almost scored another one. Named Nikki and Papa, the daughter of Horse of the Year Mineshaft out of Starship Spirit, by Grand Slam, brought a final bid of $500,000 at the Fasig Tipton March 2-Year-Old Sale last year. She was bred in Ohio by Susan King. While Ron is the majority owner, he has brought in others on the striking filly: Ashley Quartarolo, Todd Cady, Leigh Anderson-Butler and Jeffrey Lambert.

"I went down to the sale and watched her breeze in 10.1 and she finished up in 45.2," said Paolucci. "What really was impressive was that she kept going and going. After we got her I watched her first work and she outworked an older winner. The jockey [Fanny Olsson] works with trainer Bob Hess and she knows her well. We took blinkers off and she started to relax. Her last work was in company too and she just wants to go as far as she can. She's a beautiful mover and she is so talented I don't think I have a horse in the barn she can't beat."

Ron Paolucci

The Grade 3 Forward Gal at Gulfstream Park was her stepping off point and it didn't start as her connections hoped. When the gates opened she broke sharply from her inside post towards the rail and by the time Fanny Olsson got her straightened away she was trailing the field by 9 lengths. "She got four or five lessons in that race," said Paolucci. "She was hit with plenty of dirt and when Fanny tried to get her out Paco [Lopez] kept her down in there. When she realized she wasn't going to get her out, she decided to go down to the inside and ran on well to the wire finishing third." Well enough that track announcer Pete Aiello declared, "Nikki and Papa, she's run a great race in her career debut!"

"She galloped out great and returned perfect," Ron continued. "The Davona Dale is a Grade 2 at a flat mile on February 29 at Gulfstream and will be our next target. She really wants two turns." There may be an Ohio-bred in the gate on the first Friday in May – the Kentucky Oaks. We all know her connections aren't afraid to swing for the fences

Bartkowski and Bunker bringing up babies

by Emily Shields

TAYLOR L. EIDYS

Cindy Bartkowski (right) and Scott Bunker (center), breeders of 2018 stakes winner Delta Express, were the recipients of a PHBA stakes award.

A quarter century ago, Cindy Bartkowski could not have guessed that she would ever be involved in horse racing. She and her partner of 30 years, Scott Bunker, were living on a seven-acre farm and happily raising Arabians and performance Quarter Horses, mostly reining and working cow horses.

The couple needed a bigger farm, but it took three years to find the 81-acre New Jersey spread where they now reside, just three and a half miles away from their original farm. That move kicked off a chain of events that led them into the world of Thoroughbred racing.

"As we moved to the new farm, I was able to help a senior citizen—Dan Foster—with his Thoroughbred broodmares," Bartkowski said. "He had them scattered across several different properties and wanted to find a central place to keep them all together."

At the time, Bartkowski and Bunker had no experience with Thoroughbreds. "I almost didn't want to be involved, because I had heard all the things people say about them when they don't have first-hand experience: that they are crazy, and high strung. But I felt compelled to help this kindly gentleman out, and it turned out all three horses were quite lovely. I had so much fun working with a different breed."

Two years later, Foster had acquired half-sisters named Spunky Sparrow and Red Bank Robin, both out of the Robin Des Pins mare Robin the Rich. Bartkowski loved to listen to Foster discuss his charges, and ended up helping groom Foster's 2-year-olds at the training facility down the street. "He just loved them, and had such a passion for them," she said.

A serious health scare cropped up and ended Foster's time in the sport of racing. "That's how we ended up in the business," Bartkowski said. "It was a blessing in disguise for us."

Around the same time, a neighbor with Thoroughbreds on an adjoining farm passed away, and Bartkowski and Bunker inherited one of his broodmares, as well. Their first foal was a Weigelia colt named Our Georgio who, "Didn't want to be a racehorse, but he's loving life as a show horse."

Enter Mr. Monster, a homebred son of Political Force out of Spunky Sparrow. The gray or roan gelding won three of 18 starts with seven top three finishes, all in Pennsylvania. "He was a super racehorse who gave us millions of dollars of thrills," Bartkowski said. "He brought home a check in every single race."

Although their Birchwood Farm is in New Jersey, Bartkowski and Bunker quickly discovered the benefits of the Pennsylvania breeding program. Now their mares foal in the Keystone State before returning to their New Jersey base for the babies to be raised.

"I've always felt that every baby needs boot camp training, no matter the breed or discipline," Bartkowski said. "They learn how to lead, accept a halter, pick their feet up, stand for fly spray, and load on a trailer comfortably. We first started our Thoroughbreds doing the same basic stuff we had been doing with our other breeds, but we've added more stuff as we went along."

Now their foals get acclimated to motorized vehicles, with Bartkowski driving tractors through the barn, and using a leaf blower to clean the aisles. The horses are taught to both cross tie and stand on a single tie, and recently they've been introduced to a treadmill. "These are the bare necessities that will carry on no matter what discipline the horse goes into," she said. "I call them my five-minute mini-lessons. They are getting constant schooling about manners: don't kick, don't drag, don't rear, those kinds of things. I think by the time they go to the sale every October they are in pretty decent shape to move on to the next chapter of their lives."

The program is working. Three years after Mr. Monster was born, Spunky Sparrow foaled a Weigelia colt named Delta Express. An $8,000 yearling purchase, Delta Express became Bunker and Bartkowski's first stakes winner when winning the $100,000 Mark McDermott Stakes at Presque Isle Downs in 2018.

"I can't tell you how exciting that was for us," Bartkowski said. "We went to Presque Isle to see it. It was our first year of picking the stallion to breed to the mare, and we produced a black-type winner. It was like hitting the lottery for us!" Delta Express has earned $122,169 with three wins in 13 starts.

Another horse they bred, Tomboy Tuff, is a filly by Weigelia out of Red Bank Robin. She is a two-time winner, and after being claimed recently the new owner, "couldn't rave more about the manners of the horse." Tomboy Tuff's younger half-brother by El Padrino, Fear None, was also claimed recently and Bartkowski made a point of checking on him with the new trainer. "I wanted to see if they have questions or concerns about the animal, and learn if there is anything else I can be doing to better prepare them for this stage of their life. People seem to enjoy the animals more when they come with kindness and good manners."

Bartkowski doesn't mind putting in the extra effort; now retired, she "has all the time in the world to bring up baby." She and Bunker have three broodmares, two yearlings, and two foals on the way. "Right now we're thinking we are at our limit," she said. "We are happy with it."

They love breeding to sell in Pennsylvania. "Racing commercially is nice, but I really like those mailbox checks," she joked. "This is the best chapter of my life right now, it just keeps getting better and better."

JOIN THE PHBA

Whether you are currently a breeder or an owner, or if you are just considering getting involved in this exciting industry, there are many reasons to join the PHBA. The PHBA is devoted to those involved in Pennsylvania's Thoroughbred breeding industry. A not-for-profit organization founded in 1948, we provide a number of services to members, including informational assistance, educational opportunities and a variety of social events.

The goal of the organization is to advocate on behalf of the state's breeding industry. We are mandated by statute as administrator of the Pennsylvania Breeding Fund program, and as official registrar of the Pennsylvania-Bred roster of eligible program participants.

Working with industry leaders over the years, PHBA has achieved several goals that have brought reform and benefits to breeders, owners, racetracks and the public. The PHBA is vital to everyone involved in breeding throughout Pennsylvania. Your support and participation can help Pennsylvania's breeding industry continue to grow and prosper.

An Important Message to the Breeding & Racing Industry

As you are aware, Governor Wolf has proposed cutting $200 million from the Race Horse Development Trust Fund. This move is illegal and we are confident that the RHDTF will withstand this assault, but we must take every attack on the fund very seriously.

We would like to refer you to the following sections of the Trust language:

S1405.1 Protection of the Fund – Daily assessments collected or received by the department under section 1405 (relating to the Pennsylvania Race Horse Development Trust Fund) are not funds of the State.

S1405.1 – The Commonwealth shall not be rightfully entitled to any money described under this section and sections 1405 and 1406.

Our Equine Coalition is made up of Breeder and Horsemen organizations throughout Pennsylvania, both Thoroughbred and Standardbred. We are hard at work with the best lobbying firms in the state to prevent this injustice from happening but we're going to need your help!

If you're involved in our program and are a resident of PA, please contact your Representative and Senator. As direct contact with him/her is the best communication vehicle, please set up a time in person at their district office and tell them your specific story and where possible, bring others with you so they can also share their potential pain.

If for some reason you cannot visit, please call, email or write. An additional call or email to the Governor's office would also be extremely helpful. Many of these communications have already been sent. If you are not a PA resident, please contact the Governor by phone or email to explain your involvement in the program and displeasure with his proposal.

Our racing industry relies on farms and other businesses to operate on a daily basis. Feed, hay and straw, vets, blacksmiths, tack, equipment and many other services. Our mark reaches to every corner of the state! Please ask them to contact their legislators as they also have a vested interest.

We understand that this action by the Governor has caused great undue stress as we move into the breeding season. We want you to know that many of the legislators already contacted have given us their unwavering support and have said they will not let this happen. Pennsylvania is one of the leading breeding states in the country and with your help we will keep it that way! Go PA!

A special time for the Smith brothers

Between Dec. 20 and Jan. 10, South Carolina's leading breeder, Franklin "Goree" Smith, saw five of his homebreds win seven races at Laurel Park. Three of the winners – Walk Away Joe, Still I Wonder and Sweet Home Dixie – are still owned by Smith and trained by his brother, Hamilton Smith. These three, along with Nana's Shoes, were sired by Done Talking, who stands at Goree's Elloree Training Center in Elloree. Smith's fifth South Carolina-bred winner, My T Talk, is by Straight Talking, who also has been a stallion at the training center.

Sweet Home Dixie's latest win, Jan. 10, was very special for the Smith brothers as it marked Hamilton's 2,000 career win as a trainer.

Hammy Smith, Jerry Romans and Goree Smith.

Racing Across the Nation

Two graduates of South Carolina farms and training centers crossed the finish line first in stakes – Firenze Fire Dec. 22 and She's My Type (Fr) Jan. 4.

In the Gravesend Stakes at Aqueduct, Firenze Fire sat right off the flank of the leader while between horses for the opening half mile. At the top of the stretch, Firenze Fire was asked the question and in a hard-fought effort, proved best winning by a head.

Firenze Fire concluded his 4-year-old campaign having nine career victories, eight of them stakes wins – he's run exclusively in stakes since winning his 2-year-old debut – while pushing his earnings to $1,691,750. He is a product of Travis Durr's program at the Webb Carroll Training Center in St. Matthews.

She's My Type, a former student of Kip Elser at his Kirkwood Stables in Camden, recorded her second win in two lifetime starts when capturing the Ginger Brew Stakes over the turf at Gulfstream Park. She broke her maiden in her career debut at Gulfstream Dec. 7. In the Ginger Brew, She's My Type was off a step slow and a bit rank early on before settling down. She launched her bid inside the half-mile pole and reached the wire a neck in front. This is a filly with a bright future ahead of her.

South Carolina stands proud

The 2019 Eclipse Award winners were announced Jan. 23 and British Idiom was named Champion 2-Year-Old Filly. Stuart Grant, owner of the Camden Training Center, is a member of the partnership group. Grant races under The Elkstone Group banner. British Idiom won all three starts in 2019 including the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Nov. 1 at Santa Anita along with the Darley Alcibiades-G1 at Keeneland Oct. 4.

Grant commented, "What a fantastic year she had! She is not only fast, but mentally tough and she is one of the sweetest you could possibly imagine."

Two other Eclipse finalists, Sharing and Structor, have South Carolina connections. Sharing was a finalist in the 2-Year-Old Filly division and Structor was a finalist in the 2-Year-Old Male division. Sharing is campaigned by Eclipse Thoroughbred Partners and Gainsway Farm. Eclipse has management staff who maintain an office in Aiken. She was also unanimously voted as the Midlantic-bred Horse of the Year.

Structor is a member of the first crop of the Dogwood Stable campaigned Belmont Stakes-G1 winner Palace Malice.

Twenty graded stakes winners

Twenty graded stakes winners in 2019 went through the breaking process in South Carolina. Goree Smith's Elloree Training Center (Elloree) led the way with seven. Those getting an early education at Elloree were Grade 1 winners Arklow and Hog Creek Hustle, along with Grade 2 winners My Majestic Rose and Promises Fulfilled and Grade 3 winners Just Howard, Mr. Freeze and Sally's Curlin.

Travis Durr's Webb Carroll Training Center (St. Matthews) was represented with five graded stakes winners. Country House was the official winner of the Grade 1 Kentucky Derby. Pat On the Back captured a Grade 2, while Heavenhasmynikki, Lift Up and Mitchell Road were Grade 3 winners.

Both Mucho Gusto and Coal Front came up through Kip Elser's program at Kirkwood Stables (Camden). Coal Front proved best in a Grade 1 while also winning a Grade 3. Mucho Gusto captured three Grade 3 stakes.

Cary Frommer (Aiken) watched two of her grads reach the winner's circle following graded stakes. Henley's Joy is a Grade 1 winner and Killybegs Captain won a Grade 2.

Justin Wojczynski guided Concrete Rose through the breaking process in Aiken. She has gone on to capture a Grade 1 and two Grade 3s.

Mike Keogh (Aiken) has trained City Boy since the first day the horse had a saddle on his back. City Boy joined the ranks of Grade 2 winners in 2019.

Brad Stauffer and Ron Stevens' Legacy Stable (Aiken) grad Eons won a Grade 3.

Synchrony, an alumnus of Jane Dunn's Holly Hill (Holly Hill) program, reached the finish line first in a Grade 2 and a Grade 3 stakes.

VIRGINIA

$1,357,730 In Virginia-Certified Bonus Monies Distributed In 2019

The Virginia Thoroughbred Association's Residency program hit a new gear in 2019 as $1,357,730 in bonus monies were distributed from 338 victories at tracks in the Mid-Atlantic region. 156 different owners, who had a horse spend at least six months at a registered farm in the Commonwealth prior to December 31st of their two-year-old year, shared in the monies.

Top bonus earning owner was Taylor Mountain Farm who racked up $75,781 from 20 wins, all at Charles Town and all trained by James Casey. Their Hero's Man scored five wins which accounted for $18,472 of the bonuses. Largest bonus checks came via Boundtobebad, a 3-year-old Windsor Castle filly who was 3-for-4 with wins in a maiden special weight, the West Virginia Futurity and the $75,000 Triple Crown Nutrition Breeders Classic Stakes.

Next was owner was Matthew Schera with $54,952. His 4-year-old fillies Tass, a Temple City Kentucky-bred and Zonda, a Scat Daddy Maryland-bred, bagged three wins each and scored maximum bonus checks of $10,000. The former prevailed in the $125,00 Maryland Million Ladies Stakes while the latter connected in a $90,000 allowance test at Aqueduct. Both fillies are trained by James Lawrence.

Larry Johnson's ten wins and $49,087 in bonus earnings put him in third spot. Maryland-breds Sky Magician, Thatsthewaytodoit and Never Enough Time each connected twice. Johnson raised the trio at his Legacy Farm in Bluemont.

Melinda Golden's six wins all came from a single horse and translated into $34,723 in bonus monies. Parisian Diva, co-winningest Virginia-Certified horse in 2019, scored the double hat trick at Charles Town. The 4-year-old Freedom Child West Virginia-bred filly bankrolled a $8,943 check from the Tourism Office Breeders Classic Stakes and $7,500 paydays from the Sylvia Bishop Memorial and Its Binn Too Long Stakes.

Pewter Stable earned $34,080 from seven scores. Pennsylvania-bred Word on a Wing reached the winners circle three times at Parx in a maiden special weight and two allowance efforts. The 4-year-old Windhill gelding has earned $97,310.

Owners O'Sullivan Farms, Erin McClellan & Judith Barrett, and David Bloom all eclipsed the $20,000 mark in bonus winnings. O'Sullivan's $28,611 came from nine wins. Nico, Firebird and Unruly Julie won two each between the Mountaineer and Charles Town ovals. The McClellan/Barrett combo rode their Pennsylvania-bred filly Fish To Fry to six wins at Penn National, which tied for most Certified victories with Parisian Diva. Bloom parlayed six wins into $20,017. West Virginia-bred Chiefs Kingdom prevailed on four different occasions at Charles Town while Berry Strong won twice.

Renovations at Middleburg Training Center Near The Finish Line

The Middleburg Training Center, a 149 acre complex in Loudoun County that had fallen on hard times recently, is nearing the finish line of a multi-million dollar upgrade courtesy of owner Chuck Kuhn, a Purcelville, Virginia businessman who purchased the property in 2017. The 7/8ths mile track was fitted with a new Duralock race rail and almost all barns have received a complete facelift. The facility features 220 stalls and 22 paddocks. Steve Kuhn, Chuck's son, is GM of the Center and has overseen the renovations.

"It's been pretty rewarding, said Steve. "At the beginning, it seemed like a never ending, impossible task but now, I feel good about the progress we've made. We tackled the barn roofs, siding, gutters and the overall cosmetic appearance. The biggest renovation challenge has been figuring out the underground infrastructure which has been in place for 60 years or so. There are no schematics or maps available, so trying to find everything has been difficult. It's got good bones though," he added. "Now we're getting to know the people and tenants that train horses here and making sure their requirements are met. "

Renovation work to 10 of the 11 barns on the property has been completed and the final one should be done by spring. "Stalls are currently half occupied," added Kuhn, "But come spring and summer once renovations are complete, we hope to see more horses on the grounds. We might even try having another discipline like show horses on the other side of the property."

Kieran Norris, who along with Madison Meyers, operates Ballyerin Racing and has been based at Middleburg for the last two years. Together, they have 17 horses there and another five at a nearby farm they rent. "We actually are in the first barn that was renovated," said Meyers. "It's been great so far and has been neat to watch the progress come along. Now that construction and repairs are almost done, the track and facilities are in much better shape and it's getting back to where this place once was."

The Middleburg Training Center was built in 1956 by Paul Mellon as a private picturesque facility. A local contingency of trainers led by Paul Fout bought it in 1975 then in 2006, Randy Rouse acquired it. Before the complex was most recently purchased, it was in the hands of the Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation. The Center, which had been on the market for years though, was ringing up losses, was run down and in disrepair before Kuhn purchased the property. "It was all about conservation easement and protecting open space," said his son Steve. "The property is valuable to my father. He wants to run it as a business and make a go of it.

Virginia Breeders Fund Pays Out $712,500 In Awards In 2019

A total of $712,500 in awards were paid out in 2019 courtesy of the Virginia Breeders Fund. A total of 45 different Virginia breeders shared in the prize pool from 165 state-bred winners and purse winnings of $3,298,412.

The William Backer Revocable Estate topped the list of bonus earners with 21 wins and three big stakes scores. Out For a Spin won a $25,000 capped award for a victory the $300,000, Grade I Ashland Stakes. The 4-year-old filly finished 2019 with $364,610 in purse monies from six starts. Both Tryon Summer and Ferdinanda secured $13,757 each for wins in the Nellie Mae Cox and Brookmeade Stakes at Colonial Downs last summer.

Morgan's Ford Farm was second with $86,800 from 19 winners. They had two prevail in stakes --- Bella Aurora in the Gin Talking at Laurel and River Deep in the Edward P. Evans at Colonial. Both stakes had a purse of $100,000 and the awards were $13,757. Their K P Slickem earned $38,400 in a Del Mar allowance and banked a $8,804 bonus.

Lazy Lane Farms rode a trio of wins from both Holly Hundy and Lenstar to take third with $72,638 from nine wins. The former won the $100,000 Camptown Stakes in New Kent ($13,757) while the latter scored allowance wins at Oaklawn in January and March and pocketed bonuses of $11,693 and $10,730.

Jim Fitzgerald and Katie Fitzgerald were next with $59,362 from 10 wins. They connected with co-breeder Jeff Ackerman for another five, all authored by 5-year-old Graydar gelding, Alpahdor. The Fitzgerald's also bred Meadow Stakes winner Elusive Mischief who earned a $13,757 award. Their Mucho Mas also pocketed a $12,381 bonus from a maiden special weight score at Oaklawn.

Audley Farm Equine had nine wins and bonus earnings of $37,516. Tasting The Stars provided three of the triumphs including a $10,317 bonus from the $45,000 Just Jenna Stakes at Monmouth. Breeders Nancy Terhune and Ernest Frohboese combined for a four pack of wins including a pair from Embolden who won the Jamestown Stakes ($13,757). Mr. & Mrs. Oliver Iselin had a pair of nice bonus wins via Passion Play, who earned $6,878 from a maiden special weight at Colonial and Miss Behave who received a $6,643 stipend from a Woodbine triumph.

Sir Rockport's five wins in 2019 along with a pair from Greek God and On The Wings Of gave Larry Johnson 9 of his 11 bonus checks. His $20,788 combined total was eighth best. Quest Realty had eight wins including two each from Drosselmoon, Graceful Request and Stay Out. Rounding out the top ten was Eagle Point Farm who bred M. Tyson Gilpin Stakes winner What The Beep.

2019 West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders Awards

By Jeff Gilleas. Photographs by Coady Photography

The evolution of the West Virginia Thoroughbred breeding program took an unprecedented leap forward in 2019, when a son (Runnin'toluvya) and daughter (Late Night Pow Wow), of dominant sire Fiber Sonde, independently captured graded stakes events.

It was also a banner year to garner national headlines as 'Wonder Woman' of the Mid-Atlantic, Anna's Bandit (nine wins, including the Cavada Stakes), was named winningest horse by BloodHorse magazine.

Horsemen that gathered at the Clarion Hotel, awaiting coronation of the 2019 Champions, were the meritocracy of the local racing community, but it was a simple quote by trainer Tim Grams that best depicted the blue collar populous, "Anybody who walks through this gate here has a chance and that's why this business is so great."

TWO-YEAR-OLD FILLY

In horse racing parlance the precocity of 2-year-old fillies is well-documented. Thus, when Taylor Mountain Farms' Boundtobebad began her career reeling off three consecutive wins, made up of scores in the Triple Crown Nutrition Breeders Classics and West Virginia Futurity, her crowning as juvenile champion was virtually guaranteed.

Boundtobebad

The dark bay daughter of Windsor Castle, out of the mare Bound To shared the evening's spotlight with barnmate and full brother, Castle Bound, victor in the $300,000 Breeders Classic.

TWO-YEAR-OLD MALE

Hypothesis, a son of Algorithms, out of Ideal Thoughts may not have been overly flashy in his races, but he did enough to secure his number one ranking, while sustaining a heated rivalry with fellow freshman Nico.

Owned by Jill Daniel, trained by Crystal Pickett and bred by Francis Daniel III, Hypothesis' only chink in his armor was a respectable fourth place finish at Colonial Downs in the $100,000 Rosie's Stakes.

Wins in the Henry Mercer Memorial and Vincent Moscarelli Memorial placed his seasonal earnings just below the $90,000 mark.

THREE-YEAR-OLD FILLY

A common analogy that runs through the thread of Thoroughbred racing is heart trumps dimension.

Bantam weight Parisian Diva, a daughter of Freedom Child out of Paris Heiress exemplified this train of thought, as she recorded six wins and two seconds, out of nine starts on the year.

Parisian Diva

Owned by breeder Melinda Golden, the bay filly is conditioned by veteran Stacey Viands.

Stacey suffered a serious heart attack during her sophomore campaign and it was the bond with this filly that helped expedite his recuperation process.

Diva's legacy was confirmed on Breeders Night in the West Virginia Tourism Office Stakes.

THREE-YEAR-OLD MALE CO- CHAMPIONS

Perfection, thy name is Loving Touch. The full brother to Runnin'toluvya was patiently handled by owner Judy and trainer Tim Grams, allowing the attractive son of Fiber Sonde out of Lov'emnrun to conclude a perfect season.

Bred by Leslie Cromer, Loving Touch's win in the West Virginia Lottery Breeders Classic was the geldings ultimate achievement.

Co-champion Hero's Man looked invincible in his first three races, until he tested the significant talents of older rivals. The son of Charitable Man out of Hero's Siren ran a credible second to Loving Touch on Breeders Night and many postulated a traffic incident at the top of the stretch inescapably affected the Taylor Mountain Farms (James W. Casey) probability for success.

OLDER FILLY AND MARE CO-CHAMPIONS

Adjectives used to identify Anna's Bandit are professional, steady, machine-like, gritty and determined.

The 6-year-old mare by Great Notion out of Onearmedbandit, bred by John Robb, was a winning lottery ticket in 2019, as she accounted for the Conniver, Original Gold, Timonium Distaff, Sadie Hawkins, Cavada, Maryland Million Distaff and Politely Stakes.

Owned by No Guts No Glory Farm (Gina Robb), and trained by husband John, the multiple stakes winner easily surpassed the $700,000 mark in career earnings.

Co-champion Late Night Pow Wow's greatness was defined by two signature events. The robust daughter of Fiber Sonde, out of Holy Pow Wow, substantive distinctions were a third place effort in the Grade 1 Madison Stakes at Keeneland and a win at Laurel Park in the Barbara Fritchie (Grade 3).

Skillfully managed by trainer Javier Contreras for owner Breeze Easy LLC, Late Night Pow Wow's enviable career stats lists, 12 wins, out of 15 starts, one second and one third. The earner of $700,400 was bred by John McKee.

OLDER MALE

By April, Runnin'toluvya was a household name in the Mountain state, courtesy of his win versus wide-open company in the $1 million Charles Town Classic-G2.

The temperamental gelding by, Fiber Sonde out of Lov'emnrun was bred by Leslie Cromer and is owned by Grams Racing.

Kudos to horseman extraordinaire Tim Grams. His patience enabled this runner to grasp his full potential.

If a vote was conducted for the most emotional winner's circle celebration of 2019, it clearly would be a slam dunk for Runnin'toluvya's Classic. Elated cheers, quality tears and ample beers flowed for the hometown hero.

SPRINTER

Penguin Power typifies why his sire Fiber Sonde is so readily desired.

The chestnut, bred by John McKee and eventually purchased by owner David Raim, possesses all the critical attributes of a champion.

Size, speed and heart have allowed the Jeff Runco trainee to compete at an almost flawless level for the year.

Penguin Power

Wins in the Frank Gall Memorial and "Onion Juice" Breeders Classic have soothsayers predicting him as a possible successor to Runnin'toluvya in 2020.

HORSE OF THE YEAR CO-CHAMPIONS

The battle of the sexes has been an age old argument. 2019 at Hollywood Casino at Charles Town Races, surely didn't answer the enduring question of which gender is superior. In the end, Board members of the WVTBA decided to call it a draw, as both horses accomplished feats which may never be duplicated.

Runnin'toluvya and Anna's Bandit were named co-champions for Horse of the Year honors.

One male runner that prefers the comforts of home, versus one lady that adapts to any track surface or conditions.

Congratulations to breeders Leslie Cromer and John Robb.

Their products passed all quality assurance tests with flying colors.

NATIONAL STEEPLECHASE ASSOCIATION | 400 FAIR HILL DRIVE, ELKTON, MD 21921

New season begins at Aiken Spring

The National Steeplechase Association kicks off its 2020 season on Saturday, March 21, and the spring schedule offers high-quality racing over hurdles and timber fences, a new race in Pennsylvania, the return of the Tryon Block House, and a Fair Hill meet at Laurel Park in Maryland.

Topping the stakes schedule is the $150,000 Calvin Houghland Iroquois (Gr. 1), the signature race of the 79th annual Iroquois Steeplechase on Saturday, May 9. Iroquois offers the highest purses of the spring season, $460,000, and the popular Nashville meet also will feature the $100,000 Marcellus Frost Champion Hurdle for novices and the $50,000 Margaret Currey Henley for fillies and mares.

The spring's second-highest purses, $315,000, will be offered at the 95th annual Virginia Gold Cup in The Plains on Saturday, May 2. In addition to the $100,000 Virginia Gold Cup over timber, the $75,000 David Semmes Memorial (Gr. 2) over hurdles will be featured at Great Meadow Race Course.

Celebrating its centennial will be the Middleburg Spring Races, which will offer the first graded stakes of the year, the Temple Gwathmey Handicap (Gr. 2), on Saturday, April 18. The Temple Gwathmey purse was increased by $25,000 to $100,000 to mark the meet's 100th anniversary.

Also marking an important anniversary, its 25th, will be the Queen's Cup Steeplechase in suburban Charlotte on Saturday, April 25. Its feature race will be the $100,000 Queen's Cup MPC 'Chase for novices.

Two other meets will be run on that Saturday. The 124th running of the $100,000 Maryland Hunt Cup will test timber horses over its four-mile distance. Also on the schedule that afternoon is the Foxfield Spring Races in Charlottesville, Va., where the feature race will be the Daniel Van Clief Memorial, a ratings handicap hurdle.

2020 NSA Spring Racing Schedule

RACE MEET	LOCATION	DATE
AIKEN SPRING STEEPLECHASE	Aiken, SC	Saturday, March 21

RADNOR HUNT RACES	Malvern, PA	Saturday, May 16
FAIR HILL AT LAUREL PARK	Laurel, MD	Saturday, May 23

Two ratings handicaps will be the feature races of the year's first two meets. Aiken Spring launches the spring schedule on Saturday, March 21, and its marquee race will be the $30,000 Budweiser Imperial Cup at the Aiken Horse Park in South Carolina.

The action moves to Camden, S.C., and the Springdale Course on Saturday, March 28, for the 88th annual Carolina Cup. Its featured race will be the $50,000 Carolina Cup, a Sport of Kings ratings handicap hurdle.

New to the schedule will be the $10,000 Louis C. Neilson III amateur apprentice timber race as part of the Cheshire Point-to-Point Races in Unionville, Pa., on Sunday, March 29. The new race will be fully sanctioned and conducted under all NSA rules.

Returning to the schedule will be the Tryon Block House Races at the Green Creek Race Course in Columbus, N.C., on Saturday, April 11. Due to course issues, the Tryon races were first postponed and then canceled last year. Its feature will be the $35,000 Block House, an allowance hurdle for horses who have not won two races over fences.

The Maryland timber triple crown begins on April 11 with the $50,000 My Lady's Manor. The storied series continues with the $50,000 Grand National on April 18, followed by the Maryland Hunt Cup the following Saturday.

Timber racing also will be in the spotlight in three other spring meets. The Winterthur Races will feature the $42,000 Winterthur Bowl on Sunday, May 3. The Willowdale Steeplechase in Kennett Square, Pa., will be run a day earlier than usual, on Saturday, May 9, and will feature the $35,000 Buttonwood-Sycamore Farm Willowdale Steeplechase for amateur jockeys.

Griffin elected as NSA president

Dr. Alfred C. Griffin Jr., the co-chair of the Virginia Gold Cup who played a key role in keeping pari-mutuel racing alive in his home state during Colonial Downs' closure, was elected president of the National Steeplechase Association at a Jan. 18 meeting of the NSA Board of Directors.

The Warrenton, Va., orthodontist succeeds Guy J. Torsilieri, who was elected as the NSA's chairman. Torsilieri, who served as the NSA's president for 11 years before declining to seek another term, was elected as the NSA's chairman. He succeeds Beverly R. Steinman, who retired from the board at the conclusion of her term last year.

Also elected were Virginia Lazenby as vice president, Robert Bonnie as secretary, and Mason Hardaway Lampton as treasurer.

"I am honored and humbled to be elected the National Steeplechase Association's president," Dr. Griffin said. "Under Guy Torsilieri's leadership, steeplechasing has placed itself on an upward trajectory, and I will strive to foster continued growth into a bright, sustainable future for our sport, our horsemen, and our race meets."

Guy J. Torsilieri, right, received a gift of a horse sculture to honor his 11 years as NSA president. Incoming President Al Griffin Jr., and board member Meriwether Morris made the presentation at a Board of Directors meeting on Jan. 18.

Dr. Griffin has wide-ranging experience in his professional career, Virginia horse racing, and fox-hunting. He is in the practice of Orthodontics in Warrenton and Middleburg for the last 35 years and is a diplomate of the American Board of Orthodontics.

He also teaches biomechanics and clinical practice at Harvard University's School of Dental Medicine. He served as the first dental director of the Fauquier Free Clinic, which he and other Northern Virginia dentists founded more than 20 years ago to serve those unable to afford medical and dental care.

With Dr. Will Allison, he is co-chair of the Virginia Gold Cup, the NSA's largest meet by attendance, and the International Gold Cup in the fall. After Colonial Downs' former owner shut the track in 2013, Dr. Griffin played a key role in forming the Virginia Equine Alliance and in obtaining legislative approval for the alliance to be the state's pari-mutuel entity.

During his tenure, the International Gold Cup inaugurated pari-mutuel wagering under supervision of the Virginia Racing Commission in October 2012, and the Virginia Gold Cup added betting the following May.

He became a member of the NSA's Board of Directors in 2012 and has served as chair of the NSA's Promotion and Growth Committee. He has been the NSA's secretary since 2018.

In addition to serving as race director for the two meets at Great Meadow Race Course, he was master of fox hounds for the Warrenton Hunt for 18 years.

Spring schedule concludes with Fair Hill at Laurel

Saturday, May 16, will highlight the $35,000 Radnor Hunt Cup over timber.

The historic Fair Hill Race Course in northern Maryland is undergoing a $20-million remodeling that includes a new turf course. The Fair Hill meet will move to the Baltimore-Washington metroplex on Saturday, May 23, for races at Laurel Park. The day's feature will be the $40,000 Valentine Memorial, a handicap hurdle.

Pension fund gets another boost, grooms now recognized daily

BY TOM LAMARRA

The MTHA Board of Directors, in support of the Maryland backstretch community, has voted to increase its contribution to its Backstretch Pension Fund by 20 percent to $900,000 this year.

The board took the action at its January meeting. In 2018, the Maryland Racing Commission approved an increase in the contribution to $750,000 as recommended by the MTHA.

Retirement benefits for backstretch workers were first authorized by the MTHA in 1998. The program is funded by a deduction from the purse account.

The pension program has grown in recent years, and in 2019 it reached 330 sign-ups. MTHA staff for the first time visited the Fair Hill Training Center for sign-ups to make it more convenient for those who work there.

Anyone employed in the care of horses on the backstretch in Maryland in good standing, including trainers, is eligible to participate. Employees must have worked a minimum of 1,000 hours in a year and must provide documentation—a W-2 or 1099 form, or a tax return— at the time of sign up. Participants must sign up every year.

Registration this year will be offered April 2-24 and April 27-May 1 in the Laurel Park track kitchen from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.; May 4-8 in the MTHA office in the Pimlico Race Course grandstand from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.; and May 20 in the clockers' tower at Fair Hill from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Also related to the backstretch community, the MTHA on Feb. 1 launched a recognition program for grooms called the "MTHA Best Turned Out Horse Award." The program will be in place through 2020.

Each racing day, Maryland Jockey Club racing official Jason Egan identifies the best turned out horse in two randomly selected races. The groom of the horse receives a certificate that is exchanged for a $50 Visa cash card in the MTHA grandstand office. The winners are identified by MJC track announcer Dave Rodman during the course of the racing day to highlight those responsible for the care of racehorses.

This year's Renaissance Awards program, held Feb. 11 at the Guinness Open Gate Brewery outside of Baltimore, marked a celebration of 2019 equine and human excellence but also offered a look forward. The event took place about a week after the Racing and Community Development Act of 2020 was introduced in the Maryland Senate and House of Delegates.

The legislation provides a funding mechanism for the rebuilding of Pimlico Race Course and conveyance of the property to the city of Baltimore. The Maryland Jockey Club would operate race meets, a year-round simulcast operation and "any other lawful activities" related to gambling, while the city would manage and operate the Pimlico events center and any other facilities on the property not required for horse racing.

The bill also calls for rebuilding Laurel and its stable area. The MJC would operate Laurel as it does now but it would grant an interest in the Laurel site in whole or in part to Anne Arundel County or an entity or entities designated by the county.

The Racing and Community Development Fund would provide for at least $180 million for the Pimlico project and $155 million for the Laurel project.

The plan has been called "transformational" and would provide the tools necessary for the long-term health of the racing and breeding industry. Its importance was touched up during the awards program.

"We are here tonight to celebrate Maryland racing's finest, but I think we should also take a second to recognize a truly remarkable accomplishment," MTHA President Tim Keefe said of the legislation. "It would secure the future of the next generation. It's a transformational opportunity that would modernize and rebuild all racing facilities and provide state-of-the-art stabling and racing surfaces."

Keefe also noted the importance of cooperation within the industry and the positive relationship the industry has with Maryland lawmakers and government officials. He thanked MTHA legal counsel Alan Foreman for representing the industry as part of the small group that put the proposal together last year after months of discussion, negotiation and research.

"We are at an exciting time for all phases of our industry," Maryland Horse Breeders Association President Dr. Michael Harrison said. "What's about to happen, hopefully, means Maryland will be the star. We really are fortunate because we all work together and have an effective lobbying group in Annapolis."

The legislation also includes provisions for creation of an advisory committee to oversee equine health, safety and welfare. The committee dovetails with the numerous reforms enacted in Maryland over the past year and more that will come as part of the Mid-Atlantic Strategic Plan to Reduce Equine Fatalities.

The committee would make recommendations to the Maryland Racing Commission, which would provide a summary of the committee's activities and any recommendations for changes to state law necessary for the enhancement of the health, safety or welfare of horses in racing and training at racetracks and training facilities in the state. ✹

BARRIE B. REIGHTLER

BETTY MORAN

Elizabeth "Betty" Ranney Moran—a stalwart of the Pennsylvania Thoroughbred racing and breeding for decades—passed away peacefully at home Jan. 23, at age 89.

She was predeceased by her husband, James Maxwell Moran (1989), and her son James Maxwell Moran Jr. (2008). She is survived by five children: Michael Moran, Franny Abbott, Elizabeth Legnini, Ranney Moran and Caroline Moran. "Chummy" will be missed by her 15 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Betty Moran was born on Aug. 7, 1930, in Bryn Mawr, Pa., to Claude J. and Frances Buck Ranney. In 1942, she and her father moved to "Brushwood Farm," then a dairy farm, in Willistown Township, Pa., and holidays and summers were spent in Barryville, N.Y., with her cousin, Joan and her extended Ranney family. She spent much of her free time loving farm life and animals of all kinds.

As a young girl, she lived with The Sisters of Mercy at Mater Misericordiae in Wynnewood (now Merion Mercy) with her beloved nuns, Sister Frances Marie and Sister Stella Marie, and then as a boarder at The Shipley School, where she met some of her closest friends. She loved to share stories of her pals and her athletic prowess playing first team in every sport, she was a "fierce" competitor.

She went on to attend Mary Washington College in Virginia and on a visit home met and fell in love with Max Moran at St. Patrick's Church in Malvern, as he passed the collection plate. Their lives became a whirlwind of children, animals, trips to the beach in Avalon, N.J., horse shows, fox hunting and non-stop activity that Betty thrived on and Max took in stride with a sense of humor.

Her love of horses took her from fox hunting and pony club at Radnor Hunt Club and weekend horse shows, with all of her kids in tow, to steeplechase racing and then on to a very successful flat racing career, under Brushwood Stable.

Moran won the 1984 Pennsylvania Derby-G2 with Morning Bob, a sign of things to come with Hall of Fame trainer Woody Stephens as they teamed up to capture the 1985 Belmont Stakes-G1 with Creme Fraiche, Stephens' fourth of five consecutive Belmont wins. The $160,000 yearling purchase added Grade 1 scores in the Jockey Club Gold Cup in 1986 and 1987 as part of a 17-win career that included more than $4 million in earnings. Another yearling purchase, Kicken Kris, won the Arlington Million-G1 in 2004. Mushka won the Grade 1 Spinster for Brushwood in 2009, and went on to become a part of the farm's broodmare band—producing two million-dollar yearlings.

Moran's successful record as a breeder included Grade 1 winners Hard Spun, High Yield and Unaccounted For plus two-time champion Unique Bella, European champion Russian Rhythm and others.

As a steeplechase owner, Moran reached the pinnacle when Papillon (Ire) landed England's world-famous Grand National at Aintree in 2000 for trainer, and longtime Moran friend, Ted Walsh. In the United States, Brushwood campaigned a long list of winners on the National Steeplechase Association circuit with Morris Dixon, Burley Cocks and others. Among them were Tib's Eve (Ire), who won the 1978 Tom Roby Stakes at Delaware Park, 1989 National Hunt Cup winner Tostadero (Chi) and 1984 American Grand National winner Mc Adam (Ire).

Moran chaired the Radnor Hunt Races steeplechase meet for more than 30 years, spearheading the building and reconfiguration of the Burley Cocks Memorial Race Course, enhanced sponsor participation and a long association with the Brandywine Conservancy to raise money for land preservation.

Betty had a competitive edge that she shared with her "Pigeons", a group of fiercely competitive, fun-loving women who spent hours competing at backgammon, bridge and rummykub and any other game they could work up, with or without rules. The collective children of these women watched in awe of friendships that were steadfast. "Pidge", as her friends called her, had a passion for travel and a thirst for adventure, which took her around the world, but her favorite places to visit were "out west" or Maine with family and good friends.

Betty Moran was passionate about things that moved her, and she was committed to supporting her community in a way that made a direct impact on people and how they lived, particularly in Chester County. Thorncroft, Home of The Sparrow, Chester County Boy Scouts, The Barn at Spring Brook Farm, Community Volunteers in Medicine, The Chester County Food Bank and many other remarkable organizations were the beneficiary of her time and her contributions.

NICHOLAS SAPONARA

Nicholas J. Saponara, 80, of Bensalem, Pa., passed away Dec. 7. A member of the Harness Racing Hall of Fame, and a past president of the U.S. Harness Writers Association, an organization to which he belonged for 57 years, Saponara also owned Thoroughbreds, having claimed his first runner in 2006, and was a member of the Pennsylvania Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association board of directors.

He raced under the name Club Risque Stable, and campaigned such runners as $459,629-earner Isabella Swift and stakes-placed $418,618-earner Risque's Diamond. In September 2019, Parx Racing and the PTHA inducted him into their Hall of Fame, noting that the two-term PTHA Board Member "brings to the table an extensive resume: writer, handicapper, odds maker, horse owner, teacher."

Saponara was a contributor to Tom Ainslie's Complete Guide to Harness Racing, taught courses on handicapping at the University of Pennsylvania, and at one time was responsible for the official morning lines at Brandywine, Liberty Bell, Atlantic City Harness, along with the Keystone Thoroughbred race track.

BUCK THORNBURG

Jockey Buck Thornburg, whose career spanned four decades—his first win came in July 1950 and his final win at Philadelphia Park Oct. 15, 1989—died in late December at age 86. Born in Muncie, Ind., in 1933, Thornburg spent the majority of his career in the Mid-Atlantic region. He is perhaps best known as the rider of Plugged Nickle, whom he piloted to victories in the 1980 Florida Derby-G1 and Wood Memorial-G1. He picked up the mount the previous fall when trainer

In Memoriam

Tommy Kelly shipped to Pimlico for the Laurel Futurity-G1 and needed a rider. Thornburg had ridden for Kelly before, got the ride and won the Futurity, as well as four of their next six starts. In addition to the Grade 1s, they added Aqueduct's Remsen Stakes-G2 and Gulfstream Park's Hutcheson. Thornburg's last ride on Plugged Nickle came in the Kentucky Derby-G1, in which they finished seventh as one of the favorites.

Thornburg was the regular rider of top handicap mare Old Hat in the summer of 1964, guiding her through six of her 16 starts that championship year, and getting his first win in a $100,000 race when bringing her home in the Delaware Handicap, Counted among other graded wins in the region were the Grade 1 Sapling with Buckland Farm's homebred Full Out in 1975; Luminaire in the 1983 Matchmaker Stakes-G2; Willowy Mood in the 1986 Barbara Fritchie Handicap-G3; and Land of Believe in the 1986 Trenton Handicap-G3. He rode Juanita to victory in the 1965 Delaware Oaks, and won two runnings of Monmouth's Oceanport Stakes, with Quite an Accent in 1968 and North Course in 1980. For legendary Monmouth trainer Danny Perlsweig he scored a victory in the Salvator Mile-G3 aboard Mongongo.

Thornburg was Atlantic City's leading rider four consecutive years, from 1976-79. His final stakes win came in Garden State's Woodbury Stakes March 18, 1989, with Faultless Ensign, owned by Ben Perkins Sr. and trained by Perkins Jr.

When Thornburg hung up his tack at Meadowlands Nov. 8, 1989, aboard the maiden Hasty Deuce, who finished fifth, he was 56. He rode in 27,258 races, won 3,433 (126th all time) and his mounts earned $22,876,221.

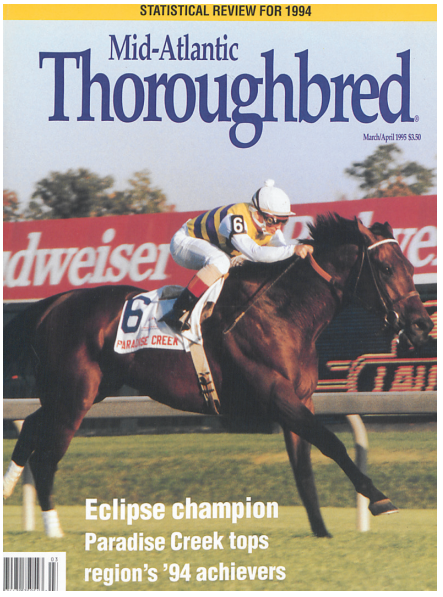
Looking Back



25 years ago

■ The accolades of Mid-Atlantic-breds were plentiful, as Virginia-bred Paradise Creek won champion grass horse at the 1994 Eclipse Awards and 1994 champion older male in Globeform, the international formbook that listed the top horses in England, Ireland, France, Germany, Italy and North America. Eclipse Awards runners-up from the region included Pennsylvania-bred Tikannen (Globeform's champion middle-distance runner, for turf); Afternoon Deelites (West Virginia) for 2-year-old male; Concern (Maryland) for 3-year-old male; and Colonial Affair (Virginia) for older male.

■ Bowie race track, serving as a training track for the nearly 600 Thoroughbreds year-round, remained hidden amid a pine forest as a slowly decaying relic of another era, noted writer Bill Mooney as he made a visit and recalled its history. Bowie hadn't conducted a race card since July 13, 1985, when the track's finale drew a crowd of 12,012 that wagered $1,715,598, all on-site. Bowie had operated for 72 years as a racetrack, and was most known for its winter race meets. "Only the inordinately possessed fan of racing," wrote Haywood Hale Broun, "would venture out to Bowie on a winter afternoon."

■ Afternoon Deelites was the standout among a strong group of rising 3-year-olds representing the Mid-Atlantic. The finale of his 2-year-old campaign was a victory in the Hollywood Futurity-G1, leaving him undefeated in three starts, two of which were graded stakes.

■ Win Man embodied the spirit of his name for owners Ray and Betsy Gambone as he won 11 times in 16 tries as a 9-year-old, establishing himself as the leading Mid-Atlantic-bred by wins in 1994. In his final race of the season, a 1½-mile starter handicap in the slop at Philadelphia Park, Win Man won by 18 lengths as he carried 127 pounds–20 more than the 3-year-old runner-up. It was his 161st career start.

Win Man retired in December 1995 with 48 wins, 38 seconds and 23 thirds from 178 starts and earnings of $416,316.

■ The Mid-Atlantic Statistical Review for 1994 included each state's top earner of the year–Virginia (Paradise Creek, $2,611,547); Maryland (Concern, $2,541,670); Pennsylvania (Tikkanen, $1,504,226); West Virginia (Soul of the Matter, $823,768) and New Jersey (Classy Mirage, $298,307).

West Virginia-bred Afternoon Deelites (with Kent Desormeaux) was part of a strong 3-year-old class in 1995.

■ Cassie Red, a Maryland-bred colt claimed for $8,000 in January, won Gulfstream Park's Hutcheson Stakes less than two months later to throw his name into the ring as a possible classic contender. He was foaled at Kennersley Stud in Church Hill (near Chestertown), where his sire Outgiving, a son of Better Self, had stood. Dave Seaman, co-owner of Kennersley Stud, thought he had sold the colt's dam Cassie Blue at the Maryland Fall Sale while carrying Cassie Red, but buyer Mrs. T.A. Randolph found out the mare was a cribber and asked the farm to take her back. Seaman offered her to New York businessmen and first-time mare owners Benjamin Kalkstein, Murray Pergament and William Keisler and they bred Cassie Red in the name of their Kings Point Stable.

Marshall Jenney had initially purchased the mare on Randolph's behalf. Snowden Carter noted in his editorial: "Despite his youth, 30-year-old Marshall Jenney is a veteran horseman. When asked if he remembered being involved with the purchase of Cassie Blue, he asked, 'Why? . . Did she come up with the winner of a big stakes race or something?. . . Do you think they'll sell the mare now?' "

Cassie Red, the first foal out of Cassie Blue, went on to finish third in the Florida Derby and won three stakes the next year. The businessmen eventually sold Cassie Blue to Sidney Watters, who bred her to Hoist the Flag three times–the results were all stakes performers.

■ Veterinarian and horsewoman Cherry Hooper Comyn said it would be business as usual at Ballinderry Farm in Chesapeake City after the sudden death of her husband Fred Comyn at the age of 43. The mother of two young children had a busy veterinary practice and a farm full of horses, offering breeding, a half-mile training track, indoor jogging track and 58 horse stalls. She noted "I expect to keep the farm just the way Fred planned it. We have really top help on the farm and everybody knows what his job is." Michael Erlanger's stakes winner Rock Talk was standing his first season at the farm and was booked full.

■ Conditions were announced in London for America's new international steeplechase, the Colonial Cup, to be run in Camden, S.C. Horses would be invited from many parts of the world to take part in the $100,000 race. Travel expenses would be paid for the horse, groom, jockey and trainer of horses specifically invited by the Colonial Cup committee, said race coordinator and general manager Raymond G. Woolfe. The race was to be run over a new course still under construction.

■ Pennsylvania-bred Mixed Up earned the Eclipse Award as the nation's top steeplechaser, becoming Maryland sire Carnivalay's first champion. In his 10-year-old season, Mixed Up won two Grade 1 stakes, the A.P. Smithwick Memorial and Colonial Cup, and led all jumpers in earnings. Co-bred by his owner William L. Pape and trainer Jonathan E. Sheppard, Mixed Up could alternately "delight and madden" his connections with his antics. It was the 11th steeplechase Eclipse Award for a Sheppard-trained runner.

■ After a decade of huge numbers–4,130 races won (and more than 17,775 starts), trainer Scott Lake's operation was taking on a new look. Ranked sixth on the all-time wins list, just behind Steve Asmussen, Lake had peaked with 287 horses in training in 2007. The 44-year-old's operation was more manageable with 70 horses at two tracks: Philadelphia Park and Delaware Park. He reflected on the changes with writer Sean Clancy: "You're just doing your job. Then the next thing you know, it grows into this mind-boggling thing."

Lake won 1,282 races over the next 10 years and became the sixth trainer with 6,000 wins, reaching the milestone last April at Parx with first-time starter I'm the Talent.

■ Richard's Kid was named Maryland-bred Horse of the Year, the sixth time a horse bred by Robert E. Meyerhoff was awarded the highest honor (following two-time winner Broad Brush, Valley Crossing, Concern and Include). The top Maryland-bred earner of 2009, Richard's Kid amassed $732,840 in a year highlighted by a Pacific Classic-G1 win.

The previous two Maryland-bred Horses of the Year added to their laurels: Heros Reward (2007), earned his seventh state-bred title when named champion turf runner for a third year in a row; and Good Night Shirt (2008) was champion steeplechaser for a fourth time.

Also earning a championship was For Royalty, a daughter of Not For Love and Taft Lil Queen bred by Charles and Cynthia McGinnes. She was the fourth juvenile state-bred champion for the couple in the 2000s, joining fillies Touch Love and Ask the Moon, and half-brother El Viento.

■ Edward Evans' Virginia homebred Quality Road kicked off his 4-year-old season by pushing his career earnings over the $1 million mark with two wins at Gulfstream–the Grade 3 Hal's Hope in January and Grade 1 Donn in February, the latter in track record time.

■ Hal C.B. Clagett, a distinguished member of Maryland's Thoroughbred industry for nearly 60 years, and three-term president of the Maryland Horse Breeders Assocation, died at age 93. His most enduring contribution to the state's industry was his role in authoring the legislation that created the Maryland-bred Fund in 1962, the first breeding incentive program of its kind in the nation. Clagett also bred and raised five Maryland-bred champions, including millionaire Little Bold John.

■ Not For Love, standing at Northview Stallion Station in Chesapeake City, Md., continued his reign as the leading sire outside of Kentucky for the seventh year in a row. Topping $6 million in progeny earnings for the second consecutive season, Not For Love was represented by 214 starters, 125 winners, 16 stakes winners, and the earners of $6,117,580.

■ Havre de Grace was undergoing changes and improvements "which should make the layout much more attractive to its patrons when the sport is resumed." Improvements to the track, idle the past two years, "eliminates all doubts concerning the future of the track," wrote Don Reed. "There had been many who, believing that Havre de Grace faced very stern opposition in New Jersey after the war, were fearful that the famed course might never operate again." The track built by Edward Burke opened in 1912.

■ G. Ray Bryson sold Elberton Hill Farm, the 150-acre Harford County, Maryland, property, to Major Albert Warner of California's Warner Bros. studio. Warner's trainer A.G. "Bob" Robertson was to use the farm in connection with the owner's East Coast racing operation Warbern Stable. It was reported that Bryson and Robertson, between them, will continue to manage the establishment.

Historic Havre de Grace Racetrack was getting a facelift in 1945.

■ Among the year's early Maryland-bred foals were a Feb. 14 Whirlaway filly out of Imperatrice bred by W.H. LaBoyteaux and foaled at Stadacona Farm, and a *Challenger II filly out of Gallette foaled Feb. 9 at breeder William L. Brann's Glade Valley Farm.

*The Gallette filly named Gallita wasn't as good a racehorse as Imperatrice's daughter, eventual Coaching Club American Oaks winner Scattered, but became a phenomenal producer. When bred to Nasrullah, she produced 1957 2-year-old champion Nadir as well as the influential broodmare Gal I Love. Descendants include champion Wonder Gadot and her Grade 1-winning half-sister Hard Not to Love.

HAVE A BARN? GOT MICE? Contact BARCS Barn Cat Program. BARCS is the largest animal shelter in MD, taking in 12,000 animals annually and we periodically receive cats that are not well-socialized or have other issues that make them poor candidates as indoor pets. We want them to live full lives. YOU: must complete an adoption application; supply the barn and agree to provide food, water, basic vet care. For 2 weeks cats must be confined in crates (from BARCS if needed) so they can learn you are their food source and adjust to the sights/sounds/smells of their new home. WE: supply fixed and vaccinated cats and guidance. No adoption fee for barn cats! Save a life – e-mail foster@baltimoreanimalshelter.org, catfoster4barcs@outlook.com or call (410) 396-4695.

ACROSTIC

By Vinnie Perrone

Waiting for the blacksmith, the vet, post time for your horse's race? Maybe you just have a little time on your hands. Regardless, try this acrostic puzzle, created by writer (and word puzzler) Vinnie Perrone. Not quite a crossword puzzle, a little more than Sudoku, an acrostic tests your knowledge of racing and other trivia. When you're done, the puzzle reveals a quote from the Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred archives and the speaker's name/topic. Solution provided next month.

HOW TO SOLVE: Define clues in Words column. Transfer letters to diagram. Quotation reads across; first letters of Words column, vertically, form acrostic of speaker's name and topic. NOTE: The puzzle contains no punctuation.

Mid-Atlantic 2019 Statistical Review

— The Numbers Game —

There are two main camps when it comes to statistics. One believes they are valuable tools when trying to compare or evaluate performances. The other embraces the phrase "Lies, damned lies and statistics" that means numbers bolster weak arguments or prove points that may not be totally accurate in the big picture.

Regardless of where you sit, statistics in the sports world are vital. In Thoroughbred breeding, not only can they be used to quantify quality or show trends, they can be quite enlightening.

For more than 25 years, Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred has provided a bounty of statistics for readers to pour over. Each year, this edition includes an alphabetical listing of state-bred stakes winners, breeding statistics from The Jockey Club on the number of mares bred by local stallions, the number of stakes horses by local stallions, and more.

Want to see a list of New Jersey-bred millionaires? Turn to page 145. Or find West Virginia's leading sire by total number of stakes winners for the year? See page 197. How many mares were bred to Pennsylvania stallions the past 15 years? Go to page 169. Who was the leading earner among Maryland-breds last season? Page 129. How many Virginia-bred stakes winners per year since 2005? Kindly turn to page 185.

Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred uses a variety of sources to compile this trove. Each state's breeders' association provides background on its organization and its programs, and when available, statistics on the individual state fund program.

The Jockey Club annually supplies breeding statistics for each state. Found in the shaded boxes throughout the state's statistical section are charts showing numbers of mares bred, foals born in the state, total earnings by state-bred runners, along with a running history of those numbers.

The Jockey Club recently added the same information to its State Fact Books section on its website. But Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred provides numbers going back for more than a decade. The Jockey Club also provides an annual Report of Mares Bred/Live Foal Report for all stallions in its database on a state-by-state basis.

Mid-Atlantic-bred stakes horses are highlighted, and stakes winners have brief bios, which include a pedigree line, the breeder, plus the owner and trainer at the time the runner last won a stakes, in addition to a listing of all the stakes performances for the year.

Leading state-bred runners for the year—by earnings and wins—are found within these pages, as is an alphabetical listing of the breeders of state-bred stakes winners.

Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred utilizes The Jockey Club Information System's database for state-bred runners lists and stallion progeny figures. TJCIS includes all statistic information from the Northern and Southern Hemispheres, the most comprehensive numbers available. Thus TJCIS's lists of leading earners produced for each state takes into account horses who never started in the U.S. or Europe.

And stallions with runners in Southern Hemisphere countries have those figures added to year-end totals (including newly-turned 2-year-olds in South America, Australia and New Zealand who are just launching their careers in November and December).

Statistics in these pages can be used as the reader sees fit. Follow breeding trends, recap a runner's season, find out how much a state breeders' fund paid out, get the track record for a stallion.

If Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred helps you settle an argument with a statistical non-believer, you're welcome. With the rise of the electronic age, more information can be found on the internet. But these pages give a comprehensive overview of the previous season, in one spot. Pick it up, turn to a page, explore, get lost in the numbers.

If nothing else, realize that the annual statistical section proves one thing—there is a rich and bountiful industry in this region that should never be overlooked.

And now you've got the numbers to prove it.

The Delaware Certified Thoroughbred Program (DCTP)

1) Proactively supports the economic development intent of the Horse Racing Redevelopment Act of 1994.

2) Provides a purse enhancement incentive for horsemen at Delaware Park who certify or own Delaware Certified Thoroughbred horses.

3) Increases the number of horses in each race.

4) Contributes to the long-term economic prosperity of Delaware agriculture and encourages preservation of Delaware farm land.

Certified Program

50% Purse Bonus for 2020 Race Meet paid through 5th place (25% bonus to Owner and 25% to Certifier)

- Delaware Certified horses may enter in all maiden claiming events of $25,000 and up for the Waiver Claim
- Four Delaware Certified restricted stakes are run each year with purses of $100,000 and free nominations
- DTHA Governors' Day and George Rosenberger Memorial Stakes have been granted a purse supplement of $50,000 for Delaware Certified eligible horses that run first through fifth (purse total will be $125,000 for DCTP horses)
- Any DCTP horse that finishes first through fifth in an Open Stakes at Delaware Park can earn bonuses up to $10,000.

Stakes program

Every fall the DCTP runs four restricted stakes races for Delaware-bred or Certified runners with $100,000 purses. The Small Wonder and First State Dash are both 2-year-old restricted races run at 5½ furlongs. The Tax Free Shopping Distaff and New Castle are for 3 and up at 6 furlongs. All four races have free nominations.

Funding and administering the program

The DTHA has approved a contribution of up to $500,000 per year for the DCTP from the horsemen's purse account beginning in 2003. Another $250,000 has been allocated from the state of Delaware and $250,000 is contributed by Delaware Park to match DTHA's contribution.

The fund is administered by the DTHA. Bonuses are paid directly to the owner via their horsemen's bookkeeper account and certifiers bonuses are paid monthly.

For more information about the DCTP, visit www.dtha.com. Click on the DCTP link to download an application or to find a list of participating Delaware farms. From the website you can also check to see if a horse of racing age is Delaware Certified.

The DCTP is also on Facebook and Twitter. Like us at Friends of Delaware Horse Racing and follow us at twitter @dtha_bessie or @moscarellidctp.

Delaware Certified Thoroughbred Program celebrates participants in September

Annual awards and four $100,000 stakes for horses eligible for the Delaware Certified Thoroughbred Program were among the highlight's of Owners' Day at Delaware Park Sept. 28.

Call Paul and his year-younger half-sister Pink Caddy, bred in Pennsylvania by Beatrice Patterson and Vicky Schowe out of the Forestry mare Avani Force and certified at Rockland Farm in Rockland, were both winners as odds-on favorites. Call Paul, recognized as a multiple stakes winner in 2018, had a better year in 2019 with three stakes wins, his third coming in the New Castle Stakes, for owners Michael Dubb, David Simon and Bethlehem Stables LLC. The Jason Servis trained son of Friesan Fire shot to the lead in the 6-furlong stakes and drove home a 3-length winner with a final time of 1:09.38 as the 1-10 favorite and only 3-year-old in the four-horse field.

Pink Caddy, a daughter of El Padrino racing for Club Risque Stable and Gregory K. Quick and trained by Randy Allen, got her first stakes win in the Small Wonder Stakes at 5½ furlongs for 2-year-old fillies by stalking the leaders, grabbing the lead heading into the stretch and drawing off under little urging to win by 6¾ lengths.

For the second year in a row Shimmering Aspen waltzed home in the Tax Free Shopping Distaff. Sent off at shorter odds than in 2018, the 3-10 favorite bided her time early, took over past the eighth-pole and won by 1½ lengths. The daughter of Malibu Moon was certified by breeder CandyLand Farm, Nancy Terhune and Ernest Frohboese at CandyLand Farm in Middletown, and campaigned her entire career by Ellen Charles' Hillwood Stable and trainer Rodney Jenkins. She ended her career on a high note as she was retired after the race to join the Hillwood Stable broodmare band.

Favorites came through in all four stakes as Golden Candy, the 9-10 choice in the field of five 2-year-olds going 5½ furlongs, captured the First State Dash Stakes by 4 lengths. A Pennsylvania homebred for A. Delaperriere Stables LLC, the Goldencents colt trained by Anthony Pecoraro was certifed at Cedar Lane Farm in Smyrna.

Awards presented for 2018

The Delaware Certified program also presented their annual awards throughout the day. A trophy was awarded to the certifier of the horse with the highest Delaware Certified earnings at Delaware Park for the 2018 race meet. Here are the results of the individual categories:

Leading certified horse and leading 2-year-old filly: START THE SHOW, certified by Blackstone Street Racing (Michael Azer) at Marydel Farm, Middletown.

Leading 2-year-old colt or gelding: CALADAN, certified by Philip DiCosmo at Alpha Omega Farm, Townsend.

Leading 3-year-old filly: BUFF'S IN LOVE, certified by John Worsley at Marydel Farm, Middletown.

Leading 3-year-old colt or gelding: NICO BREE N TEEJ, certified by MCA Racing (Claudio A. Gonzalez) at Marlyn Meadow, Middletown.

Leading 4-year-old and up, filly or mare: SHIMMERING ASPEN, certified by CandyLand and Nancy Terhune at CandyLand, Middletown.

Leading 4-year-old and up, colt or gelding: JEEZUM JIM, certified by Harry J. Loso at Marlyn Meadow, Middletown.

Leading Certifier

BLACKSTONE STREET RACING LLC: Certifier of Start the Show and two other starters for DCTP bonuses of $31,017.50.

DCTP Open Stakes

MARYLAND HORSE BREEDERS ASSOCIATION
Since 1929

Maryland Horse Breeders Association

The Maryland Horse Breeders Association (MHBA) has been the leading horse industry advocate in the state since its founding in 1929. It functions as an informational resource for horse breeders and owners, for the media, for national, community and governmental organizations and for the general public.

As a service organization, the MHBA provides industry information, educational opportunities and legislative representation to its membership, who include breeders, owners, trainers and horse enthusiasts of all kinds. The MHBA publishes a weekly e-mail bulletin and a monthly newsletter, Maryland Horse, as well as Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred magazine.

In addition, the MHBA maintains several websites: Maryland Thoroughbred.com, a resource for news and information on Maryland breeding and racing; MidAtlanticTB.com, which carries regional news, information on the magazine, and access to the digital edition of Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred; marylandmillion.com for news and events about Maryland's Day at the Races; and mdthoroughbredhalloffame.com which showcases full biographies of the Maryland-bred Hall of Fame horses.

The MHBA helped innovate, and now administers, several state-oriented incentive programs. Both the Maryland-Bred Race Fund, created by statute in 1962 for Thoroughbreds foaled in Maryland, and the Maryland Million, chartered in 1985 for Thoroughbreds conceived in Maryland, were the first programs of their kind anywhere in the U.S. ✹

The Maryland Fund: Maryland-bred awards

The Maryland Fund was created by the General Assembly in 1962. Maryland was the first state to develop a legislated incentive program to encourage the improvement of Thoroughbred breeding and racing.

In Maryland, there are six categories through which monies for Maryland-breds are made available: 1) purse money for races for registered Maryland-breds; 2) awards for owners of registered Maryland-breds finishing first, second or third; 3) awards for breeders of registered Maryland-breds finishing first, second or third; 4) awards for stallions who sire registered Maryland-breds finishing first, second or third; and 5) bonus awards for the highest-earning 2 and 3-year-olds shown at the annual MHBA yearling show and 6) an allocation for purses/bonuses for Maryland-sired horses.

Currently, the Maryland Fund receives slightly less than 1 percent of the total mutuel handle and breakage from Laurel and Pimlico (the state's two major tracks), and receives approximately 1.5 percent of the mutuel handle and 5.0 percent of the breakage at Timonium (the state's only minor track).

Owner awards are paid by the purse account to the owners of all registered Maryland-breds when they finish first, second or third in any race other than stakes, paid at 30 percent of the horse's share of the purse.

Breeder and stallion awards are paid for the registered Maryland-bred who finishes first, second or third in any race in Maryland. Breeder awards are 30 percent of a horse's share of the purse; stallion awards are 10 percent. In stakes races the award is based on the first $100,000 of the gross purse.

In order to earn a breeder award, the horse must be registered as a Maryland-bred. In order to earn a stallion award, the horse must be registered as a Maryland-bred, and the sire must be registered with the MHBA, in addition to having been standing in Maryland at the time the horse was conceived.

The Maryland Fund program is administered by the Maryland Racing Commission with the assistance and advice of the Maryland Fund Advisory Committee chaired by David Hayden, a member of the Maryland Racing Commission. Under the direction of the commission, the actual implementation of the fund, including maintaining the Maryland-bred registry and computing and distributing all bonus awards, is performed by the MHBA.

Breeder and stallion award percentages are evaluated on a bi-annual basis on the advice of the Maryland Fund Advisory Committee. Owner award percentages are determined by a separate agreement. (For Maryland Million day, breeder and stallion award percentages are determined annually.) Awards are paid as soon as practical.

The stakes program is planned on a meet by meet basis and is based on projected track handles for the coming year. ✹

Final totals shown are subject to change following annual audit. Awards net to recipients after MHBA service charges were deducted. Not listed in chart is the allocation to the MHBA's yearling show—$20,000 through 1990; $25,000 from 1991 through 1999; $40,000 from 2000 through 2019. The owner award program was created in 1982 and began with the Pimlico program of March 13. It replaced a program of restricted Maryland-bred races which was begun in 1962. Commencing with Pimlico's 1986 summer meet, a percentage of Fund monies have been allocated to purses for Maryland Million Day. Breeder and stallion bonuses are paid as soon as practical, with the exact percentages for bonus calculations being evaluated bi-annually by the Maryland Racing Commission (Maryland Million Day is calculated separately). Starting in February 2015, owner awards were paid by the purse account. The owner award figures for 2015 and 2016 are incomplete.*

Maryland-bred runners and stakes horses of 2019

This list represents all 2019 starters with earnings of $20,000 or more and all stakes horses in countries reported to The Jockey Club Information Systems. Final state statistics at end are the total for all state-bred runners. Stakes horses are indicated in bold type—winners in upper case letters, placed horses in upper and lower case. Foreign runners' records are calculated from all available sources, however may be incomplete.

Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey

The Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey is an organization dedicated to fostering and promoting the breeding and ownership of Thoroughbred horses in the state of New Jersey. Active since 1945, the association's primary role is to administer a New Jersey-bred incentive program for breeders, stallion owners and racehorse owners.

Benefits to members include a subscription to Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred, discounted member rates for foal registrations, access to online pedigree reports and manufacturer's discounts for farm equipment through NTRA Advantage and Equine Equipment.

The association also maintains a close alliance with the New Jersey Racing Commission, the New Jersey Department of Agriculture and the Equine Advisory Board, as well as the New Jersey Horse Council. ✹

New Jersey Breeders' Program

Requirements for eligibility to the New Jersey Breeders' Program:

(a) In order to be eligible to enter and start in races exclusively for New Jersey bred foals, each New Jersey bred foal must be registered with the Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey (TBANJ).

(b) To qualify for such registration, the said horse must have been foaled in the State of New Jersey by a resident New Jersey mare or a non-resident New Jersey mare.

(c) A resident New Jersey mare is a mare that resides in New Jersey continuously from Nov. 1 of the year prior to the foaling through the date of foaling. A mare purchased at public auction subsequent to Oct. 17 of the year prior to foaling, is considered a resident New Jersey mare provided that she commences residence in New Jersey within two weeks of her purchase and continuously resides in New Jersey through the date of foaling. For the purpose of this paragraph, public auction is defined as an auction generally regarded as a public auction in the Thoroughbred horse industry and recognized as same by the TBANJ.

2. A non-resident New Jersey mare is a mare that has not returned to New Jersey by Nov. 1 of the year prior to foaling. The resulting foal can still be registered as a New Jersey-bred provided the mare is bred to a registered New Jersey stallion the season of the birth of said foal and remain in New Jersey for a continuous period of 90 days after foaling.

3. A "New Jersey stallion" is a stallion resident and standing in the State of New Jersey the full breeding season, commonly understood to be the period from Feb. 1 through July 1 of the subject year. If a stallion is brought into New Jersey subsequent to the start of the breeding season, he may be approved as a "New Jersey stallion" by the New Jersey Racing Commission upon recommendation of the Board of Trustees of the TBANJ provided that he stands and is a resident in New Jersey for the remainder of the breeding season. For those stallions brought into New Jersey subsequent to the commencement of the breeding season, approval by the TBANJ as a "New Jersey stallion" is only for the period from the date of approval through the end of the breeding season. All "New Jersey stallions" must be registered with the TBANJ and all appropriate fees paid prior to Feb. 1 of the breeding season or, in the case of a stallion entering the State subsequent to the start of the breeding season, prior to serving the first mare. Failure to meet the above criteria solely by reason of death of the stallion does not disqualify said stallion as a "New Jersey stallion."

Breeders qualify for awards when the owner of a mare registers the foal with the TBANJ. The breeder will receive a percentage based on what that foal earns when finishing first through third at a New Jersey track in both open and restricted New Jersey-bred races.

In any calendar year in which there is a surplus of funds, the surplus may be used to provide awards to breeders of registered New Jersey-bred horses who earn portions of purses in races at an out-of-state racetrack held at least 30 days before the start of the first Thoroughbred meet of the calendar year of more than 10 days duration at a racetrack in New Jersey or at least 30 days following the conclusion of the last Thoroughbred meet of the calendar year of more than 10 days duration at a racetrack in New Jersey.

Award percentages for breeders – 35 percent* is paid if the foal is by a registered New Jersey stallion; 25 percent* if the foal is by a stallion standing in a state other than New Jersey.

In order for stallion owners to qualify for awards, the owner must register the stallion annually with the TBANJ. Stallion owners will receive an award equal to 10 percent* of what all foals by said stallion earn when finishing first through third at a New Jersey track in both open and restricted New Jersey-bred races.

Owners of New Jersey-bred horses will receive an award equal to 10 percent* when their New Jersey-bred horse finishes first through third at a New Jersey track in open races. ✹

There is a $5,000 maximum for first and $3,000 for second and third on each award in each race. Total awards are based on funds generated annually.*

2019 New Jersey sires

Statistics compiled by The Jockey Club Information Systems for stallions who currently stand or concluded their careers in the state and are represented by earnings of $1,000 or more in 2019. Statistics are for racing through December 31, 2019, and include foreign results for all Northern and Southern Hemisphere countries as reported to TJCIS. †Indicates stallion represented by first crop to race. Explanation for abbreviations: Foals—total registered foals; Strs.—starters; Sts.—starts; Wnrs.—winners; %—percentage of winners from starters; SW—stakes winners.

Established in late 1979 by a small but dedicated group of Thoroughbred owners and breeders, the North Carolina Thoroughbred Association is a nonprofit, all-volunteer organization governed by an elected board of directors and officers.

The mission statement of the North Carolina Thoroughbred Association reads as follows:

• To promote the Thoroughbred industry in North Carolina;

• To provide educational opportunity to its members in all aspects of the industry;

• To provide its members with the opportunity to develop working relationships, and to meet as friends and colleagues, thereby encouraging excellence and outstanding achievements of members.

2019 North Carolina sires

Statistics compiled by The Jockey Club Information Systems for stallions who currently stand or concluded their careers in the state and are represented by earnings of $1,000 or more in 2019. Statistics are for racing through December 31, 2019, and include foreign results for all Northern and Southern Hemisphere countries as reported to TJCIS. †Indicates stallion represented by first crop to race. Explanation for abbreviations: Foals—total registered foals; Strs.—starters; Sts.—starts; Wnrs.—winners; %—percentage of winners from starters; SW—stakes winners.

PENNSYLVANIA HORSE BREEDERS ASSOCIATION

Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association (PHBA), a not-for-profit organization founded in 1948, has as its main priority protection of Pennsylvania's Thoroughbred breeding and racing industries. These industries are important agricultural institutions that play significant roles in the state's economy, generating tremendous tax revenues for the state and making substantial contributions to the state's economy in general, while helping to sustain Pennsylvania's rural character.

Working with other industry leaders over the years, PHBA has attained several goals that have had far-reaching benefits. One such goal was the establishment of the Pennsylvania Breeding Fund, which became a reality in 1974. The fund program, administered by PHBA, has evolved into one of the country's most lucrative incentive programs. ✹

Pennsylvania Breeding Fund

Pennsylvania's Breeding Fund program distributes more money, on a per foal basis, than nearly every other state-bred program now in operation. Established in 1974, the Pennsylvania Breeding Fund has grown from a disbursement of $65,000 in its initial year of operation to an average of $30 million in the last eight years.

Thoroughbred breeding and racing is a high-risk enterprise, but for breeders of PA-Breds, owners of stallions standing in this state, and owners of PA-Breds racing at PARX Racing, Penn National and Presque Isle Downs, the added rewards can be one factor that makes for a winning stable.

The Pennsylvania Breeding Fund is financed by percentages of the state's racing fund, after expenses, and slot revenues. It provides for individual award payments (breeder and stallion awards), overnight races for PA-Breds, purse bonus supplements, PA-Bred stakes races, and reimbursement of expenses incurred by the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association (PHBA) in its role as program administrator.

While benefitting owners and breeders with its incentive awards, the Fund serves a wider purpose, helping to support live racing at PARX Racing, Penn National and Presque Isle Downs. By making it worthwhile for owners to race PA-Breds in their native state, the Breeding Fund program channels a steady supply of competitive runners to the Pennsylvania tracks, and makes it less likely that our homegrown product will be lured to competing race tracks within the region.

Pennsylvania's breeding and racing industry contributes approximately $1.6 billion annually to the state's economy, so it is clear that the state has a vested interest in supporting these activities.

By law, PHBA is responsible for administering the Breeding Fund program for the State Horse Racing Commission, and maintaining an up-to-date registry of PA-Breds and Pennsylvania stallions.

A Thoroughbred foal born in the state of Pennsylvania and registered as such with The Jockey Club is eligible for Pennsylvania-bred registration with the PHBA if one of the following conditions is met:

1) The dam of the foal resided continuously in Pennsylvania since Dec. 1 of the year of conception through foaling. Mares not being bred back will fall under this category.
2) The dam of the foal was purchased at a public sale after Dec. 1 of the year of conception and brought into Pennsylvania within 14 days of the date of purchase (60 days if outside the U.S.) and remained continuously through foaling. During the year of foaling, the foal or its dam spent at least ninety (90) days in the state. Private transactions are not eligible for domicile waiver.
3) The dam of the foal arrived after Dec. 1 of the year of conception, foaled in Pennsylvania and was bred back to a registered PA stallion standing in Pennsylvania and the dam of the foal resided sixty (60) consecutive days during which foaling occurred.

There are two distinctions when registering a PA-Bred foal: those sired by registered Pennsylvania stallions and those sired by non-registered stallions.

PA-Breds have preferred starter status within the conditions in most non-restricted overnight races. The preference is claimed by trainers at the time of entry.

RACING INCENTIVES

• Owner bonus of up to 40 percent of purse earned for first, second and third-place finishes on all unrestricted overnight races.

• More than 400 restricted races and 23 restricted stakes offered each year. PA-Sired horses run for 25 percent additional in all PA-Bred stakes races, unless the stakes is for PA-Sired PA-Breds.

BREEDING INCENTIVES

• Breeder awards of 50 percent for first, second and third-place purses earned for registered PA-Sired PA-Breds for all PA maiden classes (40 percent in all other PA races); 25 percent for first, second and third-place purses earned for registered non-PA-Sired PA-Breds for all PA maiden classes (20 percent for all other PA races).

• Stallion awards of 10 percent paid to the owner of a registered Pennsylvania stallion for purses earned by registered Pennsylvania-Breds in all races at Pennsylvania tracks. ✹

South Carolina Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association

The mission of the South Carolina Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association (SCTOBA) is to promote the Thoroughbred horse industry in the state and throughout the region.

The SCTOBA works to create awareness of the tremendous economic impact the Thoroughbred horse industry has in the state. The organization is a blend of members who have interest in the various aspects of the Thoroughbred business—breeding, training and racing.

The organization reaches out to partner with sister organizations such as the Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation of South Carolina and other regional state associations. In doing so, the SCTOBA looks to provide leadership and solutions to the challenges presented by the Thoroughbred business.

Our farms and training centers represent our state across the country with graduates continuously winning stakes events. ✹

Virginia Thoroughbred Association

The Virginia Thoroughbred Association (VTA) was organized in 1942 to cultivate further development of the Commonwealth's heritage as a producer of quality Thoroughbred horses.

With the passage of parimutuel racing legislation, the VTA has vastly expanded the scope of its operations, both to assist in developing rules under which a parimutuel breeders' fund is administered by the Virginia Racing Commission, and to address the opportunities racing holds forth to strengthen and enhance Virginia's standing as one of the world's important centers for Thoroughbred nurseries.

Above all, the VTA is a service organization whose main goal is to assist members in achieving success with Thoroughbreds. ✹

Virginia Breeders' Fund

Rules for registering with the Virginia Breeders' Fund:

A Virginia-bred horse is a Thoroughbred horse registered by The Jockey Club, foaled in Virginia and registered with the Virginia Thoroughbred Association. A breeders award is earned when a registered Virginia-bred wins a race at a sanctioned meet in North America. Virginia-breds are eligible for Virginia restricted races.

A Virginia-sired horse is a horse registered with the Jockey Club, conceived in Virginia and sired by a stallion registered with the Virginia Thoroughbred Association (VTA). Breeders of Virginia-sired horses are not eligible for Virginia Breeders' awards. Virginia-sired horses are eligible for all Virginia restricted races.

Virginia-bred or Virginia-sired foal registration:

Foals of 2020 are eligible for registration with the Virginia Breeders' Fund. A 2020 foal born in Virginia can be registered as a Virginia-bred by Dec. 31, 2020, for $25 (VTA member fee) or $125 (non-member fee). If the foal is not registered by Dec. 31 of its foaling year, it can be registered as a yearling for $50 (VTA member fee) or $150 (non-member fee) or as a 2-year-old or older at a fee of $200 (VTA member fee) or $300 (non-member fee).

Foals dropped outside of Virginia but sired by a Virginia registered stallion may be registered as a Virginia-sired foal. The fee to register a Virginia-sired horse is $25 (VTA member fee) or $125 (non-member fee).

Stallion registration:

Virginia stallions must register with the Virginia Thoroughbred Association annually by Aug. 31. The annual registration makes a Virginia stallion owner eligible to receive stallion awards based on the performance of the resulting foal crop from the breeding season in which the stallion is registered (for example Virginia stallions registered in 2019 are eligible for awards based on the performance of their 2020 foal crop). The fee to register a stallion is $100 (VTA member fee) or $200 (non-member fee).

Fund distribution:

The Virginia Breeders' Fund is generated by 1 percent of every dollar wagered on live racing, OTBs and ADW in Virginia. Each year the Virginia Racing Commission approves how the money in the fund is allocated.

A large portion of the fund ($712,500 for 2019) is set aside for payments to breeders of registered Virginia-breds that win races at any race track in North America. There is a $25,000 cap on any single award. In 2019 Breeders' awards averaged 22% of each winning purse.

A smaller portion ($37,500 for 2019) is set aside for payments to owners of registered Virginia stallions whose offspring win at any racetrack in North America.

Monies are also set aside to supplement purses for races restricted to registered Virginia-bred or Virginia-sired horses. ✹

2019 Virginia-certified Owners' Bonus Awards

In 2017 the Virginia Equine Alliance (VEA) started a new owner's bonus program that rewards owners of Virginia-certified horses that win races at Mid-Atlantic region racetracks. The program adds a 25 percent bonus to the winning purse of any Virginia-certified horse that wins a race in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia. The program also applies to Virginia-certified horses that win races at National Steeplechase Association sanctioned meets in the Mid-Atlantic region. Wins in Virginia restricted races are not eligible for owners bonuses. There is a $10,000 cap on any single award.

A Virginia-certified horse is a horse registered by The Jockey Club, conceived and foaled outside of Virginia but that maintains residency in Virginia for at least a six (6)-month consecutive period prior to Dec. 31 of its 2-year-old year. The horse must maintain residency at a listed Virginia facility, where the horse can be available for inspection by a VACTP official.

2019 Virginia-bred or Virginia-sired Owners' Bonus Awards

In 2016 the VHBPA and the VTA implemented a new owners bonus program that awards owners of registered Virginia-bred and Virginia-sired horses that win at Mid-Atlantic region racetracks. The owner of a registered Virginia-bred or sired horse earns 25 percent more for a win at a Maryland, West Virginia, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania or Virginia track. The 25 percent Virginia-bred or sired owner's bonus is also earned for wins at National Steeplechase Association sanctioned meets in the Mid-Atlantic region. There is a $10,000 cap on any single award. Wins in Virginia-bred or sired restricted races are not eligible for owner's bonuses.

West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders Association

The West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders Association promotes the Thoroughbred breeding and racing industries in West Virginia through the financial incentives of breeders' awards programs.

The WVTBA sponsors races and activities throughout the year. An annual West Virginia-bred and/or sired horse show offers classes with cash awards and trophies. Additional activities include seminars and an annual awards dinner in late February/early March. The WVTBA is part of the West Virginia Fest in June in Charles Town, and hosts an annual meeting in November.

In 1968, when the West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders Association was started, the West Virginia foal crop numbered less than 70. The numbers didn't increase much above 100 until the Development Fund was begun in 1984. Now several hundred West Virginia-bred and/or sired foals are born each year.

Please contact the WVTBA for registration rules and fees.

Membership dues are $100 per year. If paid by June 30, members receive reduced registration rates for West Virginia-bred and/or sired horses. Please see the WVTBA website for other benefits and check out our Facebook page for news.

Call or write the WVTBA for information on how you may participate and benefit from our outstanding program. ✹

2019 Auction Statistics for Mid-Atlantic Horses

An Eclipse Award winner, a graded stakes-winning dam of a Grade 1-winning 2-year-old and 2020 Triple Crown hopeful, a juvenile stakes winner by a first-year Maryland stallion, and half-siblings to Mid-Atlantic-bred graded stakes winners were among the highlights of sales horses of 2019 with ties to the Mid-Atlantic region.

Shamrock Rose went into 2019 as the reigning champion female sprinter but failed to win in three starts through April and was officially retired in July. Offered at Fasig-Tipton's elite November sale, the Pennsylvania-bred daughter of First Dude sold for $2.5 million, the highest price for a broodmare prospect at the sale, and the most for any Mid-Atlantic-bred last year.

Also selling for seven-figures in November was the graded stakes-winning Maryland-bred mare Purely Hot. A late addition to the first book of the Keeneland Breeding Stock sale, the dam of two foals to race, including American Pharoah Stakes-G1 winner Eight Rings, sold in foal to Union Rags for $1.2 million.

A total of 764 Mid-Atlantic-bred horses of all ages sold at public auction for $37,805,399, the gross up from $35,784,448 for 742 sold in 2018, but the average down slightly. In addition to the two million-dollar mares, 83 regionally bred horses sold for six figures. The top weanling was a Maryland-bred Kitten's Joy colt out of multiple stakes-producer Uniformly Yours, dam of 2019 Miss Grillo-G2 winner Selflessly. Topping all Mid-Atlantic-bred yearlings was a $450,000 Pennsylvania-bred daughter of Medaglia d'Oro out of Goodbye Stranger, making her a half-sister to multiple graded stakes-winning millionaire Tom's Ready

The top-priced Mid-Atlantic-bred 2-year-old, Laddie Liam, brought $450,000 to set a record at Fasig-Tipton Midlantic's December mixed sale, and was also the most expensive horse sired in the region. He was one of five 2-year-olds from the first crop of Golden Lad to sell for six figures—he had 11 sell for an average of $113,909. Golden Lad stands at Northview Stallion Station in Chesapeake City, Md.

2019 sales horses by Mid-Atlantic stallions

The following results, for 2019, represent all stallions who currently stand or completed their stud careers in the Mid-Atlantic region. Categories are divided by age groups—weanlings, yearlings and 2-year-olds. Information is provided as follows: Stallion's name, year of birth, sire and state where stallion was last reported as standing at stud; name of foal, sex, dam, sale code, buyer and price. RNA (reserve not attained) includes the last bid recorded, shown in parentheses. Sales results were compiled by The Jockey Club Information Systems. Data provided or compiled by The Jockey Club Information Systems generally is accurate, but occasionally errors and omissions occur as a result of incorrect data received by others, mistakes in processing and other causes. Therefore, The Jockey Club Information Systems makes no representations of warranties, express or implied, including those of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, as to any matter whatsoever, including but not limited to, the accuracy of any information, product, program or service furnished hereunder and all such information, products, programs and/or services are accepted on an "as is" basis.
